

Summary of sources of secondary data for SocMon by objective

One of the first steps in SocMon is to consult secondary data sources that can be used for guiding the investigation and interpreting the results. Use this table to identify the sources of secondary data based on the objectives set for your SocMon. In future monitoring you can check if additional sources of information on these objectives become available. One row is added for general types of information. Documents should also be listed in your 'References'.
