This Guide is intended for students entering the Faculty of Humanities and Education from academic year 2018-2019. Continuing students must refer to the Faculty Regulations that govern their year of entry-available on the Faculty website.

The University reserves the right to make such changes to the contents of this publication as may be deemed necessary.

DISCLAIMER:

The information in this booklet is accurate at the time of printing. Subsequent publications may therefore reflect updated information. Students should consult their Dean where clarification is required.

DISCLAIMER - PROGRAMMES & COURSES:

Notwithstanding the contents of Faculty Handbooks, course outlines or any other course materials provided by the University, the University reserves the right at any time to altogether withdraw or modify programmes or courses as it deems necessary.

DISCLAIMER – PRIZES & AWARDS

In the case where Faculty/Student Prizes or Awards may be listed, the Faculty does not bind itself to award any or all of the listed prizes/awards contained herein or its stated value and reserves the right to modify or altogether remove certain prizes/awards as described in either or both the electronic and printed versions of the Faculty Handbook.
MISSION STATEMENT OF THE FACULTY OF HUMANITIES AND EDUCATION

“... to generate and promote by its teaching, research and other academic activities, the intellectual excellence and creativity of its students, staff and people of the Caribbean through an understanding of their educational and social needs and by active engagement with the scholarship of other cultures.”
It is my great pleasure to welcome you to the Faculty of Humanities and Education. In deciding to study in our Faculty, you have chosen to place yourself within an academic community that deals with perhaps the most important questions that face us as human beings. As a Faculty, we endeavour to comprehend messages found in History, Psychology, Philosophy, Theology, Modern Languages (Spanish, French, Portuguese, Chinese-Mandarin), Cultural Studies, English Literature, Linguistics, Education, Cultural Studies, and Creative Arts. Disciplines within the Faculty provide you with a firm foundation that prepares you for life in a rapidly changing world.

Besides offering Bachelor’s degrees leading to Majors in the disciplines named above, we offer some Minors in several other disciplines including Music, Communications Studies, Cultural Studies, and Brazilian Studies. In addition, students planning to attend our campus will find a number of co-curricular options including Sports, Leadership Service, Debating, and Singing. Persons intending to pursue a graduate studies programme will also be able to pursue an MA, MPhil, or PhD degree in one of the disciplines identified above.

The Faculty of Humanities and Education is a place where students and scholars have excellent opportunities to advance knowledge, develop creativity, and discover solutions that address pressing questions of the past, present, and future. Our aim is to develop our students to become creative, inquisitive and learned individuals in their discipline of choice and to equip and prepare them for the challenges inherent in our dynamic environment. We prepare our graduates well to serve the community both locally and internationally. It is also our aim to empower all faculty members to develop to their fullest potential as academics and researchers in order to guide and mentor students and fulfil the mission of the University.

We look forward to seeing and serving you.

Frederick Ochieng’-Odhiambo, PhD
Professor of African Philosophic Sagacity &
Dean, Faculty of Humanities and Education

About the Dean
A native of Kenya, Professor Ochieng’-Odhiambo received his PhD from the University of Nairobi, Kenya. He previously taught at the University of Nairobi, Consolata Institute of Philosophy, The Catholic University of Eastern Africa (all in Kenya) and at the National University of Lesotho in southern Africa. Prof. Ochieng’-Odhiambo’s research interest is in the area of African Philosophy with focus on Philosophic Sagacity. As an approach to African Philosophy, Philosophic Sagacity was introduced into international philosophical circles in the 70s by Kenyan philosopher Professor Odera Oruka. Today, Ochieng’-Odhiambo is one of the best known researchers and leading exponents of the approach. Besides Philosophic Sagacity, Ochieng’-Odhiambo’s other research interests include moral and social philosophy.

ABOUT THE FACULTY

This handbook gives information on programmes offered in the Faculty of Humanities and Education at the UWI, Cave Hill Campus, Barbados. For information on programmes offered by the Faculty at other campuses, please consult the handbook for the relevant Campus. The Faculty reserves the right to make such changes to its advertised programmes as may be deemed necessary.

All students should read this booklet very carefully in conjunction with the relevant departmental websites. These are the major sources of detailed information on the courses and programmes offered by Departments each semester.

- History;

HISTORY

The Faculty of Humanities and Education evolved out of the original Faculty of Arts established in 1950 and the Faculty of Arts and General Studies which was formed in 1964 to coordinate the teaching of General Degree studies instituted in 1963. At the time of its establishment, the Faculty of Arts and General Studies was an inter-campus body with branches at all three campuses: Cave Hill in Barbados, Mona in Jamaica and St Augustine in Trinidad and Tobago. In 1996, the Faculty of Arts and General Studies was merged with the Faculty of Education on all three campuses. At Cave Hill, the Faculty of Humanities and Education comprises the School of Education, the Department of History and Philosophy and the Department of Language, Linguistics and Literature. The Errol Barrow Centre for Creative Imagination (EBCCI) is a special department under the Office of the Principal affiliated with the Faculty. Codrington College is an autonomous institution affiliated with the Faculty. The United Theological College of the West Indies (UTCWI), of which Codrington College is part, was established in 1966 and, shortly afterwards, became affiliated with The University of the West Indies. It prepares candidates for the Licentiate in Theology and the Bachelor of Arts (Theology). Other Affiliate Colleges are St. Michael’s Seminary (Jamaica), and the St. John Vianney Regional Seminary (Trinidad).
AFFILIATED COLLEGES, INSTITUTES, FACILITIES AND CENTRES

Apart from Codrington College, several other colleges, institutes, facilities and centres have links with the Faculty of Humanities and Education, as follows:

- Linguistics: Applied Linguistics, Descriptive Linguistics, Sociolinguistics and Caribbean Lexicography;
- Theology (administered by Codrington College);
- Education.

UWI Inter-Campus Foreign Language Theatre Festival

This annual event is an opportunity for students of French, Spanish, Portuguese, Chinese etc. from across the UWI campuses to come together into one space to showcase their theatre and foreign language skills on stage.

Faculty Teaching Facilities

There are several rooms/lecture theatres devoted primarily to the Faculty’s teaching needs, such as the Cynthia Wilson Arts Lecture Theatre and the Arts Seminar Rooms (ASRs 1 and 2). Classes are also held in the Roy Marshall Teaching Complex, the SAGICOR Centre for Lifelong Learning, the CLICO Centre for Teaching Excellence and elsewhere on Campus. Classes in the Creative Arts are usually held at The Errol Barrow Centre for Creative Imagination.

Modern Languages students perform on stage during the Inter-Campus Modern Languages Theatre Festival.
While the majority of our students are from Barbados, we also welcome many students from the other islands of the Caribbean, as well as increasing numbers of exchange students from across the globe.

Student Organisations
There are also several clubs for students, such as the History Society, the Cave Hill Language Club (foreign languages), and the cave hill theatre workshop..

The Campus IT Services has computer laboratories available for students’ use in writing term papers and accessing the Internet. The Faculty’s Postgraduate Reading Room, equipped with computers and a printer, is available for the use of graduate students. There is also a small Research Projects Room managed by the Department of History and Philosophy.

The Writing Clinic

The Writing Clinic is available to all undergraduate and graduate students of The University of the West Indies, as well as staff members who require support in writing projects, assignments, proposals, or in their general writing skills. The Clinic offers developmental as well as remedial support.

Are you experiencing "writer’s block”? Book an appointment with the Clinic, let us help you work through it.

WHAT DO WE DO

- Provide support for student writing
- Provide support for staff writing
- Offer one-on-one tutoring in writing for students
- Offer one-on-one consultation on writing projects for academic and/or senior admin staff
- Diagnose and treat chronic areas of weakness in writing
- Provide writing resources for individualized instruction

HOW IS IT DONE

- Through a flexible and needs-specific programme of individual tutoring, mentoring, and consultation.
- Through easily accessible writing resources.

CONTACT US

To access the services of the Clinic, call for an appointment at 417-4405 or visit the Department of Language, Linguistics and Literature, Faculty of Humanities and Education.
The UWI Cave Hill Student Disability Policy promotes “an inclusive campus that enables the productive participation of all students regardless of disability” and calls for the provision of accommodations for students with disabilities. Therefore, students with disabilities may receive reasonable accommodations to enable them to participate in all aspects of campus life. Click here to download the Disability Policy.

“A reasonable accommodation is a modification to the delivery of instruction and method of assessment for a course, program, facility or service that seeks to eliminate or minimizes disability-related barriers. It aims to facilitate the student’s learning experience and for the instructor to fairly evaluate the student’s progress without interference from the disability.”

All students are required to meet approved standards of competency in all aspects of their work, and students with disabilities are no exception. The provision of an accommodation does not mean compromising the content, quality or level of instruction.

PRELIMINARY STEPS
Before coming to Cave Hill Campus find out about Services to Support persons with disabilities:

1. Peruse the UWI website to find out about the services being offered, to support students’ success.
2. Prepare a list of questions and speak to the Disability Services Coordinator (DSC) in the Office of Student Services, if necessary.
3. Be prepared to discuss your functional limitations and any concerns. All information is kept confidential.

DOCUMENTATION REQUIRED
If you are likely to require accommodations:

4. Complete the Application for Accommodation for Persons with Disabilities and submit it to the Office of Student Services in a sealed envelope. You are required to provide documentation of your disability from a certified services provider, e.g. doctor, educational psychologist, occupational therapist.
5. Register with the Student Health Clinic (SHC). Complete online registration form: www.cavehill.uwi.edu/studentservices/health-wellness/health-clinic/registration.aspx
6. Complete Student Intake Questionnaire. This form consists of a series of questions that provide historical information related to their functional limitations and accommodations. This form will be given when you meet with the DSC to discuss accommodations.

For Further information on accommodation, contact the Office of Student Services.
QUALIFICATIONS

Before registration, and before beginning the courses leading to the degree in the Faculty of Humanities and Education, candidates must have satisfied:

1. The University Matriculation requirements for entry to a degree course—either:
   (a) Full Matriculation: Passes in five subjects of which, at least two are CAPE/GCE A’ Levels, or an Associate Degree with a GPA of 2.50, while the remainder may be an acceptable pass in CSEC/GCE/BGCSE examinations (including English) on entry to UWI;  OR
   (b) Lower Level Matriculation: At least five (5) acceptable passes at CSEC/GCE/BGCSE examinations (including English) including one of the following: a foreign language, mathematics, geography, or an approved science subject, and

2. The English Language Requirement: English Language is compulsory for admission to all programmes of The University of the West Indies. Candidates who do not possess one of (i) Grade I in CSEC, (ii) English A, (iii) a Grade A in GCE O’ Level English Language, (iv) a Grade 1 in CAPE Communication Studies OR (v) a Grade A or B in the GCE General Paper, are required to take the English Language Proficiency Test (ELPT) before entry (also see PROFICIENCY TEST FOR NEW STUDENTS in the next section).

3. The entry requirements of the Faculty of Humanities and Education are:
   (a) a minimum of five (5) passes in CSEC General Proficiency Grade I, II or Grade III (Grade III if done after 1998), or GCE O’ Levels at least Grade C, or BGCSE examinations including English and one of the following: a foreign language, mathematics, geography, or an approved science subject;
   (b) for the B Ed Programme: a Teachers’ College Diploma or Teachers’ College Certificate.
   (c) the entry requirements of the particular academic department in which they propose to take courses.

4. Within the normal matriculation requirements, the following are the minimum qualifications specific to students registering to read Level I courses in the major indicated:

   CREATIVE ARTS - Interviews or auditions are also required.

   EDUCATION – Normally a Teachers’ College Diploma or Certificate is also required.

   EDUCATION (EARLY CHILDHOOD CARE AND EDUCATION) - Normal University matriculation requirements. Teacher training not required.

   FRENCH – For entry into the Level I courses FREN1303 and FREN1401:
   i) Both units of CAPE in French
   OR
   ii) BCC Associate Degree with French as major area
   iii) A pass in FREN0103 Beginners’ French III OR a “B” in FREN0102 Beginners’ French II (before 2009)

   Students with special experience/qualifications may also be accepted into the Level I programme with the prior approval of the Head of Department. Requests for such should be made through the Head of Department.

   Students should note that a CSEC pass alone does not qualify one for entry into Level I of the French programme. Students with CSEC alone will be required to take the beginners courses in French: FREN0102 and FREN0103.

   HISTORY - Normally a CSEC pass in History at Grade I, II (or III if done after 1998) CSEC General in History.

   LINGUISTICS - Normally a pass at Grade I, II (or III if done after 1998) CSEC General English A, or an O’ Level pass in English Language.

   LITERATURES IN ENGLISH - Normally a pass at Grade I, II (or III if done after 1998) CSEC General in English B or at least an O Level Grade C or above in English Literature.
PHILOSOPHY - Normal University matriculation requirements.

PSYCHOLOGY - Normally a pass at Grade I, II (or III if done after 1998) CSEC General in Mathematics or an O’ Level pass in Mathematics.

SPANISH – For entry into the Level I courses SPAN1001 and SPAN1214:

i) Both units of CAPE in Spanish OR

ii) BCC Associate Degree with Spanish as major area

iii) A pass in SPAN0103 OR “B” in SPAN0102 (before 2009).

Students with special experience/qualifications may also be accepted into the Level I programme with the prior approval of the Head of Department. Requests for such should be made through the Head of Department.

Students should note that a CSEC pass alone does not qualify one for entry into the Level I of the Spanish programme. Students with CSEC alone will be required to take the beginners courses in Spanish: SPAN0102 and SPAN0103.

THEOLOGY – Normal University matriculation requirements.

- Entrants to the Faculty of Law, who already hold a degree or a pass in English Literature at Advanced Level.
- Graduates of the Barbados Community College (BCC) receiving Grade B or higher in the course CORE 100 English and Communication.

Those who pass or are exempted from the test do two of the Level I English Language Foundation courses: (1) FOUN1006 (required) and (2) either FOUN1003 or FOUN1004 or FOUN1008, (also see Foundation Courses in the Faculty Regulations Concerning Undergraduate Degrees section).

Those who fail or did not take the test (and do not possess one of the exemptions listed above) are required to pass the remedial course FOUN100: Fundamentals of Written English and then to do the two Level I English Language Foundation courses. FOUN100 is coordinated by the Academic Literacies Unit of the Faculty of Humanities and Education and is presently offered in both semesters for a fee of BBD500 and in the Summer School for the regular Summer School fee.

PROFICIENCY TEST FOR NEW STUDENTS

All applicants to the University are required to take a proficiency test in English. The application form for the test is available online at http://www.cavehill.uwi.edu/fhe/study-humanities/english-proficiency-test.aspx. This form should be returned/submitted at the same time as the normal application form, to the Admissions Section, Student Affairs at Cave Hill, Mona or St. Augustine, or to Resident Tutors or University Representatives in Non-Campus Countries.

The test is normally scheduled to take place in March preceding the start of the academic year. Students who have obtained one of the following are exempted from taking the test:

- Grade 1 in CSEC General Proficiency in English A
- Grade 1 or 2 in the CAPE Communication Studies
- Grade A in the Cambridge GCE O’ Level English Language
- Grade A or B in the Alternative Ordinary (AO) General Paper

FOREIGN LANGUAGE STUDENTS

Students of foreign languages have the following opportunities to study abroad during and after their degree programme. (Also note: for Majors and Minors in French or Spanish, course HUMN3015 Immersion for Languages may be taken as a final-year elective around an approved immersion experience taken at the end of level two. See Course Descriptions section below under Humanities for prerequisites and course content.)

FRENCH STUDY ABROAD & WORK ABROAD

For further information, please contact the International Office at (246) 417-4972 or email internationaloffice@cavehill.uwi.edu.

Whether it is in un département en France métropolitaine, un département en France outre-mer, or one of our partner universities worldwide, studying French at The UWI Cave Hill can make you eligible for:

- a semester or academic year at Université des Antilles in Martinique as an exchange student
- a year working (with option to travel Europe) in mainland France as an English Language Assistant
- a semester or academic year as an exchange student in a French Department of a Canadian university
- a semester or academic year as an exchange student in a French Department in other countries.
CHINESE STUDY ABROAD
The Confucius Institute hosts Student Educational and Cultural Exchanges between the Caribbean and China. Interested students are invited to contact the Confucius Institute at confuciusinstitute@cavehill.uwi.edu.

SPANISH STUDY ABROAD & WORK ABROAD
Students of Spanish have the opportunity to spend a semester abroad or take a summer course in a Spanish-speaking country, and to apply to teach English in Colombia for nine months after they have graduated.

"It has been a truly unforgettable experience. Being totally immersed in France has broadened my cultural and linguistic knowledge in the language by leaps and bounds. I have also made long-lasting friendships and memories here, and above all, I have grown as an individual. I couldn’t have asked for a better opportunity."

Dana Bayley, BA French and Spanish, speaking of her experience in the Teaching Assistantship programme in France.

• For further information on the application process for spending a semester abroad, please contact internationaloffice@cavehill.uwi.edu or (246) 417-4972. You may also request advice on active Spanish-speaking partner institutions from Dr. Ian Craig at ian.craig@cavehill.uwi.edu.

• For further information on summer programmes, visit http://www.cavehill.uwi.edu/the/LLL/spanish-immersion-programme-en.aspx or contact Dr. Ian Craig as above.

• For further information on the Colombia Teaching Assistantship please contact Dr. Rosa Ana Herrero Martín at rosaana.herrero-martin@cavehill.uwi.edu. Please note this programme is for Spanish Majors and Minors, who apply in the final year of their programme to take up the assistantship after completion.

EXCHANGE PROGRAMME - MARTINIQUE
The UWI Cave Hill offers students of French the opportunity to spend a semester as an exchange student at the Schoelcher campus of the Université des Antilles located in the French overseas department of Martinique. To be eligible, you should ideally have completed at least year one of the three-year BA in French.

Courses to be undertaken in Martinique for transferable credits, should be selected through consultation with the Programme Coordinator. For more information, contact Mr. Terrence Inniss at 246-417-4017 or terrence.inniss@cavehill.uwi.edu.

My Colombia Experience

Colombia – a country with rich culture, heritage, diversity and exoticism in abundance. The land of Sabrosura. A place that will forever hold a piece of my heart. For 10 months of my life, I was immersed in all that this country had to offer. Its food, dance, music, carnival, language and way of life. All of this on top of working as an English language assistant at a University, one could say that I got the entire package. And boy was it an experience!

My journey began in Barranquilla. The capital of Colombia’s Atlántico Department, which sits to the north of the country on the Caribbean coast. The first few months were a challenge. The homesickness got to me, the lack of spice in their food resulted in me having to cook almost all of my meals and don’t even get me started on being able to converse with anyone. Even though I had been learning and practicing Spanish for years, I couldn’t understand a lot because of the harsh and raw dialects. I lived in a tiny studio apartment with no windows, a single stove burner and a mini-bar fridge. I began to get depressed and lonely, so much so that I ended up paying a few visits to the campus psychologist. By December I was ready to go home and call it quits.

After the Christmas holidays, my experience changed for the better. I started making a few friends and going out more. But the highlight of my entire experience was being able to visit other cities and towns. For me, traveling was my escape. It made me happy and I became more cultured about Colombia and its people. From big cities like Cali, Medellín and Bogotá to smaller towns like Palomino, Santa Marta and Ustacurí. I’ve visited them all.

Moving from a small island to a big city with almost 1.2 million residents taught me a lot in itself. Being surrounded by so many people was a bit overwhelming at first but I adapted quickly. I learnt to be more street smart and was always observing how other people manoeuvred. The transportation system was on a different level than what I was used to. They had various forms of taxis, buses and even metro. Navigating my way around the city was no easy task either but I eventually got the hang of it. I worked hard and learnt a great deal from those I worked with and also those I taught. And at the end of it all, I felt a sense of pride for all that I had achieved and done, and I noticed how much of an adult I had become and how I had grown as a person.

My last month was the hardest. Just as Colombia was beginning to feel like home, I had to say goodbye. Yes, my experience in Colombia had its ups and downs but overall, I’m glad I didn’t call it quits when I was at my lowest. I got to know a totally different country; I’ve made some lifelong friendships but more importantly I can say that I have a home away from home.

Talea Bassett-Phillips, BA Spanish (First Class Honours), Class of 2018, on her Teaching Assistantship experience in Colombia

DEFINITIONS OF KEY TERMS

Academic Year: The academic year normally runs from August 1 until July 31.

Academic Advising: All students are assigned an Academic Advisor on entry to the Faculty, who is there to provide guidance in relation to your academic career. The name of your Academic Advisor appears on your CHOL account.

Academic Warning: A student whose GPA falls below 2.0 in any one semester will be placed on “academic warning”.

Award of Honours: Awards assessed on the student’s performance in all credits gained from Level II and Level III courses, inclusive of Caribbean Studies Project and exclusive of Foundation Courses.

Co-Curricular Courses/Credits: Courses offered through the Office of Student Services, designed to complement your programme. Students are eligible for no more than 3 co-curricular credits towards their degree.

Core Courses: Courses that are compulsory in the degree programme concerned.
Course Code: A letter number and numeric combination used to identify a course e.g. HIST 2004. The letter part of the code identifies the subject area (eg. HIST - HISTORY), while the first digit of the number part of the code identifies the level of the course (eg. 2004 - level 2).

Credit/Credit Hours: The University’s way of measuring work towards a degree. To graduate, a student must complete a minimum number of credits/credit hours.

Credits: See Exemptions and Credits below.

Discipline: a field of study, inquiry, research or branch of knowledge, taught and researched at the college or university level.

Electives: Courses that are optional in the degree programme concerned.

Exemptions and Credits: A student may be granted credits for courses completed and passed in other UWI programmes or at other recognised institutions.

Exemptions without Credit: Exemptions granted as above but not for credit. In this case, students will be required to replace the exempted course with another course for obtain the relevant credits.

Full-Time Registration: A student who is fully matriculated and therefore registered for not more than 15 and not less than 12 credits per semester. Full-time students should not be in full-time employment.

Grade Point Average (GPA): GPA is the average obtained by dividing the total grade points earned by the total quality of hours for which the student is registered for any stated period of time, excluding hours on the foundation courses, audited courses and courses taken for preliminary credits.

Oral/Written Supplemental: Students in their final year who have failed one final course needed to graduate with at least 45% may be eligible for an oral examination in the course.

Overrides: During the registration add/drop period, the override feature allows students to apply online to register for a course for which they have not met the course entry criterion and therefore have received an error prompt. Students can request overrides for full classes, course clashes, missing prerequisite, etc. The requests are routed to the relevant department which has the discretion to grant overrides.

Part-Time Registration: A student who is admitted based on CSEC qualifications only must be registered as a Part Time student. Part-time students shall register for no more than 15 credits (2+3 courses) per academic year in the first level of the programme. Such students in possession of one A level, may register for no more than 9 credits per semester.

Plagiarism: A form of cheating and is a serious offence. See section on University Regulations on Plagiarism.

Pre-requisite: A course that must be passed before enrollment in a desired class.

Programme: A sequence of courses (designed to achieve pedagogical goals), the taking of which is governed by certain regulations and the satisfactory completion of a minimum of which (determined by such regulations) makes a candidate eligible for the award of a degree/diploma/certificate.

Matriculation: The process of enrolment into the University.

Major: An area of study that requires a specific number of credits including prescribed courses from Levels I, II and III from a single discipline.

Minor: A specific number of credits including prescribed courses from Levels II and III from a single discipline.

Semester: Half-year term in the academic year, normally a 13-week period of instruction.

Special: A prescribed combination of courses offered which leads to a degree.

Summer School: Optional period of study governed by Summer School Regulations. This period of study is normally held from May to July each year. The courses offered in the Summer Session are not always the same from year to year.

Required to Withdraw: Students will be required to withdraw from the Faculty if, after receiving a warning letter concerning their poor academic performance in one semester, do not improve and have a GPA of less than 2.00 in the following semester.

ACADEMIC ADVISORS

Academic counselling is available for all students within the Faculty. Whether you need to discuss your academic progress, are experiencing difficulty in your academic programme, need help with your degree requirements, course selection etc., an Academic Advisor is available to assist you.

Each student is assigned an Academic Advisor for the duration of his/her undergraduate career and is advised to meet with this Advisor at least once per semester. Students should contact their Department or check their CHOL account to learn who their Academic Advisor is and to arrange a meeting as early as possible.

AVAILABILITY OF COURSES AND TIMETABLING

The Faculty reserves the right to withdraw or to add courses as may be necessary or desirable but, except in cases of extreme emergency or difficulty, no course will be added or withdrawn during an academic year. The Faculty does not guarantee that all courses listed in the following pages will be available this academic year. Additionally, timetabling constraints may impose restrictions on the combinations of courses permissible. Students are not permitted to register for courses that clash on the timetable.

Categories of Courses and Prerequisites

(a) Each course is classified either as a Foundation course or as a Faculty course. All UWI students must take a minimum number of Foundation courses as part of their degree programme. Faculty courses are courses in various disciplines administered by the Departments.

(b) Each course is designated as appropriate to Level I, II or III, or as appropriate to more than one level.

(c) Beginners’ courses are offered in foreign languages.

(d) Semester-long courses have a weighting of three (3) credits. Year-long courses, including the Level III course HUMN3099 Caribbean Studies, have a weighting of six (6) credits.

(e) Some Level II and Level III courses have prerequisites. For details on these, please consult the section on course descriptions.

(f) A maximum of one (1) co-curricular course (3 credits) at either level II or III can count towards the overall number of courses for the degree. However, co-curricular courses, are awarded on a pass/fail basis and are not used in calculating the class of degree.

Major

(a) Students are admitted to the Faculty, a student must declare a Major, a Special, or a Double Major. A Major is a student’s principal subject area of study: for example, if a student is pursuing a degree in History, then History is that student’s “Major”.

(b) A Major or Special must be declared from among the following subjects only: Literatures in English, French, History, Linguistics, Spanish, Philosophy or Psychology.

(c) A Major is made up of a minimum of 36 credits (12 courses) in a single subject over the three levels. Note that the major in Literatures in English consists of 13 courses (39 credits).

(d) A Special is made up of a minimum of 54 credits (18 courses) in the subject over the three levels. Permission to declare a Special must be sought from the Head of the relevant Department.

(e) Courses that make up a Major or Special are determined by the Board for Undergraduate Studies on recommendation of Faculty Board.

(f) Throughout the degree programme, no more than 30 credits (10 courses) (distributed so as not to exceed 12 credits (4 courses) in any one year of the full-time programme) may be selected from courses other than Humanities and Education courses, except with the special permission of the Dean.

(g) Deadline for changing Majors: A student may change Majors with the permission of the Dean. Students must do so no later than the first semester of the start of their final year. This request is made by completing a change of option form available online or in the Faculty Office.

(h) Extra credits gained in any Level beyond the original credits required for the degree at that Level cannot be substituted retroactively for the original credits.

Beginners’ Courses in Languages (6 credits max.)

(i) Beginners’ courses may be offered in French, Spanish, Chinese, Portuguese and any other foreign language that may be added from time to time.

(j) Not more than two beginners’ courses (6 credits) would be considered towards the credits required for the degree.

(k) These courses are open to the following people:
   - those who have no previous knowledge of the language concerned;
   - those who have a limited knowledge of the language concerned, but no academic qualification;
   - those with academic qualifications, but whose knowledge of the language is deemed by the Department concerned to be inadequate for admission to normal Level I courses.

COURSE REGISTRATION

APPROVAL OF COURSES FOR REGISTRATION

Prior to registering online (via the CHOL website) each semester, students must consult with their academic advisors and/or the Faculty Office in selecting their courses. This is extremely important especially for students at Level III who have to satisfy the requirements for graduation.

CHANGES IN COURSE REGISTRATION

Students can make changes to the courses for which they are registered in each semester up to the deadline published by the Office of the Campus Registrar. Changes in registration will not be permitted after the deadline date without the approval of the Dean.

NB: Students are responsible for checking their online transcript to ensure that they are registered for the correct course(s), and/or has successfully de-registered from the course(s) they wish to drop. Registration for a course constitutes registration for the examination in that course and includes payment of relevant student fees.

CREDITS AND EXEMPTIONS

Students transferring into Level I from another Faculty, or who have undertaken relevant studies at another tertiary institution, may request credits for, and/or exemptions from, Level I courses which are similar in content to those which they have successfully completed elsewhere. Such students should complete the appropriate credits/exemptions form available on the Faculty website or from the Faculty Office, giving specific information on the course followed, including the name of the course, the period of study, and the level and grade obtained. The granting of all credits and exemptions must be approved by Academic Board through Faculty Board. Students may be provisionally registered pending approval of their request.

NB: Students who receive an exemption without credit are required to do another course.

Exemption with Credit

Exemption with credit may be granted from FOUN1101 Caribbean Civilization for students passing the CAPE Caribbean Studies at Grade I or II only.

Exemption without Credit

Exemption without credit may be granted from FOUN1006 Exposition for Academic Purposes for students possessing CAPE Communication Studies at Grade I or II only. However, the student must take another FOUN Language course for the three credits.
The following prizes are awarded to students who have obtained a level of excellence in their academic studies.

LEVEL I

Foundation Course Prizes:
These prizes are awarded to students with the highest aggregate mark in FOUN1006 (formerly FOUN1001), FOUN1003 or FOUN1004 (formerly FOUN1002), and FOUN1008.

The Faculty Prize:
This prize is awarded to the student with the best overall results on completion of Level I of the degree programme.

Departmental Prizes:
Departments award various prizes for exemplary performance in Level I examinations.

LEVEL II AND LEVEL III

Faculty Prizes:
These are two book prizes awarded to the students with the best overall results on completion of Levels II and III of the degree programme.

Departmental Prizes:
Departments award various prizes for exemplary performance in examinations at Levels II and III.

Colin and Pearl Kirton Prize:
The student obtaining the highest mark (at least a B+) in the June examinations in any course on Doctrine in the Licentiate in Theology or the BA Theology programme is the recipient of this prize.

The John Reinecke Prize:
This prize is awarded annually by the Society for Caribbean Linguistics to the student who has the best overall performance (not lower than a B+ average) in the BA Linguistics programme on each Campus. It is given for the purpose of congratulating and encouraging excellence in the field of Caribbean linguistics, and is named in the honour and memory of pioneering scholar, John Reinecke.

Helen Carnegie Prize for the Creative Arts:
This prize is awarded annually to the most deserving student in the Creative Arts.

CROSS-CAMPUS PRIZES

Hugh Springer Prize:
This award is made to the most distinguished student in the final year of studies in the Faculty of Humanities and Education and the Faculty of Social Sciences on the three resident Campuses.

The Mokiman Prize:
This is open to students in the Faculty across Campuses and is awarded on a rotating basis to the part-time or evening student who achieves the highest marks in the first ten courses for the degree over a period not exceeding two years of part-time studies.

The Kemlin Laurence Prize:
This prize is awarded annually to the graduating student of The University of the West Indies, without restriction as to Campus, who, having achieved an Honours Degree, has attained the highest aggregate mark in eight of the Level II and Level III Spanish Language and Literature courses in the BA programme.
The following are the programmes with Majors, Specials and Minors offered in the Faculty of Humanities and Education:

(i) Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree:
Creative Arts

Specialisations:
- Dance
- Theatre
- Moving Picture Arts

(ii) Bachelor of Education Degree

Specialisations:
- Curriculum Studies
- Early Childhood Care and Education (NEW 2018/19)
- Educational Administration
- Language Arts/Literacy Education
- Mathematics Education
- Science Education
- Social Studies Education
- Special Needs Education
- Testing and Measurement

(iii) Bachelor of Arts Degree

Specialisations:
- French
- French and Spanish
- French with Management
- History (Major or Special)
- Linguistics
- Applied Linguistics with Communication Studies
- Literatures in English (Major or Special)
- Philosophy
- Psychology (Special)
- Spanish (also offered as a double major with French)
- Spanish with Management
- Theology (Special)

(iv) Licentiate

Theology (60 credits)

Minors

Students also have the option of adding a Minor to their Major. Minors normally consist of at least eighteen (18) credits of courses in the area chosen. Minors must be officially declared by the student at least by the beginning of Level II. This is done by completing a Change of Option form. Students may complete the level I required courses prior to declaring the minor.
In order to graduate with a BA, BEd or BFA degree, students must normally accumulate a total of 90 credits. Since each semester-long course is worth 3 credits, this means students must pass the equivalent of 30 courses distributed in the ways indicated below.

MAJOR REQUIREMENTS

MAJORS

A major is a student’s principal subject of study. Students entering the Faculty, may pursue a Major in one of the following areas:

- Creative Arts (BFA)
- French
- History
- Linguistics
- Literatures in English
- Philosophy
- Spanish
- Education (BEd)

- Early Childhood Care and Education (BEd)

This means that students must do at least 12 core courses in the subject chosen (e.g. Linguistics) for a total of 36 credits. Courses must be chosen according to the requirements specified by each discipline (see the various Requirements for Majors, in the Majors and Specials section).

DOUBLE MAJORS

Students may choose to do a “Double Major” within the Faculty; that is, 36 credits (12 courses) in each of two of the subjects listed earlier (e.g. 12 courses in Linguistics and 12 courses in Spanish). Students wishing to do a double major involving a Major from outside the Faculty must seek special approval from the Dean of each Faculty involved.

SPECIALS

Students may seek to do a “Special” in a subject (so far Specials are offered only in History, Literatures in English and Psychology). This consists of 54 credits (18 courses) and requires the permission of the Head of the Department. This evidently reduces the number of courses outside the discipline which a student may opt to do.

N.B.: Normally, students will not be allowed to pursue a Minor along with a “Special”.

FACULTY REQUIREMENTS

In addition to the requirements for the Major, the following information explains the Faculty requirements for the degree programme:

- 2 English Language Foundation Courses
- 2 Out-of-Faculty Foundation Courses (FOUN1201 and FOUN1301)
- 2 Level 1 Faculty courses (electives) outside the Major but selected from within the Faculty which includes the Foreign Language Requirement if required.
- Final Year Research Paper (or approved substitutes) at Level III
All students entering the Faculty are required to do four (4) Foundation courses for a total of twelve (12) credits by the time they graduate. Although they are all coded as Level I courses, only the Foundation Courses in English Language must be taken at Level I. The others may be taken at Level II.

NOTE: ‘FOUN100 Fundamentals of Written English’ must be taken by students who have not passed, taken, or been exempted from the Proficiency Test in English before registering for any of the Foundation Language course. This course has no credits.

The Foundation course FOUN1006 is compulsory for all students entering the Faculty, unless otherwise specified.

Students must also do either FOUN1003 or FOUN1004 as their second Foundation Course in English Language.

In addition, students must do FOUN1201 and FOUN1301, both of which are out-of-Faculty courses. Please refer all enquiries for these courses to the relevant Faculty.

The Foundation Courses which are administered by the Faculty of Humanities and Education are:

Foundation Courses in English Language
FOUN1006 Exposition for Academic Purposes
FOUN1004 An Intro. to Argument
FOUN1003 Intro. to Creative Non-Fiction
*FOUN1008 An Introduction to Professional Writing (for students pursuing the BA French/Spanish with Management, BA Psychology and non-Humanities and Education students).

Foundation Course in History
FOUN1101 Caribbean Civilisation (For non-Humanities and Education Students)

Out-of-Faculty Foundation Courses
FOUN1201 Science, Medicine and Technology in Society is administered by the Faculty of Science and Technology and the Faculty of Medical Sciences.

FOUN1301 Law, Governance, Economy and Society in the Caribbean is administered by the Faculty of Social Sciences and the Faculty of Law.

Elective” is an elective within the Faculty of Humanities and Education.

Students are required to take two courses (6 credits) in Humanities and Education outside their Major at Level I (one of which may be to meet the Foreign Language Requirement).

THE FOREIGN LANGUAGE REQUIREMENT

All students registered in the Faculty of Humanities and Education who do not have at least CSEC General Grade II before 1998, or Grade III after 1998, or its equivalent in a foreign language are required to complete three (3) credits in one of the following beginners’ foreign language courses at Level I of their programme:

- CHIN1001 Chinese Language IA
- FREN0101 Beginners’ French
- SPAN0101 Beginners’ Spanish
- PORT1001 Portuguese Language IA

This course can be used as one of the two required Faculty electives at Level I.

ELECTIVES

Students may acquire the other credits required to attain the total of 90 credits (30 courses) by doing:

- Extra courses in the subject of their Major
- Faculty electives: courses in other subjects within the Faculty of Humanities and Education
- Out-of-Faculty courses: up to ten courses in other Faculties
- Co-curricular Courses: Credit for a maximum of one (1) Co-curricular Course (level II or III) can be counted toward the overall number of courses for the degree (i.e. 30 courses). However, Co-curricular courses are assessed on a pass or fail (P/F) basis. They do not have a GPA rating and, therefore, are not used in calculating the class of degree.
- Any permissible combination of the above.

MINORS

Although it is not compulsory for students to pursue a Minor with their Major, for those students who want to do so, there are structured Minors available in a variety of disciplines. Those students wishing to pursue a Minor must get approval from the Dean. Students should note that they cannot normally take up a Minor before completing at least six (6) courses at level I. At the end of their degree, students who have a declared Minor will be certified as attaining a Minor where they have fulfilled the requirement of the Minor in the discipline they have chosen. (A Minor will normally consist of at least 18 credits which must include at least fifteen credits at Level II/III, including at least 3 credits at Level III).

Students must note that approval to pursue out-of-Faculty or cross-Faculty Minors is not automatic. This requires the permission of the two Deans involved, and in some cases, the approval of one or both Faculty Boards. Minors taken from other Faculties will follow those Faculties’ requirements, unless there are arrangements between the respective Faculties to vary the structure of the Minor. Students should also note that taking Minors in other Faculties might require them to do extra courses, notwithstanding the stipulation that a degree in the Faculty of Humanities and Education consists of 90 credits or 30 courses spread over the various levels.

Enhance your Curriculum Vitae!

A maximum of three (3) credits of Co-curricular courses can count towards your degree. Courses offered are:

- Sports Courses:
  - Athletics
  - Basketball
  - Cricket
  - Football
  - Netball
  - Volleyball
- Debating
- Leadership with Service
- Peer Education in Response to HIV/AIDS
- Using Photography to Document University Life
- Alcohol and Other Drugs of Abuse
- Student Entrepreneurial Empowerment Development (SEED)
- Basic Peer Helping
- Sea Turtle Project (conditions apply)

THE BACHELOR OF ARTS DEGREE (BA)

AWARD OF THE BA DEGREE

1. In order to qualify for a BA Degree, a student must:
   (a) complete at least 90 credits (30 courses), of which,
      (i) 12 credits (4 courses) shall be for Foundation Courses.
          (The English Language Foundation courses must be taken at Level I. Other out-of-Faculty Foundation Courses may be taken, preferably, at Level II);
      (ii) 78 credits (26 courses) shall be taken in Faculty courses, including the relevant Level III Research Paper. (A Faculty course is a course offered in a specific discipline within Faculties); and
   (b) have courses distributed as follows:
       In fulfilling the requirements for the BA degree, students should adhere to the following distribution of courses:

   Level I
   10 courses including the two English Language Foundation courses, the foreign language requirement, and the two Faculty electives outside the Major;

   Level II
   10 courses including the two Foundation Courses FOUN1201 and FOUN1301;

   Level III
   10 courses including the year-long research paper or approved substitutes (equivalent of 2 courses).

   Only in exceptional circumstances, such as when courses may not be available at Levels II or III, and with the approval of the Dean, will deviations from the norm be permitted.

   (c) satisfy the requirements for the declared Major(s).
      (See programme structures under Majors and Specials).

THE BA DEGREE STRUCTURE

(I) MAJOR REQUIREMENTS
   Core Courses for your Major at least 12 courses (36 credits)*

(II) FACULTY REQUIREMENTS
   Foundation Courses
   4 courses (12 credits)

   Faculty Courses & Electives
   4 courses (12 credits)

   Electives
   10 courses (30 credits)

TOTAL = 30 courses (90 credits)

* Some disciplines may require additional courses especially in the Specials.
LEVEL 1 STUDENTS

2. Full-time Programme

(a) A full-time student shall complete the degree programme in no fewer than six and no more than twelve semesters.

(b) A full-time student should normally register for not more than fifteen credits (5 courses) and no fewer than twelve credits (4 courses) per semester, except in the case of the final two semesters of the degree programme in which a student may seek permission to register for a maximum of 21 credits (7 courses) each semester (including HUMN3099, PHIL3099, EDRS3501, or PSYC3011) to complete the degree.

(c) A full-time student must:

(i) have full matriculation, (see QUALIFICATIONS for information);

(ii) devote his/her full time to study and not hold full-time employment;

(d) A full-time Level I student must register for a total of ten courses for the academic year.

(e) A full-time Level I student may seek permission to register for up to two extra courses, and the Dean may grant permission after an assessment of the student’s academic potential. An extra course in the Level I programme, if passed, may be counted towards completion of the Level I programme if necessary, and the student shall not be required to indicate on the registration form which is the extra course.

3. Part-time Programme

(a) A student with lower level matriculation (see Qualifications on p.12 for information) must register as a part-time student.

(b) A part-time student shall complete the degree in no fewer than eight and no more than eighteen semesters.

(c) Part-time students at Level I (as identified in (a), must take 15 credits (5 courses) in their first year of registration. These must include the two Foundation courses (unless exempted) and three Faculty courses. However, a student who has at least one A’ Level may do 18 credits (6 courses) in the first year of registration if the Dean is satisfied that he or she has adequate time and academic potential to cope with the extra load.

(d) A part-time student with full matriculation (i.e., having at least two A’ Levels or an Associate Degree with a GPA of 2.50 on entry to the University) should normally register for no more than 18 credits (6 courses) and no fewer than 12 credits (4 courses) in one academic year.

NOTE: Students with lower level matriculation are required to register to complete the Level 1 programme over two years i.e. 5 courses per academic year.
(e) Normally, a part-time student will be required to spread the Level I programme over four semesters. At least one Foundation course must be done in the first semester.

(f) A part-time student will not normally be permitted to register for Level II courses unless he or she has gained at least eighteen Level I credits (completed 6 Level I courses).

4. Students will be required to withdraw from the Faculty if, after receiving a warning letter concerning their poor academic performance in one semester, do not improve and have a GPA of less than 2.00 in the following semester.

5. Extra courses taken in the Level I programme will in no circumstances be submitted for credit in the Level II programme, or otherwise be counted towards the number of courses required for the Degree save as provided at 2(e) above. An extra course shall, however, count as satisfying the prerequisite for entry to other courses where it is so required.

6. Only two Beginners’ courses may count towards the Level I programme, and no such course may form part of the Level II or Level III programme.

7. Transfer from Part-Time to Full-Time Status and Vice Versa:
   (a) A full-time student who takes full-time employment in any year will be required to change to part-time registration. A part-time student with lower level matriculation may transfer to full-time status after gaining 24 credits (successfully completing 8 courses).
   (b) A part-time student who becomes eligible for full-time status may change his/her registration up to the deadline for registration in any year.

8. Transferring from one Faculty to Another

Students wishing to transfer from one Faculty to another should note the details for applications listed in the ACADEMIC Calendar.

Applications can be accessed through The UWI website (http://www.cavehill.uwi.edu/admissions/transfer-students.aspx). Students are to return the completed forms to the Faculty Office for approval by the Dean. Students should note that the transfer, once approved, will be processed in time for the new academic year, and that they will receive notification of approval from Student Affairs.

(a) Students transferring into Level I from another Faculty must satisfy the relevant matriculation requirement.

(b) Students transferring into the Faculty may apply for exemption from or credit for courses completed in another Faculty or institution.

(c) Exemptions with credit are not normally granted in respect of Level II or III courses. N.B.: Students who received an exemption without credit are required to do another course.

(d) A transfer student with passes obtained in the Preliminary year in the Faculty of Science and Technology may use such passes for purposes of matriculation, but may not obtain credit for any such passes.

9. Permission will not be granted to vary the Faculty’s requirements for registration in order to facilitate students who wish to transfer to another Faculty, but students who wish to do so, may apply to read extra courses in accordance with (5) above.

LEVEL II STUDENTS

10. (a) No student shall be permitted to register for Level II courses before completing the Level I programme, unless that student is simultaneously registered to complete the relevant Level I courses.

   (b) It is the student’s duty to ensure that he/she has the necessary prerequisites for the Level II courses for which he/she is registering. Any registration in breach of prerequisite requirements is invalid.

LEVEL III STUDENTS

11. (a) No student shall be permitted to register for Level III courses before completing the Level I and Level II courses, unless the student is simultaneously registered to complete those courses.

   (b) A student who fails a Level III course that is not compulsory, may either repeat it or substitute another Level III course.

12. (a) Exemption for credit in respect of courses done elsewhere or during a previous UWI studentship will not apply to Caribbean Studies.

   (b) Registration for Caribbean Studies or approved substitutes must take into consideration the rule on the maximum permissible load.

   (c) The responsibility in respect of prerequisites applies as at (9b) above.

EXAMINATIONS

Students should familiarise themselves with the current Examination Regulations as stated in the UWI EXAMINATION REGULATIONS FOR FIRST DEGREES, ASSOCIATE DEGREES,
1. A course may be examined by one or more of the following: written examination, oral tests, coursework, or any other method or combination of methods approved by Senate.

2. In some cases, an examination consisting of one written paper is held at the end of the semester. In others, there is a coursework component. It is the student’s responsibility to ensure that coursework is submitted by the required date. Students who fail to meet this requirement will receive no marks.

[Note: Students reading History courses should note that those who do not pass at least one of the questions in the final examination will be deemed to have failed the course. Students reading courses in Literatures in English should note that they must pass each component (i.e. coursework and final examination) in order to qualify for a pass overall.]

3. A student failing a course that is not compulsory may substitute another course in a subsequent semester or may repeat the failed course.

4. In order for a student’s registration to be deemed completed, his/her financial obligations to the University must have been fulfilled.

5. Registration for a course constitutes registration for the examinations in that course.

6. A student who has registered for a course but who wishes to withdraw from that course must de-register online (via CHOL) not later than the Friday of the second teaching week of the semester (see the ACADEMIC CALENDAR on p. 1 for deadline dates).

7. A student who does not sit the examination in a course for which he or she is registered is deemed to have failed that examination, unless permission to withdraw has been granted by the Dean. This regulation shall not apply in cases of properly attested illness duly reported to the Campus Registrar in accordance with the University Examination Regulations.

8. Students may seek permission to register to write examinations without attending classes in not more than four courses in which examinations had been taken and failed. This permission must be granted by Academic Board on the recommendation of Faculty Board which shall require consultation with the Department concerned.

9. Examination Regulation Section 2:18 (2011-2012 booklet) states that:

“Any candidate who has been absent from the University for a prolonged period during the teaching of a particular course for any reason other than illness, or whose attendance at prescribed lectures, classes, practical classes, tutorials or clinical instructions has been unsatisfactory, or who has failed to submit essays or other exercises set by his teachers may be debarred by the relevant Academic Board, on the recommendation of the relevant Faculty Board, from taking any University examinations.”

Note: Debarment from the examination in a course will be recommended by the Faculty based on information supplied by the relevant Head of Department on unsatisfactory attendance. Students should note that attendance at tutorials is compulsory.

10. Notification of Results and Calculation of Honours/Class of Degree

a) A Pass List for the BA degree shall be published each semester.

b) The class of degree depends on the Cumulative Grade Point Average a student has accumulated in the 54 credits (18 courses) required for Honours obtained in Level II and III courses.

11. Supplemental Examinations:

(a) The Board of Examiners may recommend to the Department concerned that a student who has failed the last and only course required to complete the degree be offered an oral or written supplemental examination in that course, provided that he/she has obtained at least 45% in the course. This also applies where the course failed was taken in Semester I and not repeated in Semester II.

(b) If a supplemental is granted, the student may choose to decline the offer.

(c) The supplemental, which will be a minimum length of one hour, will be held as soon as possible after the previous examination. The student must contact the Department concerned immediately on being notified by Examinations Section, so that arrangements may be made for the supplemental.

(d) The supplemental examination will concern the course as a whole, and will not be restricted to the questions set in the examination which the student failed.

(e) If the supplemental is passed, the student cannot be awarded a grade higher than C, and this grade will replace that previously gained for the entire evaluation in that course.

(f) If he/she fails the supplemental, the student will not have the right of appeal or review.

(g) A student will be allowed only one Supplemental Examination for any one course.

EXEMPTIONS GRANTED IN CASES OF ILLNESS

12. A candidate who has been absent through illness for one or more examinations held in respect of Level II or Level III courses may apply for exemption from these examinations provided that:

(a) no exemption shall be granted in respect of any course unless the candidate has successfully completed all the required work for the course and has achieved, in the opinion of his tutor(s) and of the Department, a satisfactory level of performance in the course;

(b) no exemption shall be granted unless the candidate has obtained the minimum 30 Level I credits and at least twelve Level II credits;

(c) no exemption shall be granted in respect of any dissertation or project;

(d) the total number of credits for which exemption may be granted shall not exceed eighteen, except that where a student has satisfactorily completed both the Level I and Level II programmes, exemption may be granted from a total of twenty-four credits. Such exemption shall permit the student, on completion of all the other requirements for the degree of BA, to apply for an Aegrotat degree.

MEDICAL CERTIFICATES

13. Students who submit certificates as an excuse for absence from examinations are asked to note that although the student is free to visit his/her private physician, he/she is required, for the purpose of securing exemption from examinations, to comply with the following:

(a) to be examined by a practitioner from the University’s panel of doctors; or

(b) in the event of illness being so acute that the student cannot subscribe to (a), he/she should obtain a certificate from his/her private physician and in addition the physician should be required to supply the University with the reasons for the student’s absence from the examinations, and;

(c) to ensure that the report is submitted to the University Medical Officer.

NB: Medical certificates should be submitted to the Student Health Centre, and students should indicate the course(s) covered by the certificate.

AEGROTAT DEGREE

15. A student who has obtained at least three-quarters of the credits required for a Bachelor’s Degree, but has been unable through illness to complete the programme may apply under the University Regulations for the award of an Aegrotat Degree.

16. An Aegrotat Degree will not be awarded unless the Board of Examiners considers that, in the courses which he/she has completed, the student has reached a standard which, if also reached in the remainder of the programme, would have qualified him/her for the award of a Degree.

17. An Aegrotat Degree will be awarded without class.

18. Holders of an Aegrotat Degree are not permitted to re-enter for the same Degree programme but may proceed to a second or higher degree, on complying with the Regulations for such Degree.

REGULATIONS FOR LEAVE OF ABSENCE

2. (a) Application

A student who for good reason wishes to absent herself/himself from the degree programme must apply to the Faculty Board of the candidate’s Campus through the Dean, for formal leave of absence stating the reasons for the application. The length of such leave of absence, if granted, will be subject to approval by the Academic Board of the Campus concerned, but will not normally exceed one academic year in the first instance, terminating at the end of the academic year for which the application is approved.

(b) Time Limits

During a student’s undergraduate career, leave of absence may be granted for one semester or for an academic year, up to a maximum of two academic years. Leave of absence, however, will not be granted for more than two consecutive years. A student requiring more leave after the maximum has been reached will be required to withdraw from the University and reapply at a later date.

(c) Deadlines

Applications for leave of absence for a semester shall normally be submitted by the end of the third week of the relevant semester. Applications for leave of absence for the academic year shall normally be submitted by the end of the third week of Semester I (see the ACADEMIC CALENDAR on p. 1 for deadline dates).
THE BACHELOR OF FINE ARTS (BFA) DEGREE

PREAMBLE

The Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree seeks to educate a cadre of artists, teachers of art, arts critics, arts officers and arts managers who will advance the exploration and appreciation of the arts in the Caribbean. It will provide the knowledge base and skills required to develop arts and cultural resources within the contemporary Caribbean. The curriculum for the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree is organised around a common core of knowledge and concepts derived from developments in art history, theory and practice of the arts, interdisciplinary arts, Caribbean studies, and cultural studies.

Students complete courses in aesthetics, theory, history and criticism and follow a programme of study in two arts disciplines (drawn from dance, theatre and moving picture arts). Students choosing dance as one of their disciplines will be required to audition prior to admission to the programme, while interviews will be conducted for those choosing theatre and moving picture arts.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE BACHELOR OF FINE ARTS DEGREE

1. A minimum of 90 credits (30 courses) is required for the BFA degree, including 54 credits (18 courses) obtained from courses in the Creative Arts discipline (equivalent to a ‘Special’ in other disciplines);

2. All other normal Faculty Requirements as specified in the regulations for the BA Degree must be met (also see the degree structure on p. 36 in the MAJORS AND SPECIALS section).
THE BACHELOR OF EDUCATION (B.ED.) DEGREE

PREAMBLE

The Bachelor of Education (B.Ed.) is a professional degree which is normally intended for practitioners in the field of education. This degree will be awarded to persons who, having satisfactorily completed the programme of study prescribed by these regulations, have satisfied the examiners as set out under one of the following schemes:

SCHEME A: 60 credit programme (Levels II and III only)
SCHEME B: 90 credit programme (Levels I, II and III)

All students are required to take nine (9) credits in Foundation courses, except where exempted by the University.

B.ED. SCHEME A:
60 CREDIT PROGRAMME

QUALIFICATIONS FOR ADMISSION

1. To be eligible for admission to the programme, an applicant must have satisfied:
   (a) the matriculation requirements of the University;
   (b) be a trained teacher; that is, must have successfully completed an approved programme of training for certification as a teacher in his/her country; and
   (c) possess a level of professional experience as a teacher that is deemed satisfactory by the Faculty.

2. (a) Applicants shall normally be required to take an entrance examination which will form part of the assessment for admission.
   (b) Students holding a UWI Certificate in Education or an equivalent certificate in Education from an approved university at an acceptable standard, may be exempted from the entrance examination.

PROGRAMME CONTENT

Level I

1. In view of the entry requirements for this programme, the Level 1 requirements are considered to have been fulfilled.

Level II

2. (a) At least eighteen (18) credits (6 courses) selected from the Foundations of Education and Educational Theory, embodying aspects of the Philosophy of Education, Psychology of Education, Sociology of Education, Curriculum Theory, Planning and Practice, Research Methods in Education, Classroom Testing and Evaluation, Education and Social Development, Educational Administration, Language and Communication in Education and such other aspects as the Faculty may prescribe.
   (b) At least six (6) credits (2 courses) from courses taken in any other Faculty, or the equivalent of such courses as specified by the School of Education, determined in connection with the professional specialisation selected under (c) below.
   (c) A minimum of six (6) credits (2 courses) derived from a professional specialization such as educational administration, teacher education, primary education, the teaching of secondary subjects, or such other specialisation as the School may prescribe.

Exemptions

3. Students who satisfy the B.Ed. admission requirements and who also possess The UWI Certificate in Education, or a certificate in education from an approved University, may not be required to repeat such B.Ed. courses as have already been passed at a satisfactory level. However, no credit shall attach to these courses, and the number of credits required for the award of the degree shall remain at sixty (60).

Level III

4. (a) Further work in the Foundations of Education and Educational Theory done at Level II for a minimum of twelve (12) additional credits
   (b) At least six (6) more credits from courses taken in another Faculty or Department, or the equivalent of such courses as specified by the School of Education.
   (c) Further work in the professional specialization selected for a minimum of six (6) credits.
   (d) Six (6) credits derived from a study (prepared in conjunction with a practicum/fieldwork) reporting an investigation of an educational problem.
   (e) Students may, under exceptional circumstances, be permitted to vary this distribution of credits outlined in Levels II and III above.
LENGTH OF PROGRAMME

Full-time programme
5. (a) This programme shall normally extend over a minimum of four (4) semesters and a maximum of ten (10) semesters of full-time study.

(b) A full-time student should normally register for not more than fifteen credits (5 courses) and no fewer than twelve credits (4 courses) per semester.

Part-time programme
6. (a) In the case of part-time study, the programme shall extend over a minimum of ten (10) semesters and a maximum of fourteen (14) semesters.

(b) Normally, the minimum number of credits to be taken per semester shall be six (2 courses), and the maximum, nine (3 courses).

7. A student will be required to withdraw from the Faculty if after receiving a warning letter concerning his/her poor academic performance in one semester, the student’s GPA is less than 2.00 in the following semester.

B.ED. SCHEME B: 90 CREDIT PROGRAMME

1. (a) General – All Specializations

To be eligible for admission to the programme, applicants must have satisfied:

i. the matriculation requirements of the University;

ii. whatever special Faculty requirements may exist for entry to certain courses.

(b) Specific Specializations:

Special Needs Education
In addition to the General Qualifications (1a above) an applicant must:

either

i. be a trained teacher in the area of Special Education; that is, must have completed at least a two-year Teachers’ College Certificate in Special Education at a satisfactory level;

or

ii. have successfully completed a two-year Teachers’ College Certificate and, in addition, have completed at least a one-year course in an area in Special Education at a satisfactory level;

or

iii. possess any other qualification deemed satisfactory by the School of Education.

Early Childhood Care and Education

i. The applicant must satisfy the requirements as stated at 1 above.

ii. The 90 Credit option is available for this specialization. Therefore, prior teacher training is not compulsory for this programme. Students who possess formal teacher certification can matriculate into the 60 credit programme.

Credits and Exemptions

2. Students with appropriate professional qualifications and experience will be eligible for exemption from up to 30 level 1 credits of the programme.

Programme Content

4. (a) To fulfil the requirements of the B.Ed. degree, students must complete at least 90 credits (30 courses), of which:

i. 12 credits (4 courses) must be taken from Foundation Courses

ii. 3 credits (1 course) must be taken to fulfil the Faculty Foreign Language requirement

iii. 36 credits (12 courses) taken as compulsory courses in Education

iv. 9 credits (3 courses) taken from Education Courses in an Area of Specialization

v. 24 credits (8 courses) taken as Out-of-Faculty/out-of-Department courses and related to an Area of Specialization.

vi. 6 credits (2 courses) or the equivalent derived from a study reporting an investigation of an educational problem (The B.Ed. Study).

The Specializations are as follows:

- Curriculum Studies
- Early Childhood Care and Education (new 2018/19)
- Educational Administration
- Language Arts/Literacy Education
- Mathematics Education
- Science Education
- Special Needs Education
- Social Studies Education
- Testing and Measurement

Students should note that in Special Needs Education, there are two tracks: Psychology and Sociology. Students should choose one. Similarly, in the Language Arts/Literacy Studies specialization, a student may follow the Linguistics or Literatures track.

(b) Courses must be distributed as follows:

Level 1

Ten (10) courses including the English Language Foundation courses, the Foreign Language requirement, compulsory Education course and Out of Faculty/Out of Department courses linked to the Area of Specialization.

Level 2

Ten (10) courses including Foundation courses FOUN 1201 and FOUN1301, compulsory Education courses, Specialization Education courses and Out-of-Faculty/Out of Department courses linked to the Area of Specialization.

Level 3

Ten (10) courses including compulsory Education courses, Specialization Education courses, Out-of-Faculty/Out of Department courses linked to the Area of Specialization and the year-long research project – The B.Ed. Study.

LENGTH OF PROGRAMME

Full-time programme

5. (a) This programme shall normally extend over a minimum of six semesters and a maximum of ten semesters of full-time study. Applicants who receive exemption from some of the credits may complete the programme in a minimum of four semesters.

(b) A full-time student shall normally register for not more than fifteen and no fewer than twelve credits per semester.

Part-time programme

6. (a) The programme may be done partly through part-time study. Where part-time study is combined with full-time study, all requirements for the degree shall normally be completed within twelve semesters.

(b) Normally, the minimum number of credits to be taken per semester shall be six, and the maximum, nine.

7. (a) The programme may also be done entirely by part-time study in a minimum of fourteen semesters and a maximum of eighteen.

(b) such a student shall be required to do a minimum of six credits (2 courses) and a maximum of nine credits (3 courses) per semester.

8. A student will be required to withdraw from the Faculty if after receiving a warning letter concerning his/her poor academic performance in one semester, the student’s GPA is less than 2.0 in the following semester.

9. For the award of the degree, candidates must obtain the required number of credits in the areas specified in (4) above:

   (a) cross Faculty and University courses
   (b) Foundations of Education and Educational Theory
   (c) professional Specialization
   (d) the Study

Award of Honours in the B.Ed.

11. (a) In order to be eligible for Honours, a student must normally pass all courses listed under the appropriate Scheme of Examinations for that degree at the first sitting, except as provided under (b) below.

(b) A student who fails not more than two such courses at the first sitting and passes at the second sitting may still be awarded Honours. However, a student failing three or more of these courses may not be awarded Honours.

12. (a) Honours shall be awarded on the basis of performance in Faculty and Cross Faculty courses, provided that:

   i) No zero level and Level I courses are included;
   ii) 24 credits (8 courses) derive from the
specialization.
(b) To obtain First Class Honours the student must achieve an average of not lower than 3.60 points.
(c) To obtain Second Class Honours (Upper Division) the student must achieve a Degree GPA between 3.00 and 3.50 points.
(d) To obtain Second Class Honours (Lower Division) the student must achieve a Degree GPA between 2.50 and 2.99 points.

NOTIFICATION OF RESULTS

13. At the end of each semester a Pass List shall be published for the programme.
14. The results of the final examination shall be published in a separate Pass List, with the names of the successful students arranged alphabetically.
15. All other normal Faculty Requirements as specified in the regulations for the BA Degree must be met (also see the degree structure on p. 36 in the MAJORS AND SPECIALS section).

Learning that goes beyond the classroom

1. The Licentiate in Theology and/or the degree of Bachelor of Arts (Theology) will be awarded to students of Theological Colleges affiliated with The University of the West Indies who, having completed the appropriate course of study prescribed by these Regulations, have satisfied the examiners in the examination for the LTh and/or the BA (Theology).

2. The Theological Colleges concerned are responsible for the admission of students and shall submit to the University, at the appropriate time, a list of students and their qualifications for the purpose of matriculation.

LICENTIATE IN THEOLOGY (L.TH) QUALIFICATIONS FOR ADMISSION

3. The following are eligible for admission to the prescribed course of study for the Licentiate in Theology:
   (a) graduates of an approved University; or
   (b) students who have passed the Higher School Certificate examination or the General Certificate of Education in at least two principal advanced level subjects; or
   (c) students who qualify for admission under the Regulations governing Matriculation; or
   (d) individual students lacking qualifications under (a), (b) or (c), above, who can present other evidence of satisfactory achievement may be accepted by the University on the recommendation of the Principal of the affiliated college.

FULL-TIME STUDENTS

4. (a) Students for the LTh shall pursue a prescribed course of study extending over not less than six (6) and not more than ten (10) semesters before being eligible for the award of the Licentiate.
   (b) Students admitted to the LTh programme under 3 (a) and (b) above may be permitted to complete the prescribed course of study in not less than 4 semesters.

5. During this course of study, they shall gain 60 credits, 30 of which must be at Level I, as follows:
   - Biblical Studies 9 credits
   - Historical Studies 6 credits
   - Pastoral Studies 3 credits
   - Theological and Ethical Studies 3 credits
   - Religious and Philosophical Studies 3 credits
   - Foundation Courses 6 credits

The remaining 30 credits must be gained at Level II or at Level III and must be taken from at least two of the areas of Theological Studies.

6. Full-time students must register for a minimum of nine (9) credits in each semester. Such students may, however, with the permission of their Theological College, register for more than 9 credits. Such additional credits shall be selected from those Theological courses provided for in the BA (Theology) degree programme.

7. A full-time student who, at the end of the second semester, has not completed at least 9 credits, shall be required to withdraw from the Licentiate programme. A student who has completed at least 9 credits at the end of the second semester may be permitted to continue, provided that student gains at least 6 additional credits in each ensuing semester, (except in cases where fewer than six credits remain to complete the requirements for the LTh as set out in Regulation 5 above).

PART-TIME STUDENTS

8. Students may study for the LTh on a part-time basis. Such students must complete the course of study prescribed in Regulation 5 above in a minimum of 8 semesters and a maximum of 12 semesters. Part-time students shall register for a minimum of 6 credits, and not more than 9 credits in each semester.

9. A part-time student who, at the end of the second semester, has not completed at least 6 credits, shall be required to withdraw from the Licentiate programme. A part-time student who has completed at least 6 credits at the end of the second semester shall be permitted to continue, provided that student gains at least three (3) additional credits in each ensuing semester (except in cases where fewer than three credits remain to complete the requirements for the LTh as set out in Regulation above).
10. If a candidate has (in accordance with Regulation 6 above) successfully completed more than 60 credits (as prescribed in Regulation 5 above), such additional credits shall be indicated on the certificate issued to the successful candidate.

BA (THEOLOGY)

QUALIFICATIONS FOR ADMISSION

11. The normal qualifications for admission to the degree programme of the BA (Theology) are those of the Faculty of Humanities and Education (see QUALIFICATIONS on p. 12).

12. The following students may also be admitted to the degree programme of the BA (Theology):

i. Students who qualify for admission on the basis of Regulation 7 of the Regulations Governing Matriculation, who successfully complete two preliminary semesters of study (as set out in Regulation 13 below), and who receive the recommendation of the Academic Board of their respective Theological Colleges;

ii. Students who are holders of the Licentiate in Theology of The UWI upon the recommendation of the Academic board of the Affiliated Theological College;

13. (i) Students who qualify for admission at lower level to the BA. (Theology) Programme must register as part-time students. Normally a part-time student will be required to spread the Level I University programme over four semesters;

(ii) Such students shall be required (in the first year of registration) to take 15 credits which should include 6 credits of Foundation Courses and 9 credits of Theology courses. (In the second year of registration they may take up to 18 credits of theological courses).

FULL-TIME STUDENTS

14. (i) Students for the degree of BA (Theology) shall present in not less than six semesters a minimum of 90 credits (30 courses) which must be distributed evenly across the three levels of the degree.

(ii) A minimum of 60 credits shall be chosen from among the following areas according to the distribution set out below:

A. Biblical Studies 12 credits
B. Historical Studies 6 credits
C. Pastoral Studies 6 credits
D. Theological & Ethical Studies 12 credits
E. Religious & Philosophical Studies 6 credits
F. Foundation Courses 12 credits
G. HUMN3099 6 credits

This distribution shall be in accordance with the approved structure of the degree. The remaining thirty credits shall be chosen from A, B, C, D and E, with the approval of the Theological College concerned.

15. Students for the degree of BA (Theology) may, with the approval of the Theological College concerned and the Faculty of Humanities and Education, choose not more than a total of 12 credits from Level II and Level III courses from among those provided by the Faculty of Humanities and Education, but not normally listed as available for their BA (Theology).

16. The minimum performance for a PASS degree (without Honours) shall be that a student has passed 90 credits in a period of not more than twelve semesters.

17. (i) Students entering the degree programme of the BA (Theology) in accordance with Regulation 12 (i) above shall take at Level I of the degree programme 6 credits in Level I English Language Foundation courses.

(ii) Students may offer THEO1010 Introduction to New Testament Greek in satisfaction of the Faculty’s foreign language requirement.

18. Students entering the degree programme of the BA (Theology) in accordance with Regulation 12 (i) above are permitted to complete the degree in a minimum of four semesters and a maximum of eight semesters. Such students shall be permitted to count towards the 90 credits required for the degree 30 credits of the courses which they have passed in the LTh programme. The 60 remaining credits shall be so selected that the aggregate of 90 credits satisfies Regulation 14 above.

19. Students who are allowed to transfer from the LTh to the BA Theology before completing the LTh may, on the recommendation of Faculty Board, be given exemption and credit for up to 15 Level I credits already obtained in the LTh provided they have attained a minimum B+ level in the relevant course(s) and provided that it does not include any credits which they may have had to use to satisfy Normal Matriculation requirements.

20. A student entering the Degree Programme for the BA (Theology) in accordance with Regulation 12(i) above will be required to withdraw if after receiving a warning letter concerning his/her poor academic performance, the student’s GPA is less than 2.0 in the following semester.

21. Students for the BA (Theology) who are holders of the
LTh. are not permitted to offer for the degree any courses beyond Level I for which they have received accreditation in the LTh programme.

22. Notwithstanding Regulation 21, a candidate who, in accordance with Regulation 6, had completed more than the 60 credits required for the LTh shall be permitted to offer for the degree a total of 12 credits from Level II and/or Level III.

P A R T - T I M E S T U D E N T S

23. Students may complete the requirements for the BA (Theology) degree, as set out in Regulation 14 above, on a part-time basis. In such cases the relevant regulations of the Faculty of Humanities and Education will apply.

24. All other normal Faculty Requirements as specified in the regulations for the BA Degree must be met (also see the degree structure on p. 50 in the MAJORS AND SPECIALS section).

H U M N 3 0 9 9 C A R I B B E A N S T U D I E S

In the final year of their degree programme, undergraduates reading for the BA in French, History, Linguistics, Literatures in English or Spanish, are required to investigate some topic relating to the Caribbean or comparing Caribbean and other related contexts as applicable to the Major, and to report the results in the form of a paper. In some instances, permission can be given to substitute two approved alternative research courses for HUMN3099 Caribbean Studies (see below).

Approved Alternatives include:

- French/Spanish Translation
  Students majoring in French and/or Spanish, who have maintained a B+ average or above, may submit a translation, duly approved and supervised, in fulfilment of this requirement.

- Theology
  Students majoring in Theology may opt to substitute THEO3901 Clinical Pastoral Counselling 11 — Health Care Based for the final year thesis.

- Literatures in English
  Students in Literatures in English may opt to substitute any two of the following: LITS3501, LITS3502, LITS3601, LITS3602, LITS3603 and LITS3304.

Students who choose to do the two LITS courses as substitution for HUMN3099 must note the following:

- Should indicate their intention of substituting HUMN3099 with the alternative courses by submitting a letter to Dean during the Semester I registration period.
- The alternative courses should not have been previously completed.
- The alternative courses must be taken in the same academic year that the student would have registered for HUMN3099.

Students taking approved LITS alternatives should note that these two courses cannot also be considered as the compulsory courses required for the Major/Special. Students should also note that the substitute courses cannot be counted within the nine credits of Level III courses required for the Major/Special.

Topic

The topic chosen for the Research Paper, which should not be identical to Faculty coursework undertaken by the student, must normally be chosen from the student’s major area of study and must be approved by the Moderator of Caribbean Studies at the Campus at which the student will register.

Approval of Topic

It is the responsibility of the student to register the topic of his/her study with the Faculty Office for formal approval by the Moderator by the start of semester I of the year in which they will be registering for the course. Any subsequent changes should also be so registered.

Proposal

An outline plan indicating the scope and organisation of the proposed study, together with a bibliography or list of source materials should normally be submitted when seeking this approval.

Requirements

The paper shall be between 7,000 and 9,000 words, excluding bibliography, except with the permission of the supervisor and the Moderator for Caribbean Studies, and must be of a quality appropriate to the work of an undergraduate in the final year of the degree programme.

PHIL3099 RESEARCH PAPER IN PHILOSOPHY

This course introduces final year BA Philosophy students to techniques of research in Philosophy. Students will be able to produce a written paper, under supervision, which identifies issues and/or themes in the works of a major philosophical figure.
Nature of Assessment

1. Students will produce an extended essay of a maximum of 4,000 words in Semester I. This essay will be marked out of 40% and consist of the student’s analysis of a work in Philosophy assigned by the lecturer.

2. The final research paper of a maximum of 10,000 words will be chosen by the student in consultation with the lecturer. This will be marked out of 60%.

For further information, please consult the Department of History and Philosophy and the Departmental Handbook.

PSYC3011 RESEARCH PAPER IN PSYCHOLOGY

This course is for students registered for the BA Psychology programme. The project develops the students’ capacity to formulate a research topic and consolidate data collection and data analytic skills. For further information, please contact the School of Education. The report should not exceed 10,000 words.

EDRS 3501 THE B.ED. STUDY

Students pursuing the Bachelor of Education degree are required to undertake the supervised study of an educational problem. The text should be between 8,000 to 10,000 words. Further details can be obtained from the B.Ed. Coordinator, School of Education.

HUMN3901 CAPSTONE/THESIS PROJECT IN THE CREATIVE ARTS

This year long course for BFA final year students will involve the production of a strong, well-constructed, compelling work of art in film, theatre, writing and/or dance. The student will work under the close supervision of the lecturer and be expected to make class presentations and provide a journal of his/her activities. For further information, please contact the Errol Barrow Centre for Creative Imagination.

GENERAL INFORMATION FOR THE RESEARCH PAPER

Students must ensure that their Research Paper complies with the Faculty and/or Departmental guidelines before submitting it. (See Guidelines for Submission of Coursework for more information).

Failures

Students who do not submit a paper by the deadline date for submission shall be deemed to have failed and must register as normal in the next academic year.

Students who, having duly submitted, did not pass at the first attempt and who gained a minimum of 45% and wish to graduate without losing time may re-submit by the stipulated date, provided that all regulations governing Final Year Supplemental Examinations are observed.

Students who fail the Research Paper on the first attempt are allowed a total of four additional submissions within a period of two years. Any change in topic must be approved by and registered with the Moderator.

Deferral

Full-time students who are allowed to take more than 36 credits (12 courses) but not more than 42 credits (14 courses) in their final year to complete the degree must register their Caribbean Study as deferred. Such students will be permitted to submit their study not later than the last Friday in August before the beginning of the next academic year. The same applies to final year students who, as a result of having failed a course in Semester I, need to gain 21 credits in Semester II to complete the degree. Students in these categories should register their topic with the Moderator by 31st May.

Corrections

All studies shall be marked as received. However, after marking, a study may be returned for correction of minor editorial/stylistic errors, for purposes of lodgement in the Library, but not for remarking.

Online Registration of Research Paper

Students are reminded that the research paper is regarded as a year-long course carrying six (6) credits, and they are therefore required to register online for the paper in each semester.

NOTE: Students who, at the beginning of an academic year, need only the research paper to complete the degree, are reminded that they are still required to register online for this research paper and to submit the study at the normal time.
GRADE POINT AVERAGE REGULATIONS

(REVISED MARCH 2014)

1. The Board for Undergraduate Studies, in the delegated exercise of Senate’s powers as the academic authority for the University under Statute 25, makes the following regulations to govern the Grade Point Average system in the University, effective 2003/2004 academic year for all candidates newly entering a programme. Persons who enter the system prior to 2003/2004 academic year to pursue first degrees will be considered under the GPA scheme effective 2006/2007. All students entering the Faculty of Law in the academic year 2005/2006 and the Faculty of Medical Sciences in the academic year 2006/2007 shall be governed by the GPA Regulations in the calculation of the award of their respective degrees. However, students entering the Faculty of Law prior to 2005/2006 and the Faculty of Medical Sciences prior to 2006/2007 will be treated under the old system of classification. A student who entered the University prior to 2003/2004 and changes his/her major subsequent to the introduction of GPA will be considered to be “newly entering a programme”.

2. In accordance with Statute 47 and subject to these regulations all students shall normally spend a minimum of three academic years in The University of the West Indies before being eligible for the award of a First Degree.

3. (i) For purposes of these regulations, the following meanings shall apply, except where the context otherwise requires:

   (a) Credit Hours Earned: “Credit hours earned” means the credits for each course that count toward the degree requirement and for which a passing grade is obtained.

   (b) Quality Hours: “Quality hours” means the credits for each course that is included in the GPA calculation. Quality hours shall be assigned even when a grade of F is obtained in a course. Courses that are not used in the determination of the GPA shall be assigned zero quality hours.

   (c) Quality Points: “Quality points” means the numerical value assigned to the relevant letter grade earned.

(ii) For the purposes of these Regulations:

   (a) Level I, II and III Courses: Levels I, II and III courses are courses so designated by the Board for Undergraduate Studies.

   (b) Grade Points: Grade points are determined by multiplying the quality hours by the quality points for a course.

   (c) Grade Point Average (GPA): Grade Point Average is the average obtained by dividing the total grade points earned by the total quality hours for which the student has registered for any stated period of time, excluding courses taken on a pass/fail basis, audited courses, courses taken for preliminary credit and courses for which the designation I or IP is awarded under Regulation 6(iv).

   (d) Weighted Grade Point Average: Weighted Grade Point Average is the average determined by applying appropriate weights for Levels I, II, and III courses to the grade points and the quality hours used in determining grade point average as set out at Regulation 3(ii)(c) above.

   (e) Credit Hours: The credit values for courses, as well as for projects, laboratory sessions, foreign language classes or other contact hours, shall be determined by the respective Faculty Board and approved by the Board for Undergraduate Studies.

3. (iii) Pass/Fail Course Provision: Credit hours earned in courses taken on a Pass-Fail basis shall not be included in calculating grade point averages.

4. (i) The class of degree shall be awarded on the basis of the Weighted GPA as set out in these regulations.

(ii) In determining the Weighted GPA, the weighting to be used for each Level I, II and III course shall be as prescribed in Faculty Regulations.

(iii) Except for the purpose of determining the class of degree, the term GPA in these regulations shall mean the GPA as defined at Regulation 3(ii) (c) above.

5. (i) First Degrees awarded by the University, with the exception of the BSc (Engineering), The Bachelor of Science (Petroleum Geoscience), the Bachelor of Science (Surveying and Land Information), LLB, MBBS, DDS, and DVM, shall be classified as follows:

First Class Honours
(Weighted GPA 3.60 and Above)

Upper Second Class Honours
(Weighted GPA 3.00 – 3.59)

Lower Second Class Honours
(Weighted GPA 2.50 – 2.99)

Pass (Weighted GPA 2.00 – 2.49)

(ii) Award of Honours in GPA System: Honours shall be awarded taking into account all Level II and Level III courses, excluding the Foundation courses.

(iii) First Degrees awarded by the University for the Bachelor of Science (Engineering), the Bachelor of Science (Petroleum Geoscience) and the Bachelor of Science (Surveying and Land Information), shall be classified as follows:

First Class Honours
(Weighted GPA 3.60 and Above)

Upper Second Class Honours
(Weighted GPA 3.00 – 3.59)

Lower Second Class Honours
(Weighted GPA 2.50 – 2.99)

Pass (Weighted GPA 2.00 – 2.49)

(iv) The following designations may be assigned, but shall not be used in the calculation of Grade Point Average:

PC: Preliminary Credits – used for matriculation purposes or the satisfying of prerequisites only

EX: Exemption

EI: Examination Irregularity – Candidate disqualified from examination on account of breach of the Regulations

EQ: Examination Query

(v) The following designations may be assigned and shall count towards the GPA:

FA: When a student is absent from an examination without a valid reason

FC: Failed Coursework – indicates that a candidate has failed to satisfy the Examiner in the coursework component of the course

FE: Failed Examination – when a candidate has successfully completed the coursework requirement but has failed to satisfy the Examiners in the examination component of the course

AM: Absent Medical

IM: Incomplete Medical

V: Audited - when the course has been taken in accordance with Regulation 14

NV: When a student has been permitted to audit a course but has not done so satisfactorily

P: Pass - a pass obtained in a course taken on a Pass/Fail basis

F: Fail

ANP: Absent No Penalty - when a student is absent from an examination for acceptable reasons other than medical reasons

I: Incomplete - indicates that the student has made progress in a course but at the end of the semester has not finished the work required to receive a letter grade. An ‘I’ designation is not counted in credit hours earned, or quality hours until a letter grade is reported. If neither a letter grade nor notification of an extension of time is received by the Registry from the Office of Dean, the I designation is replaced by an ‘F’ letter grade at the end of the first six weeks into the next semester. An extension of time may be granted, but shall not normally extend beyond the end of the semester in which the extension is granted. Any remaining I symbol at the end of the period of extension will be deemed an ‘F’.

NR: Not Reported - grade not yet available.

IP: In Progress - when a dissertation, thesis, project, student teaching, practicum, internship, proficiency requirement, or other course intended to last more than one semester is not completed during the semester in which the student is registered. The IP designation must be replaced with an appropriate grade on completion of the course.

7. The scheme to be used for conversion of numerical marks to letter grades shall be as prescribed in Faculty regulations as follows:

8. The courses to be used for the purpose of determining the Weighted GPA for the class of degree to be awarded shall be as prescribed in Faculty Regulations.

9. Where a course has been repeated, the penalty to be applied for failure and the grade to be used in the computation of the student’s GPA if the course is subsequently passed, shall be as prescribed in Faculty Regulations.

10. For the purpose of determining the Weighted GPA, failed courses shall be treated as prescribed in Faculty Regulations.

11. (ii) Where credit for a course taken at another institution is requested, it is the student’s responsibility to provide all the information needed by the University to enable it to assess the course.

(i) Credit hours earned from another institution at the time of admission to The University of the West Indies will not be used in the computation of a grade point average.

12. The following shall apply to credits earned by a UWI undergraduate from another approved institution:

(i) A UWI student who wishes to take academic courses elsewhere and apply those credits toward The UWI degree must obtain approval in advance from the relevant Academic Board on the recommendation of the Board of the Faculty in which he/she is registered.

(ii) A student must have obtained a minimum UWI GPA of 3.00 to be approved to take courses as an exchange/transfer student.

(iii) Only the grade equivalent as determined by the Board for Undergraduate Studies of the results achieved and not the marks or grades so earned at another institution shall be used in the computation of the student’s GPA.

13. (i) Except where otherwise prescribed in Faculty Regulations, a student whose GPA for a given semester is less than or equal to 2.00 shall be deemed to be performing unsatisfactorily, and shall be placed on warning. A student on warning whose GPA for the succeeding semester is less than 2.00 will be required to withdraw. However, a student may be reinstated if his/her GPA improves beyond 2.00 by credits obtained in Summer School. The credits would be rolled in to the GPA of the preceding semester of the academic year.

(ii) A student on warning shall be counselled by the Dean or a designated faculty advisor. Such a student may, except where otherwise prescribed in Faculty Regulations, be permitted by the Academic Board on the recommendation of Faculty Board to carry a reduced course load.

14. (i) A registered student may be permitted to audit a course on the approval of the Dean and the Head of Department.

(ii) Auditing means recorded attendance at the lectures, tutorials and laboratory sessions for a given course without the requirement of sitting the final exam.

(iii) Satisfactory attendance certified by the Head of Department shall be awarded the designation V. In absence of such certification, the designation
HOW TO CALCULATE YOUR WEIGHTED GPA

STEP ONE: A ‘grade point’ is assigned for every course in which you receive a final grade. For example, if you receive an A as a final grade, you will be assigned a grade point of 4.0.

STEP TWO: The grade point assigned for each course completed is multiplied by the ‘credit hours’ of the course to determine your ‘quality points’. For example, if you receive a grade point of 3.7 [equivalent letter grade A−] for a 3-credit course the quality points would be calculated as follows: 3.7 X 3 = 11.1 quality points.

STEP THREE: Your ‘Weighted GPA’ is the average obtained by dividing the total quality points earned in your programme to date by the total credit hours taken, excluding courses taken on a pass/fail basis, audited courses, courses taken for preliminary credit, incomplete courses and any other courses which do not count towards the class of degree according to Faculty regulations.

For example: 54 quality points earned divided by 15 credit hours [equivalent to five 3-credit courses] = a Weighted GPA of 3.6.
UNIVERSITY REGULATIONS ON PLAGIARISM
(First Degrees, Diplomas and Certificates)

Application of these Regulations
1. These Regulations apply to the presentation of work by a student for evaluation, whether or not for credit, but do not apply to invigilated written examinations.

Definition of Plagiarism
2. In these Regulations, “plagiarism” means the unacknowledged and unjustified use of the words, ideas or creations of another, including unjustified unacknowledged quotation and unjustified unattributed borrowing.

“Level 1 plagiarism” means plagiarism which does not meet the definition of Level 2 plagiarism;

“Level 2 plagiarism” means plagiarism undertaken with the intention of passing off as original work by the plagiariser work done by another person or persons.

3. What may otherwise meet the definition of plagiarism may be justified for the purposes of Regulation 2 where the particular unacknowledged use of the words, ideas and creations of another is by the standards of the relevant academic discipline a function of part or all of the object of the work for evaluation whether or not for credit, for example:

(a) The unacknowledged use is required for conformity with presentation standards;

(b) The task set or undertaken is one of translation of the work of another into a different language or format;

(c) The task set or undertaken requires producing a result by teamwork for joint credit regardless of the level of individual contribution;

(d) The task set or undertaken requires extensive adaptation of models within a time period of such brevity as to exclude extensive attribution;

(e) The task set or undertaken requires the use of an artificial language, such as is the case with computer programming, where the use of unoriginal verbal formulae is essential.

4. It is not a justification under Regulations 2 and 3 for the unacknowledged use of the words, ideas and creations of another that the user enjoys the right of use of those words ideas and creations as a matter of intellectual property.

Other Definitions
5. In these Regulations,
- “Chairman” means the Chairman of the relevant Campus Committee on Examinations;
- “Examination Regulations” means the Examination and other forms of Assessment Regulations for First Degrees, Associate Degrees, Diplomas and Certificates of the University;
- “set of facts” means a fact or combination of facts.

Evidence of plagiarism
6. In order to constitute evidence of plagiarism under these Regulations, there shall be identified as a minimum the passage or passages in the student’s work which are considered to have been plagiarised and the passage or passages from which the passages in the student’s work are considered to have been taken.

Student Statement on Plagiarism
7. When a student submits for examination work under Regulation 1, the student shall sign a statement, in such form as the Campus Registrar may prescribe, that as far as possible the work submitted is free of plagiarism including unattributed quotation or paraphrase of the work of another except where justified under Regulation 3.

8. Quotation or paraphrase is attributed for the purpose of Regulation 7 if the writer has indicated using conventions appropriate to the discipline that the work is not the writer’s own.

9. The University is not prohibited from proceeding with a charge of plagiarism where there is no statement as prescribed under Regulation 7.

Electronic vetting for plagiarism
10. The results of any electronic vetting although capable, where the requirements of Regulation 7 are satisfied, of constituting evidence under these Regulations, are not thereby conclusive of any question as to whether or not plagiarism exists.

Level 1 Plagiarism

11. In work submitted for examination where the Examiner satisfied that Level 1 plagiarism has been committed, he/she shall penalise the student by reducing the mark which would have otherwise been awarded, taking into account any relevant Faculty regulations.

Level 2 Plagiarism

12. Where an examiner has evidence of Level 2 plagiarism in the material being examined, that examiner shall report it to the Head of Department or the Dean and may at any time provide the Registrar with a copy of that report. In cases where the examiner and the Dean are one and the same, the report shall be referred to the Head of the Department and also to the Campus Registrar.

13. Where any other person who in the course of duty sees material being examined which he or she believes is evidence of Level 2 plagiarism that other person may report it to the Head of Department or the Dean and may at any time report it to the Campus Registrar who shall take such action as may be appropriate.

14. Where a Dean or Head of Department receives a report either under Regulation 12 or 13, the Dean or Head of Department, as the case may be, shall

   a. where in concurrence with the report’s identification of evidence of Level 2 plagiarism, report the matter to the Campus Registrar; or

   b. where not concurring in the identification of evidence of plagiarism, reply to the examiner declining to proceed further on the report; or

   c. where concluding that there is evidence of Level 1 plagiarism, reply to the examiner indicating that conclusion and the Examiner shall proceed as under Regulation 11.

15. Where a report is made to the Campus Registrar under Regulation 14a or 16, the Campus Registrar shall lay a charge and refer the matter to the Campus Committee on Examinations.

16. Where the Campus Registrar receives a report alleging Level 2 plagiarism from the Examiner or any other person except the Dean or Head of Department, the Campus Registrar shall refer the matter to a senior academic to determine whether there is sufficient evidence to ground a charge of plagiarism and where such evidence is found, the Campus Registrar shall proceed as under Regulation 15.

17. Where the matter has been referred to the Campus Committee on Examinations pursuant to Regulation 15, proceedings under these Regulations prevail over any other disciplinary proceedings within the University initiated against the student based on the same facts and, without prejudice to Regulation 21, any other such disciplinary proceedings shall be stayed, subject to being reopened.

18. If the Campus Committee on Examinations is satisfied, after holding a hearing, that the student has committed Level 2 plagiarism, it shall in making a determination on the severity of the penalty take into consideration:

   a. the circumstances of the particular case;

   b. the seniority of the student; and

   c. whether this is the first or a repeated incidence of Level 2 plagiarism.

19. Where the Campus Committee is of the view that the appropriate penalty for an offence of Level 2 plagiarism is for the student to be:

   (i) awarded a fail mark;

   (ii) excluded from some or all further examinations of the University for such period as it may determine;

   (iii) be dismissed from the University, it shall make such recommendation to the Academic Board.

Clearance on a Charge of Level 2 Plagiarism

20. A determination of the Campus Committee on Examinations that Level 2 plagiarism has not been found will be reported to the Campus Registrar who shall refer it to the Examiner and notify the student. Where the Committee has not identified Level 2 but has identified Level 1, it shall be reported to the Campus Registrar who shall refer it to the Examiner.

Level 2 plagiarism: Appeal to the Senate

21. A student may appeal to the Senate from any decision against him or her on a charge of plagiarism made by Academic Board.

Delegation by Dean or Head of Department

22. The Dean or Head of Department, as the case may be, may generally or in a particular instance delegate that officer’s functions under these Regulations.

Conflict of Interest Disqualification

23. Any person who has at any time been an Examiner of work or been involved in procedures for laying charges in relation to which an issue of plagiarism is being considered under these Regulations shall withdraw from performing any functions under these Regulations other than those of Supervisor and Examiner.

“My year’s exchange at the University of Western Ontario was absolutely amazing. It was an opportunity to explore new places, meet new people and experience different cultures. Living away from home led me on a journey of self-discovery and personal growth. This was one of the greatest times of my life and I strongly encourage all students to consider going on a student exchange during their UWI tenure”.

Courtney Walker, BFA Creative Arts

CHINESE (CHIN)

CHIN1001 Chinese Language IA
This course will introduce the students to the study of the Chinese language and culture and enable them to communicate at a basic level in every-day life situations with speakers of the language. This course will also introduce students to the essentials of Chinese grammar and syntax; to writing of Chinese characters and to the Chinese specific linguistic feature of tone. The class will be delivered utilising six (6) contact hours weekly.

CHIN1002 Chinese Language IB
This course follows on from CHIN0101 and will enable the students to widen their vocabulary and master an increased number of Chinese characters. The students will also acquire and learn to use additional basic sentence patterns and expand their knowledge and understanding of Chinese culture. The course will be delivered utilising six (6) contact hours weekly.

Level II *NEW COURSES 2018

CHIN2001 Chinese Language IIA
This course builds on the linguistic competences acquired in CHIN1001 Chinese Language IA. The vocabulary, grammatical structures and expressions are designed to help students to engage in social interaction and communication in a range of everyday situations. Students will also develop greater capabilities in listening, speaking, reading and writing. The class will be delivered utilising six (6) contact hours weekly.

CHIN2002 Chinese Language IIB
The course builds on CHIN 2001 Chinese Language IIA and uses a strong communicative approach to prepare students to acquire a wider range of vocabulary, grammatical structures, and phrases to expand their knowledge of Chinese. Students will also be exposed to some cultural topics that will help to broaden their knowledge of Chinese as well as their skills in listening, speaking, reading and writing. The class will be delivered utilising six (6) contact hours weekly.

CHIN2214 Survey of Chinese Culture
Students will be exposed to major developments in Chinese Culture over the last 5,000 years. Emphasis will be placed on significant periods and important dynasties. This course will provide insight into Chinese mythology, customs, art, society and thought. The course is delivered by means of two hours of lecture and one hour of tutorial weekly.

CHIN2200 Introduction to Contemporary China
This course offers an overview of the social, political and cultural dimensions of contemporary China through an exploration of its recent history and the exploration of key contemporary issues. It is intended to provide students of the Minor, particularly, with a sufficient basic grounding in all things Chinese to contextualize their study of the language more meaningfully and to forge connections between China and the subject of their Major. Issues will be explored through a variety of source materials including audio-visual media (documentary and film), essays, short or extracted fiction, artworks, online media platforms and podcasts. This 3-credit course will be delivered by 2 hours of interactive lectures and 2 hours of student-led seminars delivered weekly.

Level III *NEW COURSE 2018

CHIN3001 Chinese Language IIIA
This course builds on the competences acquired in CHIN 2001 and CHIN 2002. Based on a comparison of Chinese, English and other languages, a combination of methodologies is to be used to enable students to further master Chinese grammar, acquire a large number of Chinese characters for the acquisition of communicative skills. The class will be delivered utilising six (6) contact hours weekly.

To this end, students will study a selection of the works (in translation) of some of the most famous authors of the ancient world. The course is divided into three modules: History and Philosophy; Comedy; Satire.

CULTURAL STUDIES (CLTR)

CLTR1050 Aspects of Brazilian Culture I
This course is designed for the student with little or no background in Brazilian History and Culture. It approaches basic elements of Brazilian culture in order to understand the historical and cultural backgrounds and aspects of the “continental” country Brazil - the only Portuguese speaking country in the Americas. Different influences from Africa, Europe and Asia are critically analysed.

CLTR1501 Topics in African Cultural Traditions
This course explores the diversity of African cultural traditions. It begins with an exploration of African historiography and then turns to an examination of the dynamics of cultural change and development as a result of European imperialism and decolonisation. The course will rely heavily on an array of regional case studies, African literature, film and music to further explore a range of cultural practices on the continent. We will be especially concerned with understanding the cultural significance of the performative and creative arts in the construction of African identities.

CLTR1505 Cultural Studies and Caribbean Dance
The movement expressions of the Caribbean have often been problematically dubbed as “folk or ethnic dance”. Using conceptual frameworks provided by Cultural Studies this course explores the popular social dance forms of the Caribbean through a careful examination of the history and aesthetic principles that have guided their development and popularization. To this end, the course introduces students to a range of dance forms and later maps the stylisation process they undergo as they are moved from the streets into the studio and on to the stage.

CLTR1100 Culture and Identity
This course introduces students to the debates surrounding the formation of cultural identities. The course will demonstrate that both culture and identity are contested entities as students are shown the ways in which various, and oft times contradictory narratives of culture, shape the construct of identities. It will address such issues as the relation between culture as lived experience and institutional or sanctioned versions of Culture. It will also examine the ways in which our sense of identity and belonging are formed as well as how new cultural texts emerge to subvert dominant ideologies.

Level II

CLTR2000 Thinking Culture: Debates and Perspectives
This course introduces students to key concepts in the study of culture. Students will assess how culture is conceptualised and will analyse the approaches adopted by the various disciplines. Such concepts such as high and low culture forms, mass culture and subculture will be examined, as well as the perspective of culture as the ordinary, or lived experience. Emphasis will be placed on reading culture as a text as students examine how culture and cultural practices are manifested. Consequently, students will focus, for example, on key practices within youth culture and in the media as they assess how the narrative of identity is constructed through the cultural text.

CLTR2010 Global Media and Caribbean Culture
In this course students will explore the ways the media shapes ideas about Caribbean culture, particularly Anglo-Caribbean culture. Drawing from readings in communication and cultural studies, as well as examples from a variety of mass media, the course examines the mass mediated production of Caribbean culture under three broad headings: Representations of the Caribbean, Media Flows into the Caribbean, and The Caribbean on the World Stage. This course takes a critical approach to the study of production, content and consumption of mass mediated messages about the Caribbean.

CLTR2050 Aspects of Brazilian Culture II
This course builds on CLTR1050 by providing students with a more in-depth examination of contemporary Brazilian culture and history. It foregrounds an analysis of popular cultural manifestations and examines how they intersect with broader issues of race, nation and gender. The different influences from Africa, Europe and Asia that have shaped the “continental” culture that developed in Brazil will also be critically analysed.

CLTR2100 Festivals, Rituals and Caribbean Society
In this course, students will examine the ways in which Caribbean festivals and rituals provide routes to understanding Caribbean society and culture. Emphasis will be placed on masquerade as students consider how it provides access to understanding the historical narrative in the Caribbean, as well as debates surrounding Caribbean identity. A Pan-Caribbean approach will be adopted allowing students to analyse a variety of traditional, community, religious, and national festivals within the region and the diaspora.

CLTR2401 Popular Culture and Consciousness in 20th Century South Africa
This course examines the forms and institutions of popular culture in South Africa as these emerged in a context of political resistance.

CLTR2402 Caribbean Intellectual Traditions
This course introduces students to the study of Caribbean Intellectual Traditions through a charting of its intellectual history. It allows students to interrogate key theories employed in the examination of Caribbean culture, through the writings of cultural theorists, philosophers, social theorists, historians, political thinkers, poets and novelists. These intellectual traditions are critically assessed in order to illustrate how Caribbean thinkers ideas about their region and the world.

CLTR2405 Religion and Ritual in Contemporary Africa
This course is designed to introduce students to African religious practices. The purpose is to examine initiation rites, ceremonies and rituals that mark the social transformation of individuals within specific African societies. It further examines the ways in which religious practices serve to mediate the negotiations of traditional and contemporary African life. Case studies and films from different regions will anchor discussions of the cultural, socio-political, psychological, historical and economic dimensions of rituals and religious life in Africa.

CLTR2500 Introduction to Caribbean Cultural Studies
This course intends to introduce students to the main cultural practices in the Caribbean and to relate them to the study of culture in general and the Caribbean in particular. Students will be expected to analyse the impact of race, class and gender experiences in Caribbean cultural practices, and to interpret cultural expression in its broadest political sense. Students will also be expected to show familiarity with the leading intellectual interpretations of Caribbean culture.

Level III

CLTR3100 Theorising Caribbean Culture
This course allows students to interrogate key theories employed, in the examination of Caribbean culture. Theorists such as Benitez Rojo, Edouard Glissant, Kamau Brathwaite, Eudine Barritteau, Rhoda Reddock, Shalani Puri, Rex Nettleford, Frantz Fanon and Maureen Warner-Lewis will be examined. Students will analyse the writings of cultural theorists, sociologists, historians, political scientist, poets, novelists, calypsonians, reggae and dancehall artists as they seek to understand how these individuals have defined the Caribbean and have helped to shape our understanding of Caribbean culture and identity.

CLTR3101 Race, Nationalism and Culture
This course examines the idea of race and nationalism from a cultural studies perspective. Critical attention will be given to the intersection between discourses of race and nationalism, and their linkages to global economic exploitation. The relationship between imperialism and understandings of cultural sovereignty fashioned by the anti-colonial intelligentsia is a key feature of the course. Close attention will be paid to the connection between the rise of both the modern state and the concept of race, as well as race as representation.

CLTR3102 Exhibiting Culture: Representation, Tourism and Heritage
This course examines processes and issues related to the public display of culture. It seeks to theorize the political economy of exhibiting and performing cultures across a range of diverse settings including: world fairs, museum venues, cultural festivals, art galleries, tourist floor shows, trade fairs, and theme parks. Topics will include the history of such displays and associated institutions, the relationship between these institutions and their communities, the differences among the distinct exhibitionary frames, the patterns of consumption and production, and the diverse communicative processes involved in interpreting and experiencing the display and performance of culture.

CLTR3103 Black Popular Culture
This course examines ideas, performances and depictions of black popular culture from the beginning of the twentieth century into the early twenty-first century. Special emphasis will be placed on analysing key events and movements in the history of African diaspora popular culture. Additionally, public and textual criticism, and audience reception of a variety of African diaspora images and representations in popular literature, music, film, television, and art will constitute the focus of the course.

CLTR3110 The Sacred Arts of the Black Atlantic

This course examines the aesthetics and performative dimensions of Black Atlantic sacred expressions. In its interdisciplinary treatment of the diverse African-derived ritual traditions of the Caribbean, Brazil and the Southern United States, emphasis is placed on the complex interplay of continuity and change in the forms, beliefs and iconography of syncretic performance-based religions.

CLTR3200 Brazilian Film

The aim of this course is to provide a thorough knowledge base of the Brazilian film production of the last decades, inserting and understanding it in a context where aspects of Brazilian History and Culture are considered at the same time. Topics will include a brief History of the Brazilian Film and an analysis of different tendencies in Brazilian cinema, dividing the selected films into thematic groups.

CLTR3500 Discourses in Cultural Studies

The course is intended to introduce students to the expanse of the Cultural Studies disciplinary terrain, its methods of inquiry, its contribution and essential nature. This will be achieved by close examination of the process of institutionalization and the spread of Cultural Studies throughout the northern and southern hemispheres.

Students of CLTR2100 experiencing the Pagwah Festival with course lecturer, Dr. Marcia Burrowes.

CO-CURRICULAR (COCR)

Students are asked to note that only three credits of Co-Curricular courses will be counted towards their degree requirements.

COCR2040 Foreign Language Theatre in Performance

Participation in the UWI Theatre Festival in foreign languages will provide students with the opportunity to develop skills that are not easily acquired in the classroom. They will experience the oral performative dimension of language through stage performance, and develop an appreciation for the dramatic arts as a mode of communication, a capacity for teamwork and the ability to communicate effectively with foreign language speakers.

COCR 2052 Using Photography to Document University Life

This course presents opportunities for students to develop technical and artistic photographic skills outside of their declared majors. It helps build good citizenship skills and a greater appreciation of the activities and important moments of university and community life.
Level I

This course covers the full spectrum of early childhood education from birth through age eight. Students will examine the history, curriculum, program applications, and current trends and issues in early childhood education.

The course is applicable to individuals who design and work in infant and toddler programs, preschool programs, in child home cares, day-care nurseries and childcare, crèches, nursery schools, kindergartens and primary education.

The course will consist of a 2-hour lecture and 1 hour of tutorial per week.

EDLA2112 The Structure and Nature of Language Arts
This course is designed to give students a conceptual overview of the language arts and the instructional implications thereof, to encourage the development of critical awareness of how the general curriculum process might be applied to the various teaching and learning concerns in language arts, and to enable students to develop knowledge of as well as skills in using different theoretical perspectives in designing language arts units.

EDMA2111 The Structure and Nature of Mathematics
This course seeks to develop students’ awareness of the characteristics of Mathematics knowledge, skills and activity to inform their teaching at both the Primary and Secondary levels as well as to improve students’ knowledge of basic mathematics content and to develop their ability to teach the subject in a meaningful and enjoyable way.

EDME2211 Testing, Measurement and Evaluation I
This course examines the nature and purpose of educational assessment in the classroom and school contexts; the importance of feedback in assessment, learning and teaching; the use of a variety of means in determining pupil attainment; and the meaning, uses and limitations of marks and grades.

EDPH2016 Philosophy of Education
In this course, the objective is to introduce students to some distinctive ways of philosophical thinking in general, and philosophies of mind and psychology in particular, with reference to education concerns. An important aspect of the course is to encourage students to apply the course content to their own educational settings and issues.

EDPS2011 Principles of Educational Psychology
This course will enable students to understand some of the major conceptual, theoretical and research bases which inform past and present educational practices with regard to teaching, learning, counselling, management and discipline as well as to explore a variety of techniques for the systematic examination of individual and group functioning in the classroom.

EDRS2201 Introduction to Research Methods in Education
This course is focussed mainly on qualitative aspects of educational investigation. Students will be introduced to the following: the difference between quantitative and qualitative methods; the summarising of the main findings of research reports and articles; the definition of a research problem and the proposal of a suitable design for dealing with it; the application of research techniques appropriate to educational problems; the factors likely to affect the validity and quality of research studies; the construction of suitable data-gathering instruments; data collection procedures; the analysis of data obtained; and how to present the findings in a written report.
EDRS2202 Basic Data Analysis with the Computer
This course is focussed mainly on quantitative aspects of educational investigation. It seeks to develop the ability to use the personal computer in the analysis and presentation of research data as well as a critical understanding of the advantages and limitations of the use of this technology in the research process.

EDSC2110 The Structure and Nature of Science
The students should be able to describe the structure and nature of science; Explain the implications of its structure and nature for the teaching/learning situation; Outline the various processes of science, and their implications for the teaching/learning situation; Critically appraise various curriculum patterns in science education. Plan and implement a teaching/learning unit/module for a selected science topic at a specific age level.

EDSE2924 Introduction to Special Education
This course is designed to introduce beginning special and non-special education students to rudiments of exceptionalities. At the end of the course, students will:
1. understand the concept of special education, exceptionalities, handicap, disability and inclusion.

This course is designed to introduce participants/candidates to an understanding of the nature and essence of social studies education (including its various definitions, theoretical orientations, frameworks, approaches, conceptualisations, origins and histories) and to the critical aspects of the teaching and learning of the subject at the primary and secondary levels (including planning, instructional strategies and methodologies, and assessment). Particular attention is paid to the critical skills that are important to and in the learning of social studies—skills that are important to academic success (at both the primary and secondary levels) and to success in the role of citizen.

Level III

EDCU3103 Curriculum Development: Implementation and Evaluation
This course enables students, inter alia, to identify, describe and appraise critically the various strategies that are used to initiate and install curriculum innovation in Caribbean educational systems and critically examine the strengths and weaknesses of school-based and centralised curriculum planning.

EDCU3104 Issues in Curriculum Theory and Practice
This course enables students to develop a sound understanding of the concept of curriculum theory in general; be familiar with existing curriculum theories; devise strategies for establishing effective curriculum theory and practice in Caribbean systems; and understand and apply research methodologies in curriculum theory and practice in Caribbean educational systems.

EDEA3504 Creating an Excellent School
This course is designed to help students understand the key characteristics associated with high performing schools and explore, through activities such as school visits, literature searches and interviews, factors which contribute to school excellence. Key factors which promote school excellence, from a Caribbean as well as from an international perspective, will be examined. These include the nature and quality of leadership, approaches employed for developing positive cultures, building community and enhancing school-parent relationships.

EDEA3601 Current Issues, Concerns and Problems in Educational Administration
The major objective of the course is to identify and confront problems, issues and concerns in educational administration, devise strategies for managing them and develop, wherever possible, solutions to them.

EDLA3005 Selected Pedagogical Issues in Language Arts
Prerequisites: EDCU2101 OR EDLA2112
The purpose of this course is to enable students to develop a conceptual framework and practical skills with reference to teaching and learning in the English Language Arts and with attention to speaking, listening, reading, writing, viewing, and representing. The course content focuses on appropriate pedagogies, the design and implementation of Language Arts curricula, content area reading and critical issues and research in these areas.
EDEC2005 Growth, Development and Learning in the Early Years
This course familiarises students with the development of children during the first eight years of life. They will gain a deeper understanding of their work that enables the development and education of young children including children with disabilities. Additionally, through a micro-teaching practicum, students will hone critical skills in planning and implementing developmentally appropriate activities for children.

EDEC3012 Integrated Curriculum in the Early Years
Prerequisite: EDEC2005 Growth, Development and Learning in the Early Years
This course demonstrates the importance of integrating content areas (social studies, mathematics, science, language/literacy, creative arts and expression) and developmental areas (physical, social, emotional, and cognitive) to create a curriculum that is developmentally, culturally and individually appropriate for children in the early years (birth to 8 years). Students will enhance their skills in planning and implementing developmentally appropriate activities for children, through a micro-teaching practicum that focuses on the delivery of integrated content. The course is applicable to individuals who design and work in infant and toddler programs, preschool programs, in child home cares, day-care nurseries and childcare, crèches, nursery schools, kindergartens and primary education.

EDEC 3011 Home, School and Community Collaboration
Prerequisite: EDEC 3012 Integrated Curriculum in the Early Years
This course provides a basis for understanding the importance of collaborating and effectively communicating with the home and the community to provide quality developmentally appropriate experiences for supporting young children’s growth, development and learning. Students will critically examine existing forms of family and community involvement and make creative suggestions and changes to make collaboration and communication more effective. The course is applicable to individuals who design and work in infant and toddler programs, preschool programs, in child home cares, day-care nurseries and childcare, crèches, nursery schools, kindergartens and primary education. Areas of study include stakeholders in early childhood education, understanding the Caribbean family, establishing a working relationship with parents, communities and families, and communicating with stakeholders including parents. The course will consist of a 2-hour lecture and 1 hour of field work per week.

EDEC3090 The Early Childhood Practicum
Prerequisite: EDEC3090 Home, School and Community Collaboration
The Early Childhood Practicum allows student practitioners the opportunity to bring theory alive through practice in an inclusive developmentally appropriate early childhood setting for 5 hours a week for 10 weeks under the guidance of a trained early childhood practitioner and the University supervisor. Student practitioners will demonstrate developmentally appropriate classroom management and pedagogical skills as they facilitate the growth, development, care and learning of an assigned group of young children. They will demonstrate their ability to collaborate with the parents, cooperating practitioners and other stakeholders to enhance the quality of early childhood care and education.
Student practitioners will be required to spend 9 hours in seminars during Semester 1 and a minimum of 5 hours a week in the setting and must also attend weekly 3 hour seminars with the University supervisor, a platform for student practitioners to discuss and share challenges and successes of the practicum experience. The course is applicable to individuals who design and work in infant and toddler programs, preschool programs, in child home cares, day-care nurseries and childcare, crèches, nursery schools, kindergartens and primary education.

EDLS3004 Curriculum & Instructional Issues in Literacy Studies
Prerequisites: EDCU2101
The purpose of this course is to enable the students to develop a conceptual grasp of the key issues and concerns in literacy curriculum, instruction, and assessment.

EDMA2207 Teaching Mathematics at the Primary Level
This course seeks to enhance the teacher’s competence to monitor and guide the mathematical activities, both teaching and learning, in the classroom.

EDME3813 Testing, Measurement and Evaluation II
Prerequisite: EDME2211
The purpose of this course is to help students (a) understand the characteristics of educational measurement; (b) understand the need for a variety of ways of assessing school attainment and progress; and (c) improve their ability to set, administer and analyse school examinations.

EDME3814 Testing, Measurement and Evaluation III
Prerequisite: EDME2211
The purpose of this course is to help students recognize the importance of assessment in non-cognitive domains; become aware of the instruments, techniques and skills used in appraising attitudes, personality traits, personal skills; to understand the need for and ways to carry out teacher appraisals; to understand the importance of and ways of monitoring pupil progress and attainment; and to consider alternatives to conventional reporting practices.

EDPS3804 Principles of Social Psychology
Prerequisite: EDPS2011
This course enables students, inter alia, to understand some of the major conceptual and theoretical approaches to the study of interpersonal behaviour and the development of social roles; to understand, use and evaluate research techniques for the scientific study of social attitudes and behaviour.

EDRS3501 The B Ed Study - (6 credits) - Semester I & II
Students are required to undertake the supervised study of an educational problem. The text should be between 8,000 and 10,000 words.

EDSE3100 Working with Exceptional Learners
Prerequisite: EDSE2924
This course considers the needs of exceptional learners in regular classrooms. At the end of the course students should be able to (i) identify factors that make learning difficult for exceptional learners; (ii) identify alternative pedagogical practices that can be utilised to teach exceptional learners; and (iii) assess the relevance of these pedagogies for Caribbean classrooms.

EDSE3901 Education of Children with Physical and Health Impairment
This course has been designed to familiarise education students with various physical disabilities and health problems that are present among school children and how to manage them in the classroom. Students will:

1. identify physical disabilities and health problems in school children.
2. be knowledgeable about causes, prevention and management of such problems.
3. be equipped with adequate experience of high and low technology that can assist children with such conditions.
4. be familiar with appropriate strategies of educating such children.

EDTK3304 Media and Technology in Education
Students need opportunities for experiences that promote visual competency. To achieve this, teachers must recognize the increasing role of technology in out-of-school communication and embrace a wider range of technologies in fostering active student learning in the classroom. The activities in this course will raise the level of comfort of teachers with different media.

EDSO3102 Social Context of Education
The purpose of this course is to provide an introduction to the study of education as an institution which affects and is affected by other major institutions in society by providing students with an understanding of the major theoretical perspectives in the Sociology of Education; the concept of education and national development; the determinants of academic achievement; and teaching as a ‘profession’.

EDSS3200 Issues in Social Studies Curriculum and Instruction
The purpose of this course is to address issues in social studies education that are not currently covered in existing courses and, at the same time, to capture current thinking and areas of emphasis in social education. The course attempts to bridge the current more theoretical offerings of the social studies program with more practical areas related to the teaching of social studies.

EDTE3404 Issues in Teacher Education
The purpose of this course is to enable the students to examine critically the basic issues, assumptions, and problems in teacher preparation programmes in the Eastern Caribbean; to develop the skills and competencies necessary for the planning, implementation.

GENDER (GEND)

(Courses Administered by the Institute for Gender & Development Studies: Nita Barrow Unit)

GEND1103 Theoretical Concepts and Sources of Knowledge
This is a survey course that introduces first year students to three strands of feminist analysis: theory, method and popular knowledge. The course provides students with an introduction to the core concepts within Women’s Studies such as feminism, gender, women’s studies, patriarchy, consciousness-raising, feminist backlash, first, second and third wave feminism.

GEND1301 Feminist Theology: An Introduction
This course introduces the main strands of feminist theology, its relevance within the feminist movement and its impact within the Christian religious tradition. During the course students will examine these theologies used to analyse the historical androcentric constructions in Christian religion, and will evaluate their relevance to understanding the realities of women and men in the Caribbean. Open to students of all levels.

Level II
GEND2005 Crimes by and against Women: Theories, Evidence & Popular Portrayals
This course examines a range of violent crimes involving women from the perspective of gender. Throughout the course, students will compare portrayals of these forms of violence with the various theoretical perspectives and empirical research that attempt to explain why these crimes occur.

GEND2110 Gender and Caribbean Economic Relations
The course examines the emergence, evolution and interaction in the field of Gender and Caribbean Economy. It is specifically interested in the intersection of gender analysis and Caribbean economic development.

GEND2201 Women’s Studies: An Introduction to Feminist Theories
The primary objective of this course is to examine and interrogate the various feminist theories used to analyse conditions affecting women and to evaluate their relevance to understanding the experience of women in the Caribbean.

GEND2202 Women’s Studies 11: Women and Development in the Caribbean
This course builds upon the feminist theories introduced in the course (GEND2201). The objective is to begin to evaluate critically the diverse experiences of Caribbean women as represented in history, politics and political participation, education, literature, religion and social policy and to relate these whenever possible to the development strategies pursued in the Caribbean.

GEND2501 Women, Leadership and Change in Developing Countries
This course analyses the issue of power, leadership and authority from the perspective of gender, the strategies of women’s leadership that contribute to altering controversial barriers and produce benefits for men and women. It examines the contributions of women in developing countries whose domestic, professional and public activities have transformed communities at the local and global levels.

GEND2006 Gender and Religion
This course builds upon the Feminist Theology course, and focuses on the analysis from a feminist perspective on Christian biblical teaching. During the course students will distinguish between the continued source of empowerment that the biblical scriptures have for Christian followers, and androcentric interpretations of women’s role and participation/exclusion in society.

GEND 2002: Gender in Caribbean Culture II
This course examines the social meanings and representations of gender in Caribbean culture through the examination of scholarly work, literature and popular culture (e.g. calypso, dancehall, carnival, sports, etc.). From an interdisciplinary perspective it explores the historical roots and contemporary manifestations of gendered identities within a diverse, syncretic and ever changing Caribbean cultural terrain. It considers how culturally defined gender ‘norms’ intersect with other social variables such as race, class, sexuality, etc. in defining the collective and individual identities of men and women. The course also explores how gender roles and relations based on hierarchal power relations between, and among, men and women are practised or performed in areas of the family, work, media and the body.

Level III

GEND3701 Men and Masculinities in the Caribbean: Theoretical Perspective
Prerequisite (one of): GEND2201, GEND2202, PSYC3013
This course will examine and evaluate the four main theoretical approaches to studying masculinity and their relevance to understanding the experience of Caribbean men. The responses of the men’s movement will be examined.

GEND3702 Men and Masculinities in the Caribbean: Contemporary Issues
Prerequisite: One of GEND2201, GEND2202, GEND3701, PSYC3013
This course will examine the various expressions of Caribbean masculinities and their implications for Caribbean men, women and society. The responses of the men’s movement to issues affecting men will also be examined.

GEND3703 Feminist Critiques of Development Theories: Implications for Policy & Planning
The course examines the neo-Marxist and the neo-classical schools of economic thought and the modernization approach to development from the perspective of gender. It traces how the modernisation paradigm has informed development planning in the Caribbean and explores the corresponding differential development of social and economic policy affecting women and men in the Caribbean.

GEND3705 Gender and Sexuality
This course critically examines the historical androcentric constructions of sexuality. The course will explore the historical, medical and sociological approaches to human sexuality. It will demonstrate how women’s and men’s sexualities are viewed differently and how this difference empowers and disempowers both sexes. It will examine how sexuality is constructed across a variation of sexual identities.

FRENCH (FREN)

Preliminary Level or Option for Foreign Language Requirement

FREN0101 Beginners’ French I
An intensive course for students with little or no competence in French. Through a programme for adult beginners, students acquire the language necessary for oral and written expression in a number of authentic situations. NB: Students must pass both written and oral components in order to pass the course.

FREN0102 Beginners’ French II
Prerequisite: FREN0101 or PASS IN CSEC FRENCH This intensive course increases the competence of beginners and faux débutants to a standard appropriate to one year of French at university level. NB: Students must pass both written and oral components in order to pass the course.

FREN0103 Beginners’ French III
Prerequisite: FREN0102
FREN0103 is a bridging course between Beginners and Level I. It endeavours to build on the basic skills learnt in FREN0101 and FREN0102 to achieve a higher level of communicative competence. Some grammar rules already learnt will be highlighted again, together with additional rules.

Level I

FREN1303 Introduction to French Literature
Prerequisite: Placement Test, FREN0103 or see Qualifications for French
This course is an introduction to French literature. Short texts from a variety of French speaking regions, metropolitan France, Martinique, Guadeloupe, Haiti, Africa, and Québec will serve as our basis for discussion. The students will be equipped with literary terms which should enhance their appreciation for literature and their ability to comment on it. This course also seeks to enable students to gain a better understanding of French culture. This course is assessed using 100% coursework.

FREN1304 Caribbean and African Literature in French
Prerequisite: Placement Test, FREN0103 or see Qualifications for French
This course will introduce students to the literary production of Caribbean and African authors in French, and will focus mainly on the novel and poetry with emphasis on the pivotal role of the Negritude movement. Students will critically examine the specific components of African and Caribbean literary works in their historical, cultural contexts through films and filmed dramatizations.

The topics to be covered include: Tradition and modernity, Polygamy, Religious beliefs, Islam, Modern changes in societies, Youth and education, Exile, Political ideology, Myth, Social practices, and Solidarity.

FREN1401 French Language IA
Prerequisite: Placement Test, FREN0103
This first-year French language course seeks to reinforce and consolidate various grammatical concepts to which students would have been exposed at the secondary and early post-secondary levels. Using the communicative approach, this weekly six-hour course seeks to develop independent French language users. During the four hours of face-to-face sessions comprising interactive lecture-discussions, role-plays, simulations, language laboratory and online activities, students will hone their skills in writing as well as reading and listening comprehension. Francophone culture is reinforced throughout the curriculum. The two-hour conversation sessions provide in-depth practice in oral competency. This course is assessed using 100% coursework (no final written exam).

FREN1402 French Language II
Prerequisite: FREN1401
FREN1402 is a continuation of FREN1401 – French Language IA. Students taking this course will consolidate and expand their grammar and vocabulary building the foundation for second-year language courses (FREN 2001 and FREN 2004). They also learn to develop their listening, reading, speaking and writing skills through a number of activities including field trips, exercises, oral, on-line and aural activities. The course covers relevant grammatical and functional aspects of the French language. This course is assessed through 100% coursework.

Level II

FREN2001 Advanced French I
Prerequisite: FREN 1401 and FREN 1402
FREN 2001 Advanced French I is designed for students taking a major or minor in French. It is also a prerequisite for FREN 2004 Advanced French II, FREN 3003 French for Business and FREN 3014 French for Business. Several grammatical concepts are covered including compound and simple relative pronouns, present/past subjunctive and infinitive, expression of comparison, expressing time, direct/indirect speech and... temporal expressions. Like FREN 1401 and FREN 1402, the course aims to broaden cultural knowledge of the Francophone world through film, television, radio, videos, texts etc. This course is assessed using 100% coursework.

FREN2004 Advanced French II
Prerequisite: FREN2001
In this course students will develop to a greater extent their command of written and oral French through close reading of contemporary French texts, oral and written précis, guided and free essays, listening comprehension and structural exercises, as well as conversation on relevant cultural themes and concepts.

FREN2101 French Phonology and Morphology
Prerequisite: FREN1402
This course offers a study of the phonology and morphology of French. It sheds light on the pronunciation difficulties dealt with in the language acquisition courses by analysing them from a linguistic point of view. It also contrasts the sound systems of French and English and will therefore be of particular importance to prospective teachers of French.

FREN2102 French Syntax and Semantics
Prerequisite: FREN1402
In this course, students will study selected topics and semantics of French.

FREN2214 Francophone Culture
Prerequisite: FREN1402
FREN2214 is an interactive exploration of the Francophone world. Beginning with a historical overview of France, students will explore the spread and diversification of French language and culture to the five continents. Through the concept of la Francophonie, students will discover the plurality of the French language and its associated culture. Particular focus will be placed on Francophone neighbours in the Caribbean, South and North America. Native French-speakers will enrich the learning experience as guest presenters. This course is assessed using 100% coursework. This course will be delivered using three hours weekly of face to face student-centered interactive lectures.

FREN2301 African Literature in French I
Prerequisites: FREN1402 and FREN1303 and FREN1304
The theme of this course is: “African Writing and its Oral Context”. Its aim is to introduce students to the main forms of traditional orature - ritual, praising, epic, proverbs, and storytelling and to provide the ground for a specifically African aesthetic. Because traditional orature is inseparable from performance, filmed dramatizations will be as important as written texts. Three modules form the essential parts of the course: 1. African Oral Literature: Oral versus Written, Module 2: Tradition and Modernity in Africa, and 3. Children in African Literature. The topics covered include: storytelling, African literature and cinema, traditions of Africa, habits, sorcery, French colonization and assimilation, Islamic and Western education in Africa, youth at wars, postcolonial Africa and war, narrative of survival.

FREN2302 African Literature in French II
Prerequisites: FREN1402 and FREN1303 and FREN1304
This course focuses on Francophone poetry from the Negritude movement of the 1930s to the present as well as French African drama.

FREN2414 Francophone Literature and Film
Prerequisites: FREN1402, FREN1303 and FREN1304
In this course, cinematic versions of Francophone novels are studied in conjunction with the written texts themselves.

FREN2501 French Drama: Corneille to Hugo
Prerequisites: FREN1402 and FREN1303 and FREN1304
Not offered this year
This course focuses on the major developments in French tragedy and comedy from the Classical to the Romantic period.

FREN2502 French Moralists
Prerequisites: FREN1402 and FREN1303 and FREN1304

FREN2601 French Poetry
Prerequisites: FREN1402 and FREN1303 and FREN1304
Not offered this year
This course traces the development of French poetry from the post-Romantic period with an emphasis on Symbolism and Modernism.

FREN2602 The Modern French Novel
Prerequisites: FREN1402 and FREN1303 and FREN1304
This course focuses on the artistic and intellectual features of the French novel in the twentieth century. It is taught through interactive lectures and discussions which concentrate on specific texts. Through close reading of the texts the students will deepen their understanding of the relation between style and meaning. The historical and literary contexts are explained and illustrated with films and PowerPoint presentations. Particular attention is paid to terminology for critical analysis and personal critical reflection. Student presentations and group work are an integral part of the course. This course also seeks to enable students to develop a better understanding of French culture. It is designed for students majoring in French or double-majoring in French and Spanish, and it is also open to students interested in the French language, novel, theory and culture. This course includes one hour of weekly face to face teaching during which students are expected to analyse and comment on literary texts in French and two hours of weekly online directed activities. This course is assessed using 100% coursework.

FREN2614 Modern French Drama
Prerequisites: FREN1402 and FREN1303 and FREN1304
This course focuses on major dramatic developments in French Literature from the end of the nineteenth century to the present.

Level III

FREN3003 International Business French
Prerequisite: FREN2004
This course is designed to improve students’ command and comprehension of written and oral French while familiarizing them with the terminology and phraseology used in international business French. NB: Students must pass both written and oral components in order to pass the course.

FREN3014 French for Tourism
Prerequisite: FREN2004
French for Tourism is a compulsory level three course in the BA in French. Along with French for International Business, it is one of the two courses in French for Professional Purposes. It introduces students to the major concepts of the hotel and tourism industry with particular reference to the Francophone Caribbean. Designed to improve all four language skills in general French whilst providing students with introductory knowledge of tourism, students will learn the key concepts in tourism, service personnel in tourism, transportation, entertainment, food and beverage, accommodations, customer service, tour guiding and marketing through interactive lecture-discussions, authentic materials, simulations, role-plays and audio-visual resources.

FREN3101 French Translation
Prerequisite: FREN2004
FREN3101 French Translation is a final year French for Specific Purposes course in the BA in French. It seeks to initiate students to translation as intercultural mediation. Through textual analysis and choosing appropriate translation strategies and techniques, students will learn to produce a target text that is the best possible rendering of the source text. Transferrable professional skills acquired include research, basic document preparation and editing. Students translate general and semi-technical texts including journalism, advertising and tourism from and into their language of habitual use. This course, taught in both French and English, is assessed using 100% coursework.

FREN3102: Introduction to Interpreting: French (6 credits)
(Not offered in the current academic year)
Prerequisites: FREN2004
This year long course introduces students to the theoretical knowledge and practical skills that will be necessary to function as conference interpreters. It incorporates practical training in real interpreting situations (liaison, consecutive and simultaneous), specialized oral expression classes and relevant cultural content (institutions, government and contemporary issues).

FREN3104 Areas of French Translation (Not offered in the current academic year)
Prerequisite: FREN3101
This course provides translation practice, especially from French into English, in specific areas of translation such as Agriculture, Commerce, Tourism, the Environment, Meteorology, Caribbean society.

FREN3501 The French Caribbean Novel
Prerequisites: FREN1303, FREN1304 and FREN2004
This course allows for an in-depth analysis of the French Caribbean novel, including major works from Guadeloupe, Martinique and Haiti. This course focuses on the development of the French Caribbean Novel from the 1970s to the present. It will cover from a historical perspective the literary and theoretical concepts of Francophonie, Colonialism, Post Colonialism, Créolité, Antillanité, and Littérature-monde. Although this course is designed for students majoring in French or double-majoring in French and Spanish, it is also open to students interested in the French Caribbean language, novel, theory and culture. This course includes three hours of weekly face to face teaching during which students are expected to analyse and comment on selected excerpts of novels. The theoretical background will equip students to link the French Caribbean culture to France and Africa. A central motif determines the focus, so, for example, a concern with resilience, Haiti and exile, women characters, and identity construction in the Caribbean. This course is assessed using 100% coursework.

FREN3502 French Caribbean Poetry and Drama

HIST2604 Migration and Re-Migration: The Caribbean Diaspora in Europe and the Americas
This course examines the migration and re-migration of Caribbean people between Europe and the Americas from Emancipation to the present. It adopts a deliberately comparative focus to map the political, economic, social and cultural impact of migration on the migrants themselves, the countries in which they settled and on the Caribbean region. It also traces the development of trans-Caribbean migration, followed by the experiences of migrant groups in America, Britain and continental Europe.

HIST2610 History of Medicine in the Caribbean, 1492 - Present
This course traces the evolution of medicine and health in the Caribbean. It explores the broad question: How have different groups which settled in the Caribbean region shaped Caribbean medicine and health? It examines the interaction of indigenous, Africa, European and Asian medical practices and policies and the relationships which developed amongst these in Caribbean societies.

HIST2801 Research Methods & Technologies in Archaeology
Prerequisites: HIST1801 or HIST1802
Detailed discussion and practicals in archaeological field techniques (location, surveying, mapping, surface and subsurface study of sites etc.). Also examined are site formation and transformation processes, archaeological sampling techniques, recording and record keeping, classification and research design and proposals as well as writing archaeological research reports. Students will be required to undertake small laboratory or field projects as well as participate in a minimum of 10 days field work.

HIST2802 Environmental Archaeology
Prerequisites: HIST1801 or HIST1802
Provides basic definitions and descriptions of natural and cultural phenomena with a focus on human/environmental relationships in explaining past environments and human communities; cultural adaptive mechanism or strategies (technological, economic, etc.) used by human societies of the past in coping with changing environmental conditions are discussed.

HIST2803 Caribbean Archaeology
This course focuses on the pre-Columbian history of the Caribbean. It covers the period ranging from the earliest habitation of the Caribbean Islands (more than 6,000 years ago) to the arrival of Europeans in the region, at the end of the 15th century A.D. Particular emphasis is placed on introducing the student to concepts and approaches in Caribbean archaeology, and on presenting a diachronic overview of pre-Columbian migrations, food procurement strategies, settlement systems, population estimates, burial practices, cosmology, kinship and interaction spheres in the Caribbean. Apart from archaeological sources, the use of ethnohistorical, linguistic and ethnographical data will be discussed as well. The course has a strong practical component, involving work both in the field and in the Archaeology Laboratory. Active participation by the students is expected!

HIST2900 Research Methods in History
This course will provide students with a practical understanding of the various steps required to successfully prepare and independently assess the viability of research proposals. It will train them to locate the various types of evidence available to the historian and teach them how they should be used.
Level III

HIST3003 Women and Gender in the History of the English-Speaking Caribbean

HIST3406 Women in Europe Since 1750 (not offered this year)
This course considers the problems of studying women’s history by focusing on women in Europe from the French Revolution to the First World War.

HIST3701 Historical Investigation
This course will introduce students to bibliography and editing, palaeography, map-analysis, cartography, analysis of statistics, oral history, basic archaeology and the interpretation of aerial photographs.

HIST3801 Historical Archaeology
A general survey of Historical Archaeology, its definitions, techniques and methodological approaches, sources used by the Historical Archaeologist and their limitations, material culture of the historical period generally and analytical approaches to different types of evidence.

HIST3802 Field School in Archaeology (not offered this year)
This course is offered during the Summer for a period of six weeks.
Students gain practical experience and hands-on training on an archaeology dig.

HIST3803 Archaeology of Africa

HIST3805 Geo-Informatics in Archaeology (not offered this year)
Prerequisite: HIST1801 and HIST2801
This course focuses on geo-informatics and its applications in archaeology. Geo-informatics is the science and technology of the acquisition, processing and application of information with a geographic or spatial component. The course will cover the entire process of collecting geo-information and transforming this into a geo-information product like a visualisation or a decision support system.

Level II

HUMN2301 Caribbean Literature and Political Ideology Interdisciplinary
This interdisciplinary course will introduce students to the connectedness between selected Caribbean prose fiction texts and aspects of political ideology in the Caribbean.

HUMN2302 Literature and the Colonial Encounter Interdisciplinary
This course examines literary and dramatic responses to the colonial experience with reference to selected texts.

HUMN2603 Caribbean History, Culture and Identity Interdisciplinary
This course examines what it means at present to have a ‘Caribbean identity’.

HUMN2702 African and Caribbean Women Writers Interdisciplinary
This course is intended as an introduction to prose fiction by women writers from West Africa and the Caribbean. The course is not directed exclusively at specialists in literature or women’s studies.

HUMN2703 Quest for Caribbean Identity Interdisciplinary
This course explores the treatment of the overlapping concerns of racial, cultural and national identity in the Caribbean novel.

HUMN2801 African Writing and its Oral Context Interdisciplinary
This interdisciplinary (French and English) course provides a general introduction to the oral aesthetic which underpins all African contemporary cultural forms. The course will therefore introduce students to the main forms of traditional orature - ritual, praising, epic, proverbs and storytelling - both for their own sake, and to demonstrate the way these provide the ground for a specifically African aesthetic. Because traditional orature is inseparable from performance, filmed dramatizations will be as important as written text.

HUMANITIES (HUMN)

Level I

HUMN1001 Critical Foundations in the Arts
Creative Arts - History, Theory & Criticism
This course introduces students to the arts as a mode of inquiry. It seeks to enrich the student’s understanding of the arts and the experience of the arts. It uses an interdisciplinary approach, which provides the basic knowledge and skills necessary for advanced study in the arts. Students learn the vocabulary, terminology and methodology of the arts paying particular attention to issues of aesthetics in art criticism, history and theory.
Level III

HUMN3001 Aesthetics, Theory and Criticism - (6 credits)

Prerequisite: FILM2010 or THEA2002

Creative Arts - Semester I & II

This is a two-semester course, which provides a theoretical and methodological context for advanced critical study and practice of the arts. Part one presents an introduction to primary issues of aesthetics and the philosophy of art and examines the critique of traditional aesthetics; part two focuses on the application of theory and methodology to criticism and interpretation of the arts. The course also examines central questions in Caribbean arts and aesthetics.

HUMN3015 Immersion for Languages

*Prerequisite: FREN2004 or PORT 2002 or SPAN2002 or otherwise officially accredited level of B2i in the language of the country to be visited according to the Common European Frame of Reference for Languages.

This course for foreign-language Majors and Minors is designed to be structured around any approved immersion experience with a minimum duration of three weeks in a country where the language of study is spoken. The course aims to maximize the benefits of such an experience in terms of both linguistic and intercultural competence.

HUMN3099 Caribbean Studies - (6 credits)

Faculty Requirement - Semesters I & II

In the final year of their degree programme, undergraduates reading for the BA are required to investigate some topic relating to the Caribbean, and to report the results in the form of a paper, except where permission has been given to substitute two approved alternative courses for Caribbean Studies. The topic chosen for the Study, which must not be wholly identical with Faculty coursework undertaken by the student, must normally be chosen from the student’s major area of study and must be approved by the Moderator in Caribbean studies on the campus.

HUMN3900 Internship

Prerequisite: Permission of the Director, EBCCI

Creative Arts

This course is designed to provide practical on-the-job experiences in planning, production, operation, marketing and performance to complement in-class coursework.

HUMN3901 Capstone/Thesis Project - (6 credits)

Creative Arts - Semester I & II

This year-long course will involve the production of a strong, well-constructed, compelling work of art in film, theatre, writing and/or dance exhibiting the student’s unique voice and style. Students will work in teams and will be expected to participate in a minimum of two projects. Students will work in a variety of roles: one will be a major role and the other a minor role. The lecturer must approve all roles and projects. The students will work under close supervision of the lecturer and be expected to make class presentations and provide a journal of their activities.

HUMN3010 Teaching Foreign Languages

This course will explore recent approaches to foreign language teaching. Traditional methods will be briefly discussed but most of the time will be devoted to the theory and practice of communicative language teaching. Concepts such as proficiency-oriented teaching and learner-centred approaches to language teaching will be examined. Practical activities will be given as examples for teaching a language class. The course is more specifically designed with examples in French, Spanish and ESL, but can be applied to the teaching of other languages.

LINGUISTICS (LING)

Level I

LING1001 Introduction to Phonetics and Phonology

This course introduces students to the principles of acoustic and articulatory phonetics and the fundamentals of phonemic analysis. It looks at the human anatomy and physiology used in the articulation of speech sounds. At the end of the course students will be able to carry out transcriptions and phonemic analyses of language data.

LING1002 Introduction to Morphology and Syntax

This course introduces students to the formal approaches to the structure of words (Morphology) and sentences (Syntax) in English and other languages. At the end of the course students will be able to identify various types of morphemes, perform morphological analyses, and represent phrases and sentences in syntactic tree structures in a variety of languages.

LING1003 Essentials of English Grammar

This course is designed to enable students to identify and discriminate the relationship between structure and meaning in English, to examine English structure along traditional grammatical lines, and to have a grammatical vocabulary with which to approach other kinds of structural analysis.

LING1005 Introduction to Language

This course is a general introduction to language. Without examining the technical aspects of the discipline of linguistics, the course looks at the arbitrary nature of language, its uniqueness to humans, its variation, and the application of language to make a difference to people’s everyday life.
LING1008 Introduction to Applied Linguistics
This course introduces students to basic concepts in Applied Linguistics. There is special focus on how language can be used for practical purposes in second language learning and teaching, cultural and social use and professional contexts. Students will be required to critically assess descriptive and prescriptive approaches to language with the objective of understanding how they impact classroom practice and application in the various formal contexts related to business and profession.

LING1310 Introduction to Dictionaries (not offered in this academic year)
This course is an interdisciplinary introduction to dictionaries, a field known as lexicography. Students will discuss four cons of dictionaries: composition, compilation, computers and communities. They will learn about the structure and content of dictionaries (composition), how words and senses come to be included in dictionaries (compilation), the role of digital resources in the making of dictionaries (computers), and the importance of dictionaries to the people whose language they document (communities). By the end of the course, students will have the tools to be expert dictionary users and to help others use dictionaries more wisely and effectively.

Level II

LING2001 Phonology
Prerequisites: LING1001, LING1002 and LING1005
This course is aimed at providing students with the fundamentals in both the theory and practice of phonology. Students will build on the phonetic knowledge and skills acquired in LING1001. They will acquire the skills for analysing phonological data and for further studies in the field of phonology.

LING2002 Syntax
Prerequisites: LING1001, LING1002 and LING1005
This course not only builds on the syntactic knowledge and skills acquired in LING1002, but is also aimed at providing students with the structural foundations of generative syntax.

LING2004 Semantics
Prerequisite: LING1001, LING1002 and LING1005
This course examines the field of semantics; that is, basic concepts such as meaning as a property of expressions abstracted from situations, speakers and hearers. The topics will include: basic concepts - reference, universe of discourse, sense, semantics vs syntax, and semantics vs pragmatics.

LING2007 Pragmatics
This course deals with meaning as it varies in different contexts. The focus is on language in communication or on meaning in relation to speaker situation.

LING2099 Research Methods in Linguistics
Prerequisite: LING1001, LING1002 and LING1005
This course is intended to provide students of Linguistics with the skills necessary to achieve the required standard for research papers in this discipline.

LING2101 Language Acquisition
Prerequisite: LING1001, LING1002 and LING1005
This course explores research on the processes by which children acquire their first languages naturally. It also deals with second language acquisition and the theories of second language learning.

LING2102 Language Learning and Teaching
Prerequisite: LING2101
This course explores approaches to and the sociolinguistic context of the learning and teaching English and foreign languages in the Caribbean and elsewhere.

LING2301 The Sociology of Language
Prerequisite: LING1005
This course covers a range of types of language situations; for example, bilingual, multilingual, diglossic, Creole continuum, etc. It also looks at the range of functions that particular languages can perform in a speech community; for example, official, standard, private, public, etc. The course is supported by references to case studies from language situations around the world.

LING2302 Sociolinguistics
Prerequisite: LING1001, LING1002 and LING1005
This course defines and examines fundamental sociolinguistic premises necessary for a non-biased look at the cognitive and social functions of language varieties, the correlation of linguistic and non-linguistic factors, socio-linguistics in the West Indian context and the notion of communicative competence.

LING2310 Introduction to Sociolinguistic Theory
This course sets out to account for and explain the complex and intrinsic relationship between language and society. It defines sociolinguistics and examines various theoretical approaches to this field including language variation and change, the ethnography of communication, discourse analysis and quantitative sociolinguistics. The course looks at some of the fundamental concepts and terminologies which evolve from theoretical approaches and enables students to make distinctions in their underlying principles, objectives and methods of analysis. Moreover, the focus on the contribution of noted theorists to the development of the theoretical base of sociolinguistic promotes students’ understanding of how basic sociolinguistic concepts relate to the language and society that surrounds them.
LING2402 English Language Structure
Prerequisites: LING1001, LING1002 and LING1003
This course is designed to identify the basic structural elements operating in the language system called English; it introduces students to a generalized theoretical framework within which these basic structural elements can be analysed and described and sensitises students to the varied relationships between structure and meaning that exist in the English language.

LING2410 Language Contact and Change
Prerequisites: At least 6 credits (Linguistics) at Level II
This course is an introduction to the study of how languages change, both from within and under the influence of other languages. This course will interest students who have ever wondered how some words come to have different meanings; how linguists figured out that Hindi, Russian, and English are distantly related; how changes in language spread from one or two people to entire countries; or how people can use Creole and English in the same sentence. Students will also get a chance to put their existing linguistic knowledge into practice, applying skills from other classes to solving historical linguistics puzzles.

LING2501 Language, Gender and Society
This course introduces students to gender differentiation in language and language use and provides insights into the problems of interaction between the sexes.

Level III

LING3005 Study of Caribbean Words
This course is designed to introduce the study of the morphosemantics and morphosyntax of a selection of Caribbean English words and phrases according to chosen topics, but will also engage in a comparative analysis of words in other Caribbean languages, such as French Creole and Spanish. The word formation processes at work, in addition to the semantic shifts and extensions found in multilingual Caribbean Creoles will be examined, as they relate to the further chronicling of the Caribbean lexicon. Some knowledge of either French or Spanish is desirable.

LING3006 The Making of Caribbean Glossaries
The course is designed to give an in-depth approach to the practice and techniques of dictionary-making, and to situate it in a Caribbean context. Students will study the traditions of lexicography, the difficulties in classifying reference works, and the relationships among words and senses. Most importantly, students will learn the techniques of assembling and writing a glossary, including the selection of sources, the requirements of good definitions, and the determination of how much additional information to include in a dictionary entry. These skills come together in an independent, student-driven research project, in which each student will compile a short glossary on the subject of their choice. Having completed LING 3005 would be an asset for thinking about applying these skills to specifically Caribbean words.

LING3102 Teaching English as a Foreign Language
Prerequisites: LING2101 and LING3103
This course will focus on the approaches and methods used to teach English as a second language. This course will evaluate current methodology and explore methods and approaches that are appropriate for different age levels. Emphasis will be placed on developing basic interpersonal communication skills and cognitive academic language proficiency in learners of L2, and the focus will be on developing oral and written communication and reading abilities.

LING3103 The Teaching of English
Prerequisites: LING2102
This course will focus on theoretical and practical considerations of teaching English in a formal setting. Emphasis will be placed on the relevance and appropriateness of methods of teaching the language. The relevance of grammar instruction to the development of writing abilities will be explored and special emphasis placed on the methodology of grammatical instruction in the language programme.
LING3110 Teaching Reading and Writing
Prerequisites: At least 6 credits (Linguistics) at Level III

This course seeks to guide students towards the use of innovative strategies to help learners develop literacy skills and how to apply related strategies to comprehend and interpret the language used in communicative interactions. It seeks to explore the inextricable link between reading and writing, with the aim of helping students to manipulate the skills and strategies associated with these processes to think critically, respond appropriately, and transfer these skills to other areas. To this end, students will engage in a micro-teaching practicum.

LING3200 Language Planning

This course examines the theory and implications of language planning and analyses, the links between language and national identity, as well as the role of language in official communication networks. There is focus on the efforts made to plan language which affect its use in society, especially in relation to the bilingual, bidialectal, creole continuum and multilingual linguistic situations in the Caribbean with societies such as Haiti, Suriname, St. Lucia, Dominica, and Jamaica. Hence, students are introduced to the fundamental language planning concepts with attention given to the influence of international, regional and local sociolinguistic factors on language planning decisions. The course focuses on worldwide language roles in relation to the complexity involved, and issues such as official language policies, mother tongue education, orthography planning for creoles, language academies and language endangerment in specific international and Caribbean countries. Through this course, students will gain practical experience related to language planning.

LING3201 Caribbean Dialectology

Prerequisites: LING1001, LING1002 and LING1005 (or LING1401 and LING1402)

This course takes an in-depth look at the socio-historical background and development of Caribbean dialects and languages. It provides detailed description and analysis of contemporary Caribbean Creole language structure. It examines the linguistic structure of the Creole continuum and pays attention to the structure of non-Creole Caribbean languages.

LING3202 Creole Linguistics

Prerequisites: LING1001, LING1002 AND LING1005 (or LING1401 and LING1402)

This course begins by examining the phenomenon of creolisation and assessing with the validity of the term creole. It goes on to look at de-creolisation in the context of theories of language change and language acquisition. It finishes by examining the impact of Creole language studies on general linguistic theory.

LING3301 Pragmatics of Discourse

Prerequisites: LING2007

The goal of this course is to provide students with practical experience in analysing natural discourse used in everyday contexts so that they may understand better how speaker intent is encoded in language. The course also addresses how both linguistic knowledge and socio-cultural background knowledge may interact in interpersonal communication (whether spoken or written) and how these factors assist in discourse interpretation.

LING3501 Social and Linguistic History of the Caribbean

Prerequisites: LING1005 and HIST1004

This course is designed to introduce students to the historical factors that account for the social and linguistic profile of the Caribbean. It looks at the relationship between migration and language as a general human phenomenon, presenting historical examples from Europe and Africa to demonstrate this relationship. It looks at the interrelationship of the history, social organisation, languages and cultures of the indigenous peoples of the Caribbean.

LITERATURES IN ENGLISH (LITS)

Level I

LITS1001 Introduction to Poetry

The study of samples of poetry in English from various cultures and periods designed to promote an understanding of how poetry works and competence in practical criticism.

LITS1002 Introduction to Prose Fiction

An introduction to the history and development of, as well as critical concepts necessary for analysing, prose fiction.

LITS1003 Introduction to Drama

An introduction to the study of drama with emphasis on the process of translating text into performance. Students will be introduced to the basics of dramatic theory and criticism and given an overview of the historical development of drama.

LITS1005 Writing about Literature

An introduction to the fundamental concepts of literary criticism that aims at the cultivation of critical skills. The primary goal is the provision of the tools necessary for confident, self-conscious critical analysis and experience in writing about literary prose, drama and poetry. In addition to text-based and other critical perspectives, the course addresses matters of style and referencing. This is a very practical course that will examine samples of actual student writing.

Level II

LITS2001 Poetry I
A survey of canonical poetry written during the Renaissance and Neo-Classical periods, focusing on some of the following poets: Wyatt, Sidney, Raleigh, Spenser, Shakespeare, Donne, Herbert, Marvell, Milton, Dryden and Pope.

LITS2002 Poetry II
A survey of canonical poetry written during the Romantic and Victorian periods, focusing on some of the following poets: Blake, Coleridge, Wordsworth, Shelley, Keats, Elizabeth Browning, Robert Browning, Arnold, Christina Rosetti, and Hopkins.

LITS2005 Chaucer
An introduction to Chaucer’s Canterbury Tales and the Middle English language in which he wrote.

LITS2013 Milton
An introduction to Milton’s most important works, including Paradise Lost and Samson Agonistes.

LITS2101 Novel I
A survey of the ‘rise of the novel’ in the eighteenth century that explores some characteristic forms and concerns of early prose fiction in English.

LITS2102 Novel II
A survey of representative nineteenth century novels with attention paid to literary and social developments from the Regency to the late Victorian periods.

LITS2117 American Novel
A survey of canonical American texts from the mid-nineteenth to twentieth centuries with attention paid to the literary and social developments of this period.

LITS2118 African-American Fiction
An examination of the major movements of African American literature, including the Harlem Renaissance and the Modernist phase. Beginning with an examination of the links between African American texts and African oral traditions, it explores ways in which canonical African American fiction responds to significant cultural and political developments. The main genres selected are the slave narrative, the short story and the novel, but important plays, poetry and non-fictional work will also be considered.

LITS2201 Drama I
After Shakespeare: a survey of key texts and developments in post-Renaissance drama.

LITS2202 Drama II
The modern era: a survey of key texts and developments in 20th and 21st Century drama, including the emergence of West Indian theatre.

LITS2203 Shakespeare I
An introduction to the comedies and histories.

LITS2204 Shakespeare II
An introduction to the tragedies and romances.

LITS2207 Introduction to Shakespeare
A survey of Shakespeare’s works.

LITS2209 Renaissance Drama
An introduction to the historical period, its theatrical forms, and the crucial connections which exist between the drama and the politics of the time.

LITS2306 History of Criticism
An introduction to the foundations of critical theory/aesthetics by surveying the historical development of the field from the Classical period to the early twentieth century.

LITS2307 Modern Literary Theory
An introduction to several schools of Continental philosophy and critical theory (chosen from Psychoanalysis, Marxism and Phenomenology) of particular relevance to the Caribbean as well as Feminist, Post-colonial and African American thinkers who have engaged with these schools.

LITS2403 Caribbean Popular Culture
An examination of a range of popular culture forms within Caribbean society, including popular song, Caribbean film, music video, graffiti, the political speech, the sermon, cartoons, the popular press, performance poetry.

LITS2499 Drama and Theatre Arts - (6 credits)
An exploration of a range of plays from a practical point of view, that is, plays as scripts for performance, not just as texts to be read. [Equivalent to two semester-long courses and worth 6 credits]

LITS2501 West Indian Literature
This course familiarises students with a selection of ‘canonical’ Caribbean literary texts, their context and critical reception.

LITS2502 Caribbean Women Writers
An exploration of a selection of Caribbean women’s writing in English to determine whether it is possible to generalize about the subject matter of their texts and the ways in which this material is articulated.

LITS2514 West Indian Literary Classics I
An introduction to a range of West Indian classics across the genres. Some of the authors covered are: Brathwaite, Walcott, Rhys, Lovelace, Mais, Anthony, Shinebourne, Harris, Selvon.

LITS2516 West Indian Literary Classics II
This course complements LITS2514 West Indian Literary Classics I, ensuring that students achieve knowledge of a range of regional writing by recognised authors. It includes six representative works in various genres in order to foster generic and inter-textual cross-fertilization.

LITS2603 Creative Writing: Poetry
A workshop course in the writing of poetry in which students are required to write regularly and to submit new pieces of their work at least once a fortnight for discussion.

LITS2604 Creative Writing: Prose Fiction
A workshop-based course focusing on the attributes of the short story, through reading, practical exercises and writing.

LITS2801 African Writing and Quality
An interdisciplinary introduction (French and English) to the main forms of traditional orature – ritual, praising, epic, proverbs, storytelling – that aims to provide the grounds for a specifically African aesthetic. Filmed dramatizations will be as important as written texts.

LITS2901 Literary Research Methods
This course is intended to provide students of Literatures in English with the skills necessary to achieve the requisite standard for research papers in this discipline. The research paper in literature requires not only familiarity with critical and theoretical approaches to the literary text, but also the ability to use library and online resources, as well as to organize ideas and document sources in accordance with accepted academic practice.

Level III

LITS3001 Modern Poetry
A survey of poetry written during the period 1890 to 1945 by some of the following poets: Hardy, Frost, Yeats, Pound, Eliot, Dylan Thomas, Auden, Hughes, Cullen, McKay.

LITS3005 Contemporary Poetry
A survey of poetry written since World War II by some of the following poets: Baraka, Bishop, Brooks, E. E. Cummings, Larkin, Ginsberg, Giovanni, Gunn, Heaney, Ted Hughes, Lorde, Lowell, Plath, Stevens, Rich.

LITS3101 Modern Prose Fiction
An introduction to some of the techniques and concerns of early modern fiction by writers ranging from Kafka to Lawrence.

LITS3111 Contemporary Science Fiction
Prerequisites: None
This course is an introduction to the history, critical reception and contemporary practice of the prose fiction and film genre of science fiction. The general aims of the course are to, first, equip students at Level III with the critical skills to assess the cultural and social features that are used to shape the reception of science fiction as both a popular and an academic text. Second, this course endeavours assist students in developing an appreciation for the ways that imaginative texts make significant social concerns available for interrogation, and in the specific case of science fiction, how these texts offer visionary perspectives of these concerns. In order to facilitate this, the course will focus on the literary features of science fiction narratives through close reading, the application of literary/textual criticism and comparative analysis with popular culture expressions of the themes found in these narratives. This is a seminar based course and will be taught in two 2-hour seminars weekly with active participation by the students in terms of in-class discussions, debates, group presentations, and online discussions.
LITS3102 Contemporary Prose Fiction
A modular course in which students examine four movements or sub-genres in modern fiction, such as the psychological novel, modern utopias, the political novel, and the novella.

LITS3301 Issues in Criticism
An exploration of selected topics in critical theory/aesthetics and related philosophical fields such as the audience, authorship, (literary) form, (literary) history, representation, identity, language, etc.

LITS3303 Modern Critical Theory
An introduction to several schools of Continental philosophy and critical theory that may be grouped under the rubric ‘Post-Structuralism’ (chosen from Deconstruction, Dialogism, Foucauldian and Deleuzean Thought, Structuralism, Structuralist Marxism, and Structuralist Psychoanalysis) as well as Feminist, Post-colonial and African American thinkers who have engaged with these schools.

LITS3304 Post-Structuralisms and Post-Colonialisms
An introduction to several schools of Continental philosophy and critical theory that may be grouped under the rubric ‘Post-Structuralism’ (chosen from Deconstruction, Dialogism, Foucauldian and Deleuzean Thought, Structuralism, Structuralist Marxism, and Structuralist Psychoanalysis) as well as Feminist, Post-colonial and African American thinkers who have engaged with these schools.

LITS3405 Caribbean Popular Culture II
Building on LITS2403, this course provides a more in-depth assessment of various aspects of Caribbean popular culture. This course will normally pay more attention to leading-edge developments in Caribbean culture and critical discourse.

LITS3501 Advanced Seminar in West Indian Literature
For students who want to deepen their knowledge of West Indian literature by researching topics of current scholarly interest and developments in related literary theory. The focus varies from year to year, and may involve topics such as ‘West Indian autobiography,’ ‘migration and the West Indian diaspora’ or ‘post-colonial constructions in West Indian literature.’ This course is one of the approved Level III substitutes for HUMN3099 Caribbean Studies.

LITS3502 West Indian Literature: Special Author Seminar
For students who want to do intensive research on the work of a single West Indian Writer. This course is one of the approved Level III substitutes for HUMN3099 Caribbean Studies.

LITS3601 African Literature I: The Aesthetics of African Literature
An introduction to classics of the African canon, alongside newer, experimental writing. Underlying the course is the question of what we mean by ‘African.’ This course is one of the approved Level III substitutes for HUMN3099 Caribbean Studies.

LITS3602 African Literature II: African Narrative in Film and Text
A counterpart to LITS3601, this course examines the nature of African narrative, its debt to orality and its innovations, by comparing filmic and written texts. This course is one of the approved Level III substitutes for HUMN3099 Caribbean Studies.

LITS3603 Popular Film
An introduction to the cinemas of Africa as well as to film language and critical concepts. We examine the inter-textuality of filmic narrative techniques with indigenous African (oral) narrative forms, to be able to relate these to an African film aesthetic. This course is one of the approved Level III substitutes for HUMN3099 Caribbean Studies.

LITS3806 Popular Film
This course is about films and how they create meaning and pleasure for the spectator. The general aims of this course are to, first, equip students at Level III with the critical skills to assess the cultural and social features that are, and have been, used to shape the reception of film as both academic discipline and popular text. Second, this course endeavours to develop within students an appreciation for the ways in which popular films make significant social concerns available for interrogation and critical analysis. Of particular interest is how films suggest and reflect social values or ideology. In order to facilitate these goals, this course will focus on the ‘literary’ features of popular films through careful analysis, the application of film theory and criticism. This is a seminar based course and will be taught in two 2-hour seminars weekly with active participation by the students in terms of in-class discussions, debates, group presentations, and online discussions.
MUSIC (MUSC)

Level I

MUSC1010 Introduction to Critical Listening
This course introduces students to elements of music, musical style and the major musical forms. It examines the structure and composition of music with an emphasis on learning to become an active listener. Students will become familiar with important musical terminology, forms and instruments in order to better understand, enjoy and talk critically about music.

MUSC1020 Caribbean Popular Music and Society
Prerequisite: MUSC1010
Popular music has a prominent place in Caribbean culture. Drawing on folk and traditional music it often provides socio-political commentary on Caribbean societies, and in many instances, is associated with distinctive dance styles. Through its focus on listening and analysis, this course provides an opportunity for students to explore Caribbean popular music and to understand its structures, particular eras and stylistic differences.

Level II

MUSC2000 General Musicianship Prerequisite: MUSC1020
This course introduces students to the fundamentals of basic musicianship and focuses on aural training, sight-reading and music theory while exploring the melodic, rhythmic and harmonic materials of Caribbean music.

MUSC2400 Knowing Popular Music through Performance (6 credits)
This year long course is based on the premise that the performance of popular genres is a necessary skill for any musician operating in the Caribbean or world music fields. How these genres are constructed and presented is required knowledge for all musicians whether their focus is performance or education. This knowledge is best acquired through individual performance in an ensemble context as the popular music is grounded in live group playing.

MUSC2100 Composing in Caribbean Popular Genres
This course seeks to develop skills and interest in composing. It also aims to foster an experience of the process of composing and thereby allows students to personally contribute to the development of Caribbean popular music as composers/performers and as an informed audience.

Level III

MUSC3000 The Music Industry
A knowledge of how the music industry works is indispensable for all musicians. The modern musician is as much involved in the business world as he is in the artistic world. This course provides an overview of the music industry and includes topics such as copyright and intellectual law and its application to Caribbean societies, taxation as it relates to cultural industries, legal and financial requirements of show promotion, and marketing and the media.

PHILOSOPHY (PHIL)

Level I

PHIL1002 Introduction to Ethics and Applied Ethics
This course consists of two parts. The first part introduces students to the domain of ethics as the study of theories about how we ought to live, and what is of value or concern in life. The second part takes a more pragmatic approach and attempts to deal with practical applications such as concern for the environment and animals, or issues such as abortion and euthanasia.

PHIL1003 Introduction to Philosophy
The course aims to introduce students to the methods and materials of philosophy through the exploration of certain fundamental philosophical concerns and problems like the nature of mind and personal identity, free will and determinism, and the existence of God.

PHIL1300 Critical Thinking and Informal Logic
This course examines the basic nature of reasoning and focuses on fallacies which obstruct good reasoning. Emphasis will be upon understanding the logical structure of argument and on recognizing the influence of emotional and rhetorical persuasion in media presentations, political discussions, advertisements, general academic writings, and one’s own arguments.

PHIL1903 Greek Philosophy
The course is intended to initiate students into the historical precedence to some of the philosophical issues with reference to ancient Greek Philosophy. The major emphasis will be on Plato and Aristotle. The focus will be mainly on metaphysical and epistemological aspects of certain selected texts by those major classical philosophers.
Level II

PHIL2003 Philosophy of Mind
The question ‘What is it to have a mind?’ forms the focal point in Philosophy of Mind, and the objective of this course is to essay and assay various attempts at answering this question.

PHIL2004 Philosophy of Science
The course aims to study the philosophical underpinning of scientific activity and to scrutinise such issues as: the old and new riddles of induction, the nature of natural laws, the relation between theory and observation, the function and nature of theoretical terms, the concept of confirmation and its paradoxical implications, under-determination of theory by data, theoretical reduction, and realism versus anti-realism in science.

PHIL2100 Symbolic Logic
This course covers the basics of “symbolic” logic, that is, formal logic in which special symbols are used to represent certain logical relationships. The use of such symbols enables one to study the form of good deductive arguments independently from their content. The focus of the course is not on the symbols, but on a rigorous study of the properties of good deductive arguments.

PHIL2200 Crime and Punishment - Issues in Legal Justice
This course explores the twinned themes of crime and punishment. Questions to be addressed include: What is crime? What are the causes of crime? What motivates an individual to commit a crime? Who is responsible for criminal activity? Why is a criminal confession so important? What is punishment? What are the rationales for punishment? What is justice? How does punishment measure against the need for human dignity? What roles do culture, class, and gender play in crime and punishment? What biases does one have about these questions, and how does one present his or her views?

PHIL2210 Human Nature and the Good Life in Society
This course attempts to chart the development of ideas of human nature and the social and political forms appropriate to its flourishing from Plato up to modern times. The course will deal with historically significant writers such as: Plato, Aristotle, Augustine, Aquinas, Hobbes, Locke, Hume, Rousseau, Kant, Mill, and Marx, and will place them in relation to the resurgence of the theory of justice associated with the work of John Rawls and others.

PHIL2605 African Philosophy
This course examines the debate surrounding the history, definition and nature of African Philosophy. It identifies and attempts to answer central questions that most concern contemporary African philosophers. These are questions such as: What is African Philosophy? Is ethno-philosophy really philosophy? Are the contents and methods of African philosophy unique? Can African philosophy and ideas be properly expressed in non-African languages?

PHIL2650 Asian Philosophy
This course will examine the major philosophies and philosophers that have been influential in shaping the minds of Asia. Special attention will be given to Hinduism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Taoism, and Zen-Buddhism. Focus will be on such issues as humanity, justice, self, happiness, authenticity, freedom, harmony, and enlightenment.

PHIL2701 Philosophy in Literature
This course is an examination of a number of central philosophical issues as they are reflected in literary works. Among the issues to be examined are the following: the question of God and the problem of evil; determinism, free will and fatalism; freedom and man’s search for identity; the meaning of life, and the obligation to obey the law.

PHIL2801 Aesthetics
The course is designed not only to introduce students to the philosophy of beauty which intersects with topics in metaphysics, ethics, philosophy of mind, and philosophy of language, but also the theory of taste and criticism in the creative and performing arts.

PHIL2901 Problems of Knowledge
The course concentrates on the scope and limits of knowledge, its sources and justification. It is divided into two parts. Part 1 focuses on epistemological issues such as scepticism, analysis of knowledge, varieties of cognitive states and the ethics of epistemology. Part 2 deals with methodological questions like the Problem of Induction and in general the status of inductive inferences, the notion of evidence or corroboration and its attendant paradox of confirmation, and the notion of explanation.

PHIL2902 Early Modern Philosophy - Rationalism
This course aims to study what has become known as the school of rationalism in which three philosophers stand out: namely, Descartes, Spinoza and Leibniz. The course covers a selection of subjects from their works with an emphasis on their metaphysical and epistemological aspects.

PHIL2903 Early Modern Philosophy - Empiricism
This course is a sequel to the first course on Modern Philosophy and is designed to study the school of empiricism. Among the empiricists, the works of three figures loom large: Locke, Berkeley and Hume. Again, the course is concerned mainly with epistemological and metaphysical aspects of empiricist and Kantian philosophy.

PHIL2904 Philosophical Logic

The course is not so much about formal logic as about a series of connected and highly important concepts like reference, truth, existence, identity, necessity, and quantification. Philosophical logic is in many respects the workshop of philosophy, and the course aims to introduce students to its methods and materials and also to its implications for other areas in philosophy.

Level III

PHIL3012 Philosophy of Law

This course provides a systematic consideration of the fundamental issues in the conception and practice of law; origins of law, commands and orders; sovereignty and subject; legitimacy and autonomy; laws, ethics and justice; democracy and the law; gender and the law; discrimination and reverse discrimination; war and laws; sanctity of life and law – suicide, capital punishment, cloning, organ transplantation, etc.; and conscience and the law.

PHIL3099 Research in Philosophy - Interrogating Perennial Issues and Great Thinkers in Philosophy - (6 credits)

This course is designed to introduce final year students to research in Philosophy. Through detailed reading of classical and non-classical works in Philosophy, students will develop an understanding of the background to the works of each major author, and be able to identify issues in Philosophy and/or themes in the works of a major philosophical figure. As a culmination of the work in the research course, students will be required to prepare a research paper under supervision of the lecturer for the course, which critically analyse the issues and/or theme of interest to them.

PHIL3100 Environmental Ethics

A critical examination of various moral problems raised when considering environmental issues. Questions regarding the moral status of animals, future generations, and the environment as a whole are explored. Also taken up are the moral aspects of famine relief, population control, and resource use.

PHIL3120 Biomedical Ethics

Bioethics is the critical study of ethical problems arising from medicine, healthcare and the biological sciences. The course will discuss some ethical questions concerning such issues as: abortion, euthanasia, health resource allocation, organ donation, experimentation on humans and animals, medical paternalism, genetically modified food, genetic modification of animals, human cloning, eugenics and designer babies, genetics, refusal of medical treatment.

PHIL3130 Business Ethics

The course analyses moral questions and problems that arise in contemporary business practice. These relate to problems of equality, social and moral responsibility rights of workers, discrimination, etc.

PHIL3500 Philosophy and Gender

“Gender” as practice, performance and representation has differed for women and men according to race, class and other divisions throughout time. This course examines key issues related to the critical study of gender or the cultural invention and representation of masculinity and femininity. The course will also examine competing feminist theories; for example, liberal feminism, Marxist feminism, radical feminism, socialist feminism and others.

PHIL3510 Philosophy of Sex and Love

This course investigates philosophical approaches to love, friendship, marriage, and eroticism in both classical and contemporary philosophy. It involves an investigation of the nature of sex and the nature of love and of the conceptual relationship between sexuality and love. Explored also are the concepts of gender and gender roles, and gender equality. Included is an investigation of social, ethical and legal controversies regarding sexual behaviour, marriage, privacy and metaphysical.

PHIL3520 Kant and the Post-Kantians

This course starts from the attempt by Kant to synthesize elements of rationalism and empiricism in his ‘critical’ philosophy. It considers reactions to Kant’s views by such writers as Hegel and Schopenhauer and concludes with Nietzsche’s rejection of the Kantian project.

PHIL3610 Frege, Husserl and their Progeny

Taking up Kantian themes in the work of Frege, this course examines the shared concerns of Frege and Husserl, and the subsequent division of their interests between ‘analytic’ and ‘continental’ thinkers. In the former group the works of Russell, Wittgenstein and Carnap, in particular, will be discussed, while Heidegger, Sartre, and Merleau-Ponty’s debt to Husserl will be the focus of the other part of the course.

PHIL3801 African Diaspora Philosophy

The course is intended to give an insight into the philosophical heritage of African thought, specifically in terms of its
The course is designed to enquire into the concepts of and justification for the principles used in mathematics. The prime question in philosophy of mathematics concerns the status of the subject which can be split into four sub-questions: (1) How do we know that our mathematical theories are true? (2) What is mathematics about? In other words, if a mathematical statement is true, what makes it true? (3) Are mathematical truths true by necessity, and, if so, what is the source of this necessity? (4) How is it possible to apply mathematical truths to external reality, and in what does this application consist? The objective is to initiate students into thinking about these questions in a systematic and consistent way.

PHIL3804 Philosophy of Language

The question of what it is to be meaningful is the central concern of Philosophy of Language and this course aims to canvass attempts at delineating the meaning or meanings of meaning. How does language relate to the mind on the one hand and reality on the other?

PHIL3805 Philosophy of Psychology

Psychology attempts to explain such phenomena as perception, cognition, emotion and language learning. The goal of this course is to find out how such tasks are accomplished by psychology, with an emphasis on its theoretical tenets and methodology. The objective is to enable students to sort out the various ways in which philosophical assumptions appear in, affect, and illuminate psychology, and conversely how psychological insights impress on philosophical problems and positions.

PHIL3806 Cognitive Science Philosophy

Philosophy of cognitive science comes under the umbrella of Philosophical Psychology. Basically, cognitive science is predicated on the idea that the mind, or at least some important mental phenomena, can be understood in computational terms. The course is designed to look at the fundamental conception of computationalism and its various ramifications for topics such as folk psychology, the language of thought, modularity of the mind, linguistics, vision, and the notion of content in causal and explanatory contexts.

PHIL3807 Philosophy of Mathematics

metaphysical and epistemological dimensions. Also, as African and Diasporic Philosophy is still a relatively new discipline and a definite consensus has yet to emerge with regard to its content and contours, the question of identity will be a major concern of the course.

PHIL3802 20th Century Analytic Philosophy

The course is intended to cover some of the major figures of 20th Century Analytic Philosophy. A selection will be made from the work of philosophers like Frege, Russell, Wittgenstein (early and late works), Ayer, Quine, and Carnap. Obviously, due to time limitations, not all of them can be discussed in one semester.

PHIL3803 20th Century Continental Philosophy

The course is intended to cover some of the major figures of 20th Century Continental Philosophy. They include philosophers like Heidegger, Merleau-Ponty, Sartre, Foucault, Derrida and Rorty. Obviously, due to time limitations, not all of them can be discussed in one semester.

PHIL3801 Ethics II: Meta-Ethics

This course is a sequel to Ethics I, and is a reflective examination of first-order ethical decision and judgements, and it is, therefore, referred to as second-order ethics or meta-ethics. It looks at issues like the nature of moral judgements and enquires whether they express genuine beliefs, and whether they can be objectively true.

PHIL3802 19th Century Continental Philosophy

This course, however, concentrates on the 19th century period of Continental Philosophy where five post-Kantian philosophers along with the originators of phenomenology occupy a central place: namely, Hegel, Schopenhauer, Nietzsche, Brentano and Husserl. The course is designed to initiate students into the intricacies of their thoughts and their impact on the subsequent development of Continental Philosophy.
PHIL3903 Metaphysics
All sub-disciplines of philosophy share certain problems about what ultimately exists in the universe. Consideration of such issues constitutes the province of metaphysics. The course aims to provide students with an understanding and means of tackling questions about what there is in reality and how the world works. The following topics are among the issues discussed in the course: appearance and reality, substance and identity, causation and laws, universals and particulars, space and time.

PORT1001 Portuguese Language IIA
The goal of this course is to develop in participants receptive and productive skills that will enable them to use the target language effectively to communicate with native speakers in various social contexts. Classroom activities will be based on real life situations. Reading materials include themes like art and culture, economy and industry, tourism, geography and the evolution of Brazilian society, with emphasis on its history and culture.

PORT1002 Portuguese Language IIB
This course will enable students to improve language performance by providing them with content that is relevant to situations in which they must express their points of view. Emphasis will be placed on the acquisition and use of a wider formal vocabulary as opposed to vernacular language. Materials used will focus on Brazilian cinema, women in Brazilian literature, the creative arts, and Brazilian popular music.

PORT3500 Portuguese for Tourism and Business
The aim of this course is to provide participants with a thorough knowledge base at the advanced level of Portuguese business terminology and communication as well as introduce them to the field of tourism and hotel management, providing them with the basic concepts and equipping them to use the appropriate Portuguese vocabulary as relates to these fields.

PSYC1003 Introduction to Psychology
This course provides a broad-based introduction to the study of adult human thinking and behaviour. You will be provided with an introduction to some of the major theoretical perspectives and key thinkers and findings in the various branches of psychology. By the end of the course you should be able to summarise and criticise the key theoretical arguments in relation to each of these branches so that you have a sound basis for progression to courses in Psychology at Levels 2 and 3. [Note: Now a Social Sciences course effective 2008-2009].

PSYC1008 Introduction to Sports Psychology
This course introduces students to the study of human behaviour in the context of sport and physical activity. The course will enable students to explore the effect of the interaction between individual differences and socio-environmental factors on the Caribbean sports person. Students will be guided in the application of psychological theory to the examination of exercise and sport performance.

PSYC1012 Introduction to Developmental Psychology
This course introduces students to developmental psychology, a scientific study of the physical and psychological changes that occur in human organism from conception till death. It focuses on the nature of development and scope of developmental psychology. Some of the major principles governing human development, research methods and western approaches to unravelling developmental issues will be studied. Emphasis will be on the theoretical basis underlying human development across the different cultures.

PSYC1013 Introduction to Research Methods in Psychology

This course will introduce Psychology students to basic research methods and statistical analyses. Students will receive hands-on experience of data collection and analysis. Students will learn to analyse data using the Statistical Package for the Social Sciences (SPSS). Students will conduct an empirical research project and will produce an APA-format report of the research.

PSYC1015 Historical Issues in Psychology

This course investigates the major paradigm shifts within psychology and attempts to provide students with the critical skills necessary to evaluate theories of psychology within their historical, disciplinary, social and political context. Hence, it seeks to enable students to understand how psychology has developed as a science and also to critically evaluate the assumptions, procedures, and issues which have concerned and still do concern psychology as a science.

Level II

PSYC2003 Physiological Psychology

The relationship between neuro-biological processes and psychological processes is examined. The course focuses on the organisation of the nervous system, the role of the neurobiological process in sensory experiences, sleep, attention, arousal, motivation, emotions, learning, memory and language. Both experimental and clinical data are considered.

PSYC2004 Personality Theory I

This course is designed to provide a thorough examination of the grand theories of personality (e.g., psychoanalytic, trait, behavioural,) that have played an important role in understanding the history of psychology. These theories provide central, frameworks for branches of applied psychology (e.g., Clinical, Forensic, Industrial & Organizational, Sports).

PSYC2008 Introduction to Cognitive Psychology

Prerequisites: PSYC1003

This course is designed to introduce the field of cognitive psychology, which is the study of the mental representations and processes involved in the acquisition, storage, retrieval, and use of knowledge. Several of those representations and processes, including attention, memory, concepts, and language will be reviewed.

PSYC2009 Learning Theory and Practice

Prerequisites: EDPS1001 or PSYC1003

This course is designed to present the main features of theories of human learning and to place them in their appropriate historical context. As the course progresses links between learning theory and educational practice will be examined.

PSYC2012 Developmental Psychology (this course should not also be taken if completing PSYC2022)

Prerequisite: PSYC1003 or PSYC1012

This is designed to help students understand the physical, social and psychological development of an individual from birth to the factors that shape behaviour from birth to old age. [N.B. This course is administered by the Faculty of Social Sciences]

PSYC2014 Statistics and Research Design II

Prerequisite: PSYC1013 or PSYC2010

This is a core course for students registered on the major route in Psychology and, in conjunction with PSYC2010: Statistical and Research Design I, provides a preparation for PSYC3011 Research Paper in Psychology. The course introduces students to advanced quantitative methods and statistical analyses, and also introduces basic qualitative approaches to research.

PSYC2018 Social Psychology of Sports & Exercise

Prerequisites: PSYC1003 and PSYC1008

This course introduces students to the scientific study of the interactions of people in sport and exercise environments. It will provide an overview of the study of kinesiology behaviour from a psychosocial perspective as a forum for the examination and discussion of the ways in which groups of persons in sport and exercise settings exert influence on others. Social psychological factors will be examined in relation to competing athletes, coaches, exercise and recreation activity participants, special populations, support staff and spectators operating in the context of physical activity.

PSYC2022 Developmental Psychology II: From Conception to Adolescence

The following are common questions related to registration. If your questions are not answered here, please contact us at the Faculty Office.

ACADEMIC GUIDANCE

Q. Who is my Academic Advisor?

The Academic Advisor is there to offer guidance in relation to your academic career at UWI. Each student is assigned an Academic Advisor from a member of faculty within their discipline. It is expected that you meet at least once per semester. The name of your Academic Advisor is posted on your CHOL account or you may check with your Department’s Administrative Assistant.

Q. How best can I keep track of my courses?

It is recommended that you use the Registration Aide for your Major to track your courses. This is available in the Document Library on our Faculty website.

REGISTRATION

Q. What do the (ELPT) Proficiency Test results mean?

A pass in (or exemption from) the ELPT test means that you go on to register for the required English Language Foundation courses i.e. FOUN1003, FOUN1004, FOUN1006, FOUN1008. If you have failed the ELPT, you must register for and pass the course FOUN0100 Fundamentals of Written English BEFORE registering for any of the English Language Foundation courses. There is a fee attached to taking FOUN0100.

Q. How do I know what courses to register for?

You should refer to the Faculty Handbook which outlines the requirements for all programmes.

Q. How do I register for my courses?

To add your semester courses, you log on to the Cave Hill Online Student Information System (CHOL) at www.cavehill.uwi.edu/chol

Q. How many Courses should I register for in each semester?

FULL-TIME students register for ten (10) courses per academic year (Aug-May) i.e. 5 courses in semester I and 5 courses in semester II. Please note that students who are in full-time employment are not permitted to register full-time.

PART-TIME students register for five (5) courses per academic year (Aug-May) i.e. 3 courses in semester I and 2 courses in semester II OR vice versa. Note that part-time students who possess one ‘A’ level or CAPE pass may register for 6 courses in the academic year, i.e. 3 in semester I and 3 in semester II. Level I of your Programme will extend over a period of four semesters or two academic years.

Please note that registration is done on a semester by semester basis. Therefore, you can only register for semester I courses in August/September and semester II courses in January/February.
Q. Do I register Full-Time or Part-Time?

At UWI, full-time and part-time refer to the number of courses you are registered for and not the time of day the courses are offered. In other words, full-time students can expect to attend classes anywhere between 8.00 a.m. and 9.00 p.m.

Full-time status: To enter the full-time Programme, your letter of offer to UWI should indicate acceptance into the 3-year programme (full matriculation). Note that students eligible to study full-time, have the option to register part-time and can change to a full-time registration in a subsequent semester if they so desire.

Part-time status: To enter the part-time Programme, your letter of offer should indicate acceptance into the 4-year programme (lower level matriculation). Students with lower level matriculation are not permitted to register full time until they have successfully completed 24 credits.

Q. I was accepted into a four-year programme. Can I switch to full-time studies?

A four-year programme indicates that you are accepted for part-time studies. You may switch to full-time studies only after successfully completing 24 credits of courses at level I.

Q. I was accepted into a three-year (full-time) programme. Can I switch to part-time studies?

Yes, full-time students may opt to register part time i.e. 5-6 courses in the academic year.

Q. How is my Programme structured?

To be awarded the Bachelor’s degree, you need to complete 90 credits (approximately 30 courses) over the length of your programme (3-4 years). Each degree programme is divided into three Levels - Level I, Level II and Level III.

At each Level, you are required to complete 10 courses (30 credits), each worth 3 credits unless otherwise stated. Courses worth 6 credits are the equivalent of 2 courses.

The Programme is broken down into three parts:

i. Major Requirements

ii. Faculty Requirements

iii. Electives

Q. How do I interpret the course code?

Each course is assigned an alphanumeric code. The first four letters of the code indicate the subject area e.g. HIST is a history course. This is followed by four digits, the first number indicates the level – 1 for level one, 2 for level two and 3 for level three. For example:

- SPAN1001 - Level I Spanish course
- HIST2001 - Level II History course
- LITS3001 - Level III Literatures course

The remaining three digits

Q. Do I need to take a Foreign Language?

Yes, if you do NOT possess a CXC General level pass at grades I, II or III (Grade III from 1998) or equivalent in a foreign language, then you MUST complete ONE of the following to satisfy the Faculty’s foreign language requirement:
Q. What if I already have a Foreign Language?

If you already have the foreign language qualification, you should take a level I humanities elective from within the Faculty but outside your major to obtain the three credits.

Q. What out-of-Faculty Foundation courses are students of the Faculty of Humanities and Education required to do?

FHE students are required to do the following two foundation courses:

- FOUN1201 Science, Medicine and Technology in Society
- FOUN1301 Law, Governance, Economy & Society

These courses are level 1 but fit within your level II structure.

Q. Do I have to do courses outside my Faculty?

No. You have the option of taking out-of-faculty electives at any level where your programme permits. Note that permission is sometimes required from the Faculty offering the course.

Q. Can I get special permission to do extra courses?

Yes. Students who are in their final year of study (that is, they will complete at the end of the second semester), with the permission of the Dean, can be allowed to add up to 6 extra credits per semester.

Q. How many courses must I do outside of my major but within the Faculty?

Students in the Faculty are expected to do six credits of level I courses that are outside of their discipline but offered in the Faculty of Humanities and Education. This includes a foreign language for those students who do not possess a foreign language at CSEC (Grades 1 or 2, or a grade 3 post 1998) or equivalent.

Q. Can I register for Co-Curricular Credits?

Yes. Co-curricular courses are offered through the Office of Students Services. Co-curricular credits are done at Levels II or III and students can be given only 3 credits of co-curricular courses counted towards their degree requirements. The grading for co-curricular credits is pass or fail.

Q. Where do I receive approval for over-rides for course registration errors?

The Department responsible for the course as well as the Faculty Office processes over-rides for prerequisite errors, course clashes, and full classes. If a student wishes to exceed the maximum credit hours, they should contact the Faculty Office.

Q. How many courses am I permitted to do during the Summer School?

Students are allowed to do a maximum of three 3-credit courses during the summer.
ACADEMIC STATUS

Q. There is a “warning” status on my on-line student record. What does this mean?

A “warning” status reflects poor academic performance (i.e. the receipt of a term GPA of 1.99 or less). This should be taken seriously and the student should seek counsel from his/her academic advisor. If such poor performance is maintained by a student for the following semester, the student will be asked to withdraw from the UWI.

Q. I was asked to withdraw as a result of unsatisfactory performance, how soon will I be allowed to resume my studies?

No sooner than one (1) year after the date of withdrawal. A student who has been required to withdraw may request a meeting with the Dean, who may decide to waive the requirement.

Q. How do I go about applying for Leave of Absence?

A student who for good reason wishes to be absent from an academic programme for a semester or an academic year must apply for formal Leave of Absence through the Dean’s Office. The leave of absence request form may be downloaded from the Faculty website.

Leave of Absence may be granted for one semester or for an academic year. Leave of Absence, however, will not be granted for more than two consecutive academic years, or in the first year of the programme. A student who wishes to deregister from all courses in the first year of their programme must request deferral until either the next semester or the next academic year.

Q. Is there a deadline for making a Leave of Absence application?

Applications for leave of absence must be made no later than the third week end of the official registration period of the relevant semester.

MAKING CHANGES TO YOUR PROGRAMME

Q. How do I change to another major in my Faculty?

This request has to be made by downloading the Change of Option form from the Document Library on the Faculty’s website http://www.cavehill.uwi.edu/fhe. The completed form should be submitted to the Dean’s Office for processing. The request should be submitted no earlier than the start of your second academic year.

Q. Can I do a major in another Faculty?

Yes, you can with the permission of both faculty Deans. Kindly note however, that by adding a second major, you may be required to complete more than 90 credits to satisfy the requirements for both majors.

Q. Can I add a Minor to my programme?

Yes, you may apply to add any one of the Faculty minors available to your programme by completing and submitting the Change of Option form to the Dean’s Office. You may also add one minors from other Faculties but with permission of the relevant Dean. Kindly note that Minors are not usually permitted when pursuing a Special.
Q. When do I declare my minor?

A. Students must declare their minor on entry to level two and no later than the end of the semester I registration period at the beginning of their final full academic year at UWI.

Q. If I pursue 15 credits in any discipline area would I automatically be awarded a minor in that area?

No. You must formally declare the minor by completing a Change of Option form and submitting to the Dean’s Office. You should also check the Faculty Handbook for the courses required for that Minor.

Q. How do I transfer to another Faculty?

All students wishing to transfer to another faculty must apply to the programme of their choice. The application form is available on the Student Affairs website and should be completed in triplicate.

Q. Can I do a semester at another University?

Yes, students of the Faculty have the option of pursuing courses at another university. Please visit the Student Enrolment and Retention Unit (SERU) to learn more about the Study Abroad/Student Exchange programme.

EXAMINATIONS

Q. I missed an exam. What should I do?

If you missed an exam, you can retake it at the next available sitting. You would need to re-register for the course at the next offering. If you missed an examination for medical reasons, you should visit the Student Health Clinic.

Q. I am ill and unable to attend class or write an exam. What should I do?

If you are suffering an illness that precludes you attending class, submitting your coursework assignments on time or from taking final examinations, a medical is required from the Student Health Clinic. All registered students should register with the Clinic in order to access the services available.

Q. Where can I apply for a review or a remark for a course that I have failed?

A request for a review (where you go through the script with your lecturer) or remark (grade can be changed) can be made at the Examinations Section. There is a stipulated time-frame published by the Examinations Section for requesting a review or remark. Note that there is a cost attached to a remark.

Q. How do I apply to do a course by ‘Exams only’?

A final year student can request permission from the Examinations Section, through the Dean to register for one or two courses by ‘exams only’. Exams Only permits the student to complete the course without attending instructional sessions and without submitting coursework. To be eligible, the student should have been previously registered, attended classes and completed all course work for the said course. Exams Only may be granted in cases where students were unable to complete the exam on medical grounds or under exceptional circumstances. Exams Only will not be granted for a first time course attempt.
Q. Can I carry forward coursework marks for a failed/incomplete course?

Where for medical reasons (certified by the Student Health Clinic), a student has failed a course, or not written the final examination, permission may be sought from the Dean to carry forward their coursework marks obtained in the respective course where the course is repeated within one academic year.
