

TITLE	AUTHOR	PAGE
The Fate of Small and Vulnerable Economies in the world trade system: A Caribbean Perspective	Lyle, Thandiwe	1
Stakeholder Philosophy and Commonwealth Caribbean Company Law	Gray, Anika	13
The Case for a Sexual Assault Policy at the University of the West Indies (Cave Hill)	Gray, Anika	34
Protecting a Common Humanity: Re-thinking the Use of Force for Humanitarian Intervention in International Human Rights Law	Watson, Merrick Ricardo	47
Authenticity: Myth or Reality	Brown, Krystal T	100
Resisting the Perceptible Trend Towards a Duty to State Reasons 'Marshall v The Director of Public Prosecutions' — Revisited	Lawrence, Duwayne Charles	109
Human Rights in Perspective: The Journey has just begun	Jemmott, Sade N.	146
Child Support: a blessing or a curse?	Palmer, Khadeen	157
The Separation of Powers Doctrine: Figment of the Legal Imagination or Entrenched Reality	Davis, Altoria; Beckford, Mathieu; Brown, Orrett	163
Police Brutality of Offenders Should be Maintained in Cases of Arrest, Questioning, and To Keep General Law and Order	Smith, Courtney	173