DEAN'S REMARKS

Welcome to all students of the Faculty of Social Sciences at the Cave Hill Campus of the the University of the West Indies for the academic year 2005-2006.

I hope that time spent in this Faculty will be some of the most valuable of your entire life. Attaining a Social Science Degree in any of the disciplines is of critical worth at this conjuncture in Caribbean development. It will make of you a significant human asset in any community.

I wish you well.

I need at this time to introduce our Faculty Handbook as well. The Faculty Handbook is an extremely useful reference booklet for all students of the Faculty, but particularly undergraduates. It is your source of the regulations and guidelines immediately relevant to an efficacious pursuit of your studies.

The handbook provides a description of degree programmes available, the structure of degrees offered in the departments of the Faculty and the generic description of all approved courses in the Social Sciences at the Cave Hill Campus.

Pay close attention to the information and supplement it with the detailed particulars available in the handbooks issued by departments. With these two handbooks you should be equipped to reduce errors in course selection and registration. There should be clarity also for optimum choices of courses available. Clarity with respect to accumulation of required credits and help for transparency in the construction of your Grade Point Average.

Make the best of it and Good Luck!

*George A.V. Belle, Ph.D.
Dean, Faculty of Social Sciences*

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

When to apply?

Applications for entry to all Campuses of the UWI must be received on or before January 10 of the year in which the applicant wishes to enter and should be accompanied by:

- (i) Certified evidence of all relevant examinations passed,
- (ii) A signed statement where applicable from parent/guardian agreeing that the applicant shall become an undergraduate in the Faculty,
- (iii) A signed statement from parent/guardian or from a responsible individual or authority that funds will be available for the payment of fees;
- (iv) An application fee of BDS $15.00.

Application forms may be obtained from the Student Affairs Section at Cave Hill, Mona or St. Augustine, Resident Tutors, University Representatives in the non-Campus Countries and from the University websites.

GENERAL REGULATIONS FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF SCIENCES IN THE SOCIAL SCIENCES

Definition of Terms

“Faculty Handbook” means, in the case of the St. Augustine Campus, The Students’ Guide to the Faculty of Social Sciences, and in the case of the other Campuses means The Handbook of the Faculty of Social Sciences;

“free electives” means courses listed in the Faculty Handbook which are optional in the degree programme concerned;

“Level I”, in relation to a Faculty other than a Faculty of Social Sciences, means the stage of a degree programme at the end of which a candidate who has completed all the examinations is eligible, under the scheduling of the programme in that Faculty, to complete that programme within two years without registering for summer school sessions;

“Pre-requisite” means a course listed in the Faculty Handbook as a course which must be completed before being permitted to register for another course for which it is so listed as a pre-requisite;

“Summer school sessions” refer to the sessions of the summer schools as governed by the Summer School Regulations.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR ADMISSION

- 1.1 Before registration and before beginning courses in the Faculty the candidate must have satisfied the University Matriculation requirements for entry to a degree programme (See University Matriculation requirements - UWI Calendar Vol II Part II).
- 1.2 On entry to the University students may be required by Faculty Board to take an English Proficiency Test. Students failing this test may be required by Faculty Board to do a prescribed course in English as a prerequisite to the compulsory Foundation Course, FD10A English for Academic Purposes, or FD10H Rhetoric II: Writing for Special Purposes.
- 1.3 Applicants for entry into Economics, Accounting, Management Studies; Psychology and Statistics (Mona) degree options (specialization and majors) are required to have a minimum of a Grade II pass in CXC (General) Mathematics or a qualification deemed by Faculty Board to be equivalent.

TRANSFERS

Inter and Intra Faculty Transfers

- 2.1 Students in another Faculty who have completed Level One of a degree programme of the University of the West Indies are eligible for transfer to the Level II of a degree programme offered by a Faculty of Social Sciences. Such students must, at the time of transfer, have passed courses which satisfy the Level One requirements of the Faculty of Social Sciences as well as the pre-requisites of the relevant courses of the programme into which the transfer is sought. Transfers are offered to students who have acquired a strong level one record. (B+ average and above)
- 2.2 Transfer may also be offered to any student registered in any other Faculty of the University of the West Indies and who has successfully completed the Level One prerequisites to Levels II & III courses in the area of intended major or special and has also completed the required Foundation Course(s).
- 2.3 For transfer to the Level II of a degree programme offered by the Faculty of Social Sciences (Mona), students registered prior to 1998-99 may include among the courses passed Essentials in English (UC010, UC001) or Use of English (UC120).

COURSE OF STUDY

3. Candidates for any of the degree programmes must pursue a course of study comprising at least 90 credits at least 30 credits at Level One and at least 60 credits at Levels II and III. The Faculty Board may require that the timing of registration in particular courses may be such as to ensure that the course of study extends over either at least five (5) semesters and two (2) summer school sessions or six (6) semesters.

LEVEL ONE REQUIREMENTS

- 4.1 Students must satisfy the requirements for a minimum of 30 credits at Level One comprising:

such Foundation courses as are required and offered; other compulsory courses in the chosen degree option as specified in the Faculty Handbook; free electives to bring the total credits to 30.

UNIVERSITY FOUNDATION COURSES

- 4.2 As of 1998-99 all students registered in the University of the West Indies will be required to complete a minimum of 9 credits of Foundation Courses including MS11A Introduction to Computers. Foundation Courses are University Courses and not Level One Courses. They may be completed at any stage in a student's programme. Students are advised to complete foundation course requirements prior to proceeding to the final semester of their programme.
- (a) Students awarded Advanced Standing, as well as those in the B.Sc.Hospitality and Tourism Management programme, are required to complete 9 credits of Foundation courses including MS11A Introduction to Computers. The Foundation courses comprise:

- (i) FD10H Rhetoric II; Writing for Special Purposes
 - (ii) FD12A Science, Medicine and Technology in Society
 - (iii) FD11A Caribbean Civilization
 - (iv) FD13A Law, Governance, Economy and Society
 - (v) any other course approved for the purpose by the Board of Undergraduate Studies
- (b) Students registered in the Faculty of Social Sciences will be required to include among such Foundation Courses, FD10H Rhetoric II; Writing for Special Purposes.
- (c) The elective Foundation course, FD13A Law, Governance, Economy and Society, will not count for credit in the programme of the Faculty of Social Sciences except with the permission of the Dean.
- (d) Exemption in whole or in part from the requirements under [4.2(a- b)] may be granted from time to time by the Board for Undergraduate Studies.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ENTRY TO LEVELS II AND III

5. Students are required to satisfy pre-requisites for Levels II and III courses. A minimum of twenty-four credits at Level One including eight core courses is required to progress to Level II.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE AWARD OF THE DEGREE

6.1 In order to qualify for the award of a degree a student must:

have completed a minimum of 90 credits (normally equivalent to 30 semester courses) of which:

at least thirty credits are from Level One semester courses (including the Foundation Course requirement), and at least sixty credits from Levels II and III semester courses students registering for more than twenty Level II/III courses must indicate which of the additional courses are “not for credit”. Students will not be permitted to register for “not for credit” courses after satisfying the requirements for the award of the degree.

have satisfied the requirements for their specific degree programmes

6.2 Degrees are offered in the following categories:

Special

Major

Three minors (restricted to BSc Social Sciences)

A student must be formally registered in one of these programme options:

A special comprises a minimum of forty-five (45) credits in the subject area over Levels II and III

A major comprises a minimum of thirty (30) credits in the subject area over Levels II and III

A double major comprises a minimum of thirty (30) credits each in two (2) subject areas over Levels II and III

A minor comprises a minimum of fifteen (15) credits in the subject area over Levels II and III

A major/minor comprises a minimum of thirty (30) Levels II and III credits in the subject area of the major and fifteen (15) Levels II and III credits in

A Special degree is available from among the following subject areas only:

(b) The Faculty Board may require that the timing of registration in particular courses be such as to ensure that the course of study for the Level One programme extends over at least three (3) semesters inclusive of one (1) summer school session.

6.3.5 Students may also request to combine a Social Sciences major with a minor offered by another Faculty. To do this, the permission of the Deans of both Faculties must be sought and obtained. At St. Augustine students may register in the Faculty for a double major comprising a major in the Faculty and a major offered by another Faculty. By special arrangement with the Faculty of Pure & Applied Sciences (Cave Hill), students may register for a double major comprising any of the majors offered in the Faculty of Social Sciences as one of the two required subject areas and Mathematics in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Sciences (Cave Hill) as the other. Students may also apply to register in the Faculty of Social Sciences for a double major involving any of the Faculty of Social Sciences majors and any other majors offered in another Faculty at the Cave Hill Campus. To do this, the permission of the Deans of both Faculties must be sought and obtained.

6.3.6 A student may with the permission of the Dean change any major, special or minor for which that student is registered.

REGULATIONS FOR FULL-TIME PROGRAMME

7. A full-time student:
- (a) shall complete the degree programme in not more than eleven (11) semesters and five (5) summer school sessions;
 - (b) will unless Academic Board approves otherwise on the recommendation of Faculty Board be required to register for ten (10) semester courses in any one year and five (5) semester courses in any one semester, provided that permission may be sought for not more than one additional course for the year by any student who needs that one course for completion of the requirements for the degree or who has been awarded a grade of A as the examination mark for more than half of the courses for which that student has been examined when registered in the Faculty.
 - (c) will be required to withdraw from the Faculty unless he/she has gained at least:

Fifteen credits at the end of the second semester,

thirty-three credits at the end of the fourth semester

fifty-one credits at the end of the sixth semester

sixty-nine credits at the end of the eighth semester

N.B. Credits gained from courses done in another programme will not be counted towards the rate of progress.

REGULATIONS FOR PART-TIME PROGRAMME

- 8.
- (a) a part-time programme is offered for Level One of the BSc degree at all campuses. Level II and III are available in all programmes offered at the Cave Hill Campus. At the Mona Campus part-time is offered in BSc. Management Studies (major) BSc. Accounting (major) and the BSc. International Relations (major). Part-time registration is not permitted at Levels II and III at the St. Augustine Campus.
- (b) the Faculty Board may require that the timing of registration in particular courses be such as to ensure that the course of study for the Level One programme extends over at least three (3) semesters inclusive of one (1) summer school session.
- (c) a part-time student will be required to withdraw from the Faculty unless he/she has gained:
- six credits at the end of the second semester
- eighteen credits at the end of the fourth semester
- twenty-four credits at the end of the sixth semester
- thirty-nine credits at the end of the eight semester
- fifty-four credits at the end of the tenth semester
- seventy-two credits at the end of the twelfth semester
- ninety credits at the end of the fourteenth semester
- (d) Once a Part-time student transfers into the Full-time programme, he/she is required to maintain the rate of progress mandated for with the Full-time programme.

N.B. Credits gained from courses done in another programme will not be counted towards the rate of progress.

REGISTRATION/EXAMINATIONS

- 9.
- (a) Students will be examined during each semester and the summer session in the courses for which they are registered
- (b) a course may be examined by one or more of the following methods:
- (i) written examination papers
- (ii) oral (under the conditions in Regulation 10 below)
- (iii) practical examinations
- (iv) coursework (which may include written in-course tests, practical work, dissertations, essays, projects, studies and other forms of coursework exercise as approved by the Faculty Board, or the Campus Committee on Examinations as appropriate).

COURSEWORK

In the case of examination by coursework a student gaining an overall mark higher than 40% but passing in only one component will be required to repeat at the next available sitting the component that was failed.

A student who is absent from a coursework examination may apply to the Dean of the Faculty for exemption from this examination no later than one (1) week following the date of this examination. He/she must at the same time submit to the Campus Registrar justification for such absence (such as, in case of illness, a medical certificate complying with any applicable Examination Regulations). The Dean shall consider any such request for exemption in consultation with the relevant Head of Department and course lecturer. If the exemption is granted, the candidate's assessment will be based entirely on the final examination.

A student may request to submit coursework assignments, essays, etc. after the stipulated deadline date on the basis of appropriate justification (such as, in case of illness, a medical certificate complying with any applicable Examination Regulations). This request must be made within 48 hours after the stipulated deadline date and must be addressed to the Dean, who in consultation with the relevant Head of Department and course lecturer may allow the extension. The Dean, acting on advice of the relevant Head of Department and course lecturer, may consider requests for exemption from submission of the coursework assignment, essays, etc. If the exemption is granted, the candidate's assessment will be based entirely on the final examination.

A student failing a course may subject to the rate of progress requirements of these Regulations be allowed to substitute another approved course in a subsequent semester or repeat the failed course.

All optional courses (electives) listed in the various degree programmes in the Faculty Handbook will not necessarily be available in any one year.

Deadlines for changes of registration including withdrawal from or addition of courses will be as prescribed in University Regulations.

Registration for a course constitutes registration for the examination in that course.

A student who does not take an examination in a course for which he/she is registered is deemed to have failed that examination unless permission to be absent has been granted.

A student who, on grounds of illness or in other special circumstances as referred to in Examination Regulation 25 fails to take an examination in a course for which he/she is registered, may be given special consideration by the Board of Examiners to take examination at the next available opportunity, without penalty.

Students are asked to pay special attention to Examination Regulation 23 which states:

"Any candidate who has been absent from the University for a prolonged period during the year for any reason other than illness or whose attendance at prescribed lecturers, classes, practical classes, tutorial or clinical instructions has been unsatisfactory or who has failed to submit essays or other exercises set by his teachers may be debarred by the relevant Academic Board, on the recommendation of the relevant Faculty Board, from taking any University examinations."

ORAL EXAMINATIONS FOR FINAL YEAR STUDENTS

10. (a) The Board of Examiners may recommend to the Department concerned that a student who has failed the last one or two courses(s) required to complete the degree be offered an Oral Examination in that one or those two courses provided that he/she has obtained in each instance a mark of at least 35% for the course(s).

If an Oral Examination is granted the student may choose to decline the offer.

(b) The Oral Examination, which will be of maximum length of one hour, will be held as soon as possible after the previous examination. The student must contact the department concerned immediately so that arrangements may be made for the Oral Examination.

The Oral Examination will concern the course as a whole, and not be restricted to the questions set in the examination which the student did. The First Examiner and at least one other Examiners must be present at an Oral Examination.

If the examination is passed, the student cannot be awarded a grade higher than 40 - C and this grade will replace that previously gained for the entire evaluation in that course.

If he/she fails the Oral, the student will not have any right of appeal or review.

A student will be allowed only one Oral Examination for any one Course.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

11. (i) A candidate who for good reason wishes to be absent from an academic programme for a semester or more must apply for formal leave of absence to the Campus Faculty Board, through the appropriate Dean, stating the reason for the application.

(ii) The length of such leave of absence, if granted, will be subject to approval by the Academic Board of the Campus concerned, but will not exceed one academic year in the first instance terminating at the end of the academic year for which the application is approved.

(iii) Leave of absence will not be granted for more than two consecutive academic years.

(iv) Leave of absence may be granted for one semester or for an academic year.

(v) Applications for leave of absence for a semester shall normally be submitted by the end of the third week of the relevant semester.

(vi) Applications or leave of absence for the academic year shall normally be submitted the end of the third week of semester I.

AWARD OF DEGREES

12. Notification of Results

For those candidates who have completed the requirements of the BSc degree a pass list shall be published and arranged alphabetically in the following categories:

First Class Honours
Second Class Honours
Upper Division
Lower Division
Pass

AWARD OF HONOURS

13. (i) The class of degree to be awarded shall be determined on the basis of performance in the twenty courses taken for credit at the Levels II and III only.

(ii) The minimum standard required for each class of Honours shall be the following:

First Class Honours

Either thirteen (13) 3-credit courses with the grade or A or twelve (12) 3- credit courses with a grade of A with good supporting B+ grades.

Upper Second Class Honours

Either thirteen (13) 3-credit courses with a grade of at least B+ or twelve (12) 3-credit courses with a grade of B+ or above with good supporting B grades.

Lower Second Class Honours

Either thirteen (13) 3-credit courses with a grade of at least B or twelve (12) 3-credit courses with a grade of B or above with good supporting C grades.

N.B The above will be pro-rated to take into account courses other than 3-credit courses.

(iii) With regards to the determination of the class of degree, attention is drawn to the modified penalty principle, which stipulates that where a student has failed a Level II or III examination and subsequently resits that examination, or takes a substitute examination, a penalty will be applied to the examination result. The actual grade received in the subsequent examination will however appear on the grade slip.

(iv) A course designated at registration as not for credit (NFC) shall not count for purpose of assessing Honours.

(v) Core courses satisfying the requirements of specialization, majors and minors must be taken into account in the determination of the class of degree.

MARKING SCHEME FOR EXAMINATIONS IN THE FACULTY OF SOCIAL SCIENCES

The authorised marking scheme is as follows

A	70 and above
B+	60 - 69
B	50 - 59

GRADE POINT AVERAGE SYSTEM

13(a) These regulations shall apply to all students admitted to the University commencing academic year 2003-2004.

(i) The class of degree to be awarded shall be determined on the basis of a weighted Grade Point Average (GPA).

(ii) In the calculation of the weighted GPA. A weight of zero shall be attached to all Level I courses.

(iii) Levels II and III courses shall have equal weight in the determination of the weighted GPA.

(iv) Core courses satisfying the requirements of specials, majors and minors must be taken into account in the determination of the weighted GPA.

(v) A course designated at registration as not for credit (NFC) shall not count in the determination of the weighted GPA.

(vi) The class of degree shall be awarded as follows:

First Class Honours - Weighted GPA of 3.6 and above

Second Class Honours - Upper Division - Weighted GPA 3.00 - 3.59

Second Class Honours - Lower Division - Weighted GPA 2.00 - 2.99

Pass - Weighted GPA 1.00 - 1.99

Marking Scheme for Examination in the Faculty of Social Sciences

13(b) (i) In the determination of GPA, the grades with corresponding quality points shall be as defined in the University Regulations governing the GPA.

ii) The authorized marking scheme is as follows:

GRADE	MARKS	GPA

D	40 - 42	1.0
F	Less than 40	0.0

CO-CURRICULAR CREDITS

14.(i) Students will be eligible for no more than 3 credits for involvement in co-curricular activities. The activities may be Campus specific.

(ii) Co-curricular credits will be awarded on the following basis:

a. students must be involved in the activity for at least one (1) semester;

b. explicit learning outcomes must be identified for each activity;

c. there must be clearly defined mode(s) of assessment for each activity.

(iii) The Office of Student Services and the School of Education on each campus will administer the award of credits.

(iv) The grading of co-curricular credits will be pass/fail.

(v) All co-curricular activities/programmes must be approved in advance by the Faculty and Academic Board.

(vi) Subject to Faculty Regulations, co-curricular credits will form part of the 90 credits for a degree. However, in special circumstances, if credits are earned in excess of those required for the degree, these and the associated activity will be included on the student's transcript.

AEGROTAT DEGREE

15. A candidate taking examinations in respect of a final degree, diploma or Certificate programme and who had been absent through illness from one or more papers, may apply for the award of an aegrotat degree, diploma or certificate on the following conditions.
 - (i) (a) Where the whole of the final examination for a degree, diploma or certificate is taken at the end of the final year of the course and he/she has completed more than half of the examination but has been absent from the remainder of that examination.
 - (b) Where the final examination is in two or more parts (the award of the degree, diploma or certificate depending on performance in each of these parts) and he/she has successfully completed the first one or two parts or more than half of the final part, but has been absent from the remainder of the examinations for the final part.
 - (c) Where the final examination is in two parts and the student has completed the first part (level II) with a B average or higher and his course work during the final year of the course has been of a consistently high standard, but he/she has been absent from the other part of the examinations.
 - (ii) The Examiners consider that in the work which the candidate has submitted at such of the final examination as he/she had attended, he/she reached a standard which, if also reached in the remainder of the examination, would have qualified him/her for the award of a degree, diploma or certificate.
16. All applications for an aegrotat degree, diploma or certificate must be referred by the Registrar to the Faculty Board of Examiners and the Board for Examinations for a recommendation to the Board of Undergraduate Studies (BUS). Applications from or on behalf of candidates must be accompanied by a medical certificate signed by (a) University Health Officer, or (b) the Dean of the Faculty of Medicine in consultation with the appropriate members on the Medical School, (c) or other medical personnel appointed for this purpose by the University, and shall reach the Registrar not later than thirty days from the last examination paper written by the candidate.
17. In assessing an application for an aegrotat degree, diploma or certificate, reports from Heads of Department on the candidates work should be taken into consideration. Oral examinations where possible, by internal examiners may be an aspect of examinations for the award of an aegrotat degree.
18. An aegrotat degree, diploma or certificate will be awarded without distinction or class.
19. Holders of an aegrotat degree, diploma or certificate will not be permitted to re-enter for the same examination but may proceed to a higher degree if accepted by the Board for Graduate Studies.

B.Sc. HOTEL MANAGEMENT B.Sc. TOURISM MANAGEMENT

The Department offers only Level One of the two above programmes. After completing Level I, students go on to the Centre for Hotel and Tourism Management in the Bahamas to complete a B.Sc. Special degree in one of the Hotel Management or Tourism Management Programmes as follows:

B.Sc. HOTEL MANAGEMENT

1. Levels II and III of the programme operate on a semester basis of two semesters per academic year. Each semester's study comprises five (5) half-courses for full-time students and a minimum of two (2) half-courses for part-time students. Normally a student is required to satisfactorily complete eighteen (18) half-courses – nine (9) full courses – within two years and may additionally choose two (2) half-course optional electives, e.g. Foreign Language, Data Processing. The electives do not count towards assessment of the class of degree.
2. Half-courses required to be taken:
 - (i)-(iv) Hotel Operations I-IV
 - (v)-(vii) Food and Beverage Management I-IV
 - (ix)+(x) Marketing Management I and II
 - (xi) Hotel Accounting
 - (xii) Management Accounting
 - (xiii) Financial Management
 - (xiv) Organizational Theory & Behaviour
 - (xv) Personnel Management and Industrial Relations
 - (xvi) International Tourism
 - (xvii) Caribbean Tourism
 - (xviii) Hotel Law
3. Students are also required to spend two 12-week segments working under staff supervision within the industry. Detailed regulations concerning these internship periods are issued to all students enrolling in this programme.

Scheme of Examination

4. (i) Levels I and III examination will consist of a minimum of twenty (20) papers each normally of two hours duration.
- (ii) Students will be examined in each half-course at the end of the semester in which it is taught, i.e. five papers per semester. Optional electives will not necessarily be available.
- (iii) A Level II and III student taking a normal full-time load of five half-courses per semester who fails all such courses in a given semester will normally be required to withdraw from the Faculty.

B.Sc. TOURISM MANAGEMENT

The Level One requirements for the Tourism Management option are the same as that outlined above for the Hotel Management option.

1. Regulations similar to those for the B.Sc. Hotel Management apply - See Regulations 1-4 above.

LEVEL II

- (i) Organizational Theory and Behaviour
- (ii) Hotel Accounting
- (iii)+(iv) Marketing Management I and II
- (v)+(vi) Hotel Operations I and II
- (vii) International Tourism
- (viii) Management Accounting
- (ix) Caribbean Tourism

LEVEL III

- (x) Personnel Management and Industrial Relations
- (xi) Financial Management
- (xii) Law
- (xiii)+(xiv) Project Analysis I and II
- (xv) Tourism Research
- (xvi) Caribbean Tourism: Public Politics and Issues
- (xvii) Transport Economics
- (xviii) Caribbean Tourism: Planning and Development – 12 Week Internship

2. JOINT MAJOR

B.Sc. HOSPITALITY AND TOURISM MANAGEMENT

This Programme is offered jointly with the Barbados Community College (BCC). In the programme, students are required to complete the Two-Year Associate Degree in Applied Arts - Tourism and Travel, or the Associate Degree in Applied Arts - Hotel Catering and Institutional Operations, (or equivalent) with a 2.75 grade point average, before proceeding to complete years 3 and 4 in the Faculty.

The four-year programme consists of a core of Hospitality and Tourism courses, along with Business and Management courses, in two (2) areas of specialisation, viz. Hospitality Management and Tourism Management. The vocational courses, particularly in Hospitality, will be undertaken during the first two years of study at the purpose-built facilities of the Hospitality Division of BCC. In years 3 and 4 a range of Business and Management courses is offered mainly at the Cave Hill campus of the UWI. The four-year programme is designed to be both academically sound and specifically relevant to the Regional Hospitality and Tourism Industry. The training will provide opportunities for employment in hotels, transportation and tour operation companies, travel agency operations, national and regional tourism organizations and government departments. It will be of benefit to those already in the industry as well as those seeking to enter this diverse field.

Students will receive practical exposure to kitchen, restaurant and general hotel management operations at the Pommarine Training Hotel facility. They will also be given the opportunity to gain experience and a realistic appreciation of the working environment of the industry through an internship scheme. A six (6) week internship is undertaken at the end of Year 2, and a further twelve (12) week industry internship is undertaken at the end of Year 3 of the programme.

Language training is built into the degree programme as a requirement during the first two years.

COURSE SYLLABUSES

UNIVERSITY FOUNDATION COURSES

FOUN1008 (FD10H) - RHETORIC II: WRITING FOR SPECIAL PURPOSES

(This course is administered by the Faculty of Humanities)

This course is designed to equip students across the disciplines (and particularly Social Sciences, Law, and Science and Technology) with skills in, business, technical and scientific writing.

- writing effective arguments, writing problem solution arguments, arguing for action and proposing solutions;
- writing to persuade: subjective/objective viewpoints - use of logic versus emotive expression; methods of refutation
- writing business, technical and scientific documents
- describing and writing project proposals
- writing from research in the field: designing and using surveys, questionnaires, interview schedules and so forth - understanding, analysing and using the language of business technical innovations in vocabulary etc.

Assessment: 100% coursework - continuous assessment consisting of selection of five or six written assignments on the major segments of the course.

FOUN1101 (FD11A) - CARIBBEAN CIVILISATION

(This course is administered by the Faculty of Humanities)

Objectives:

To develop an awareness of the main process of cultural development in Caribbean societies, highlighting the factors, the problematics and the creative output that have fed the emergence of Caribbean identities.

To develop a perception of the Caribbean as wider than island nations or linguistic blocs.

To stimulate students' interest in, and commitment to Caribbean civilization and to further their self-determination.

FOUN1210 (FD12A) - SCIENCE, MEDICINE AND TECHNOLOGY IN SOCIETY

(This course is administered by the Faculty of Science and Technology)

The overall aim of the course is to develop the ability of the student to engage in an informed manner in public discourse on matters pertaining to the impact of science, medicine and technology on society.

FOUN 1301 (FD13A) - CARIBBEAN SOCIETY, GOVERNMENT AND LAW

(This course does not count for credit in the Programmes of the Faculty of Social Sciences except with the permission of the Dean)

This course is a multi-disciplinary course of the Faculty of Social Sciences which is designed mainly for non-Social Sciences students.

The course will introduce students to some of the major institutions in Caribbean society. It will expose them to both historical and contemporary aspects of Caribbean society, including Caribbean legal, political and economic systems. In addition, Caribbean culture and Caribbean social problems are discussed.

DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS

LEVEL ONE COURSES

ECON1001 (EC10A) – INTRODUCTION TO MICROECONOMICS

This course will introduce students to the analytical concepts and the basic principles of microeconomics analysis. It will cover:

Consumer Demand Theory
The Theory of the Firm and Production
Market Analysis

ECON1002 (EC10B) – INTRODUCTION TO MACRO-ECONOMICS

This course will introduce students to:

National Income Accounting
Macroeconomic Model Building and Analysis
The Theory of Small Open Economy
Money and Banking
The International Economy

ECON1003 (EC14A) – MATHS FOR SOCIAL SCIENCES I

Basic algebraic techniques: Sets; Matrices; Matrix solutions to systems of linear equations; Relations; Functions; Graphs; Co-ordinate Geometry; Limits; Differentiation; Integration; Maxima and minima curve tracing; Linear programming and the calculus of two variables. The application of the foregoing to the Social Sciences.

This course is not for students with 'A' level Mathematics.

ECON1004 (EC14B) – MATHS FOR SOCIAL SCIENCES II

Prerequisite: A-level Mathematics or ECON1003 (EC14A)

This course would build on the material covered in the introductory course. Topics to be studied would include: Finite Mathematics, including sets, relation, function. Classical Algebra including partial functions, remainder theorem, theory of equations; linear algebra including vector, matrices, linear system of equations, rules, eigen vectors, quadratic forms, advanced calculus, especially all types of optimisations problems; differential and difference equations.

ECON1005 (EC16B) – INTRODUCTORY STATISTICS

The collection, compilation and tabulation of statistics, and their representation by charts, diagrams, averages, measures of dispersion and association, and index numbers. Elementary aspects of distribution theory, estimation theory; and hypothesis testing. The use of mechanical aids to calculation and tabulation. The analysis of variance technique. Elementary decision making theory.

No prerequisite.

LEVEL II COURSES

ECON2000 (EC20A) – INTERMEDIATE MICROECONOMICS I

Prerequisites:

ECON1001 (EC10A) Introduction to Microeconomics
ECON1002 (EC10B) Introduction to Macroeconomics
ECON1003 (EC14A) Maths for Social Sciences I
ECON1004 (EC14B) Maths for Social Sciences II

The Methodology of Microeconomics: The Scientific Method. Scientific Validity. The Methodological Controversy.

Consumer Theory and Analysis: The Cardinal Theory. The Ordinal Theory. Revealed Preference. The Law of Demand, Engel's Law, Elasticity. External Effects on Consumption. The Price Index. The "Characteristic" Approach. Risk Analysis. Empirical Demand Functions.

Production Theory and Analysis: The Production Function. Profit Maximization. Homogeneity. The Multi-Product Firm. Cost Functions. X-efficiency. Linear Programming. Market Equilibrium: Supply and Demand in the Market. Existence, Uniqueness and Stability of Market Equilibrium. Walrasian and Marshallian Conditions for Static Stability. Dynamic Stability - The Cobweb. Model and Relationship to Agricultural Production.

ECON 2001 (EC20B) – INTERMEDIATE
MICROECONOMICS II

Prerequisites:

ECON1001 (EC10A) Introduction to Microeconomics
ECON1002 (EC10B) Introduction to Macroeconomics
ECON1003 (EC14A) Maths for Social Sciences I
ECON1004 (EC14B) Maths for Social Sciences II

The Product Market: Profit Maximization Models - Perfect Competition, Monopoly, Monopolistic Competition, Oligopoly. Alternative Models - Sales Maximization, Growth Maximization, Administrative or Cost-Plus Pricing. Game Theory.

The Labour Market and Distribution: The demand for labour under different market structures. Monopsony. Rent and Quasi rent. Distribution of the product among productive inputs. Product exhaustion Theorems (Euler, Clark-Wicksteed). General Equilibrium and Welfare Theory: Pareto Optimality. The Marginal Conditions for Optimal Resource Allocation. The Social Welfare Function and the Second Order Condition for Welfare Maximization. Arrow Possibility Theorem. Theory of the Second Best.

Introductory Project Analysis: Discounted Cash Flow Analysis. Social vs Private Cost-Benefit Analysis. Investment Criteria - Net Present Value. Internal Rate of Return.

ECON 2002 (EC21A) – INTERMEDIATE MACROECONOMICS I

Prerequisites:

ECON1001 (EC10A) Introduction to Microeconomics
ECON1002 (EC10B) Introduction to Macroeconomics
ECON1003 (EC14A) Maths for Social Sciences I

1. Scoped of Macroeconomic Analysis
2. Alternative Macroeconomic Paradigms
3. Theoretical elaboration of select Macroeconomic Paradigms
4. Formulation and Analysis of Macroeconomic Models
5. Macroeconomic Stabilisation Policy

ECON 2003 (EC 21B) – INTERMEDIATE
MACROECONOMICS II

Prerequisites:

ECON1001 (EC10A) Introduction to Microeconomics
ECON1002 (EC10B) Introduction to Macroeconomics
ECON1003 (EC14A) Maths for Social Sciences I

1. The Consumption Function
2. The Investment Function
3. The Demand for Money
4. Labour Supply and Demand
5. Expectations Formation and Policy Effectiveness
6. The Government Budget Constraint and the Consistency of Macroeconomic Models
7. Capital and the Growth of an economy

ECON 2004 (EC22C) – PUBLIC POLICY ANALYSIS

Prerequisites:

ECON1001 (EC10A) Introduction to Microeconomics
ECON1002 (EC10B) Introduction to Macroeconomics
ECON1003 (EC14A) Maths for Social Sciences I
ECON1005 (EC16B) Introductory Statistics

This is an intermediate economics course designed to provide non-specialist economics students with the principles involved in the analysis of public policies such as government intervention in the market, regulation, subsidisation, privatisation etc. The course examines both the microeconomic and macroeconomic principles governing the formulation of public policies.

The outline syllabus is as follows:

The Elements of Public Policy:

ECON 2016 (EC 24D) – MATHEMATICAL METHODS - SOC SCI II

Prerequisite:

ECON1004 (EC14B) Maths for Social Sciences II

Mathematical analysis; elementary properties of sets of points; limiting processes and convergence; the derivative and the integral; partial differentiation; constrained and unconstrained extremum problems; simple systems of differential and difference equations.

ECON 2020 (EC 25F) – THE CARIBBEAN ECONOMY

Prerequisites:

ECON1001 (EC10A) Introduction to Microeconomics

ECON1002 (EC10B) Introduction to Macroeconomics

The development of Caribbean Economies. Introduction to Development Theory. Contemporary Characteristics of Caribbean Economies.

ECON 2008 (EC 23L) – STATISTICAL METHODS I

Prerequisite:

ECON1005 (EC16B) Introductory Statistics

Probability Theory. Distribution Theory. Inferential Statistics. Goodness of Fit. Analysis of Variance.

ECON 2006 (EC 23J) – ECONOMIC STATISTICS

Prerequisite:

ECON1005 (EC16B) Introductory Statistics

1. The objective of the course is to produce students who, given the appropriate raw materials, could:
 - (i) produce data themselves
 - (ii) write a report using the data
 - (iii) write a critical commentary on a report which used the data
2. The course is as follows:
 - (i) Introduction
 - (ii) Unemployment, including problems of definition,

- measurement, inference from survey data
- (iii) Inflation, including construction of index numbers, introduction to time series
- (iv) Living standards, including measurement of real national income, terms of trade
- (v) Balance of Payments, including simple forecasting techniques, accounting with stocks and flows
- (vi) Overview, economic activity in the Eastern Caribbean over the last two decades

ECON 2005 (EC 23E) – SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC ACCOUNTING

Prerequisite:

ECON1005 (EC16B) Introductory Statistics

The outline syllabus is as follows:

- i) The Social Accounting Matrix
- ii) Expenditure, Output and Income at Current Prices
- iii) International Transactions and the Balance of Payments Accounts
- iv) Inter-Industry Transactions and Input-Output Analysis
- v) Expenditure, Output and Income at Constant Prices
- vi) Real National Income and the Terms of Trade
- vii) International Comparisons of Living Standards

ECON 2022 (EC 26C) – INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS ENVIRONMENT

Prerequisites:

ECON1001 (EC10A) Introduction to Microeconomics

ECON1002 (EC10B) Introduction to Macroeconomics

Elementary theory of international trade in goods and services; the structure of world and regional trade and the main factors influencing the flow of goods and services; the relationship between trade, growth and development, commercial policy (tariff and non-tariff barriers to trade, countertrade); regional economic cooperation; the role and functions of international trading agreements and institutions (GATT, LOMÉ, CBI, CARIBCAN, UNCTAD); the international monetary system (IMF, The World Bank, the Euro-currency market); the theory and problems of balance of payments.

ECON 3035 (EC 34F) – BUSINESS AND ECONOMIC FORECASTING

Prerequisites:

ECON 1003 (EC14A) Maths for Social Sciences I

ECON 1005 (EC16B) Introductory Statistics

The aim is to acquaint students with the full range of forecasting techniques, describing their essential characteristics and showing how they can be applied in practice.

Basic concepts of forecasting: Need and uses of forecasting, type of forecasting, introduction to some of the terminology.

Trend-line fitting and forecasting. Introducing trends, estimating a curve, forecasting using trend curves.

Time series methods. White noise, moving averages and autoregressive models, exponential smoothing and smoothing methods in general. Decomposition methods, ARMA methods, Box-Jenkins methods.

Regression methods and Econometric models. Simple regression, multiple regression, use of Econometric models in forecasting.

Qualitative and subjective forecasting.

Evaluation forecasts. Mean square error and other criteria.

Forecasting and planning in organizations.

ECON 3037 (EC 34J) – OPERATIONS RESEARCH I

Prerequisites:

ECON 1003 (EC14A) Maths for Social Sciences I

ECON 1004 (EC14B) Maths for Social Sciences II

ECON 1005 (EC16B) Introductory Statistics

Non-Linear Programming - Constrained and unconstrained models.

Dynamic Optimization - Calculus of variations and optimal control.

Dynamic Programming

Linear Programming

Special Cases in Linear Programming

Integer Programming and Combinatorial Models.

EC 34M – OPERATIONS RESEARCH II

Prerequisites:

Introductory Mathematics

Mathematics for Economists I

Introductory Statistics

Theory of Games

Markov Decision processes

Inventory Models

Waiting Line Models

Probabilistic Dynamic Programming Models

Simulation

Project Scheduling

ECON 3029 (EC 35J) – LABOUR ECONOMICS

Prerequisites:

ECON 2000 (EC20A) Intermediate Microeconomics I

ECON 2001 (EC20B) Intermediate Microeconomics II

ECON 2002 (EC21A) Intermediate Macroeconomics I

ECON 2003 (EC21B) Intermediate Macroeconomics II

Nature of Labour Economics.

ECON 2001 (EC20B) Intermediate Microeconomics II
ECON 2002 (EC21A) Intermediate Macroeconomics I
ECON 2003 (EC21B) Intermediate Macroeconomics II

Objective:

The course attempts to provide the analytical equipment required for studying aspects of the transmission processes in the small open dependent economy. It familiarizes the student with the institutional framework of Caribbean economies and develops a feel for the contemporary policy issues.

Structure:

Modelling the small open economy (basic relations)
Income determination
Balance of payments and development
Wages, prices, and employment
Money and financial behaviour
Trade and production patterns
A research project

ECON 3024 (EC35G) – ECONOMICS OF EDUCATION

Prerequisites:

ECON 2000 (EC20A) Intermediate Microeconomics I
ECON 2001 (EC20B) Intermediate Microeconomics II
ECON 2002 (EC21A) Intermediate Macroeconomics I
ECON 2003 (EC21B) Intermediate Macroeconomics II

Topics: The Nature of Human Capital Investment. The Economic Returns to Education and Training. The Contribution of Education and Economic Growth and Development. The Principles and Techniques of Educational Planning. Financing Education - Principles of Costing and Expenditure Analysis. Productivity, Efficiency and Equity of Education.

ECON 3046 (EC35H) – SMALL OPEN ECONOMY THEORIES

Prerequisites:

ECON 2000 (EC20A) Intermediate Microeconomics I
ECON 2001 (EC20B) Intermediate Microeconomics II
ECON 2002 (EC21A) Intermediate Macroeconomics I
ECON 2003 (EC21B) Intermediate Macroeconomics II

This course will address theoretical issues pertaining to the genetic characteristics behavioural peculiarities and structure of small open economy. It will examine the interrelationships among macroeconomic variables in small open economy, under alternative institutional settings, paying particular attention to Caribbean economic environment. It will also examine the influence on transmission mechanisms of labour and product market disequilibria, and foreign exchange insufficiency, using the special case of an equilibrium system as a basis for comparison. Methodological issues pertaining to model construction and analysis will be discussed. Analytical issues pertaining to stabilization policy in Caribbean economies will also be addressed.

ECON 3049 (EC 36C) – ECONOMETRICS I

Prerequisites:

ECON 1004 (EC14B) Maths for Social Sciences I
ECON 2008 (EC23L) Statistical Methods I

Syllabus:

General Linear Model Generalized Least Squares. Break-down of Assumption on GLM. Simultaneous Equations.

ECON3050 (EC 36D) – ECONOMETRICS II

Prerequisites:

Mathematics for Economists I
Statistical Methods
Econometrics I

Syllabus:

Lagged variable, dummy variables, and their use in Econometrics. Single equation methods in demand analysis. Consumption theory etc. Uses of large scale macroeconomic models. Model simulation. Forecasting.

ECON3054 (EC37C) – AGRICULTURAL ECONOMICS

Prerequisites:

ECON 2000 (EC20A) Intermediate Microeconomics I
ECON 2001 (EC20B) Intermediate Microeconomics II
ECON 2002 (EC21A) Intermediate Macroeconomics I
ECON 2003 (EC21B) Intermediate Macroeconomics II

The Role of Agricultural Production Economics: An overview.

Technical Properties of Production: A positive analysis.

Economic Properties of Production: A nominative analysis.

The Theory of Cost and Supply: Imperfect Competition - Agricultural supply functions.

The Theory of Derived Demand: Food demand functions.

Firm-Household Interrelationships: theoretical issues.

Uncertainty and Risk.

ECON3053 (EC37B) – AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT AND POLICY

Prerequisites:

ECON 2000 (EC20A) Intermediate Microeconomics I
ECON 2001 (EC20B) Intermediate Microeconomics II

DEPARTMENT OF GOVERNMENT, SOCIOLOGY AND SOCIAL WORK

COURSE SYLLABUSES

LEVEL I

FOUN 1301 (FD13A) Law, Governance, Society and Economy in the Caribbean (Foundation Course)

FOUN 1301 (FD13A) is a multi-disciplinary course offered by the Faculty of Social Sciences at Cave Hill. It is designed mainly for non-social sciences students.

The course will introduce the student to a number of the major social institutions in the Caribbean Society. It seeks to expose the student to the historical as well as contemporary aspects of Caribbean society including legal, political and economic systems in addition to insights of Caribbean culture and associated social problems.

The aims of the course are to:

- introduce students to the major sources of law, the function and nature of law;
- expose students to the judicial systems, including courts and tribunals;
- examine the principles of the Caribbean Parliamentary system;
- examine systems of Government and the electoral process;
- examine aspects of Caribbean economic systems in terms of development, structural adjustment and globalisation;
- examine theories of Caribbean society, Caribbean culture (religion, language, music), race and ethnicity, and contemporary Caribbean social problems.

GOVT 1000 (GT10A) – INTRODUCTION TO POLITICAL ANALYSIS

In this course the student will receive an introduction to classical political philosophy. Theories of the state, modern political science methodologies, comparative government, Caribbean political thought, international politics and colonialism and some basic tools in helping you to clarify your political beliefs, in understanding our political environment and in enabling you to analyze events with a greater degree of sophistication, consistency and clarity.

GOVT 1001 (GT10B) – INTRODUCTION TO CARIBBEAN POLITICS

This course intends to build upon the theoretical concepts introduced to students in GT10 A, with a more direct and specific empirical focus on Caribbean political issues. The course will introduce students to a few of the basic concepts in the historical evolution of Caribbean political economy and society, and will seek to familiarise students with contemporary socio-economic and political development issues of relevance to the Caribbean. It is also intended to expose students to the relevant issues involved in understanding the nature of Caribbean political economy, Caribbean Political systems and the wider politics of the Caribbean.

It is hoped that upon completion of this course students should be able to identify, describe, understand and analyse and explain the historical and contemporary forces shaping Caribbean politics. Students should also have a basic knowledge of the workings of Caribbean political systems.

SOCI 1004 (SY10A) – THE LOGIC OF SOCIAL INQUIRY

This proposed faculty-wide Part One core course is intended to lead into departmental offerings in research methods. As such it addressed those general philosophical questions which form a necessary grounding to the understanding of those techniques and procedures which follow. It will not be dealing with those methodological issues featured in faculty introductory courses.

Topics to be treated include the following:–

1. Epistemological issues and theories of knowledge. Their impact on perspectives ranging from positivism to Ethnomethodology.
2. The notion of understanding under Weberian and other perspectives.
3. Explanation in the social sciences. Types of explanation from genetic to functionalist. How explanation varies from description.
4. Causality and association. Their similarities and differences.
5. Theory, hypothesis and fact. Their interplay. Casual modelling.
6. Social sciences as science or art or both.

7. Values and ideology in the research process (including discussion of feminism).
8. Induction and deduction. Grounded Theory.
9. The distinction between a social problem and what is socially problematic.

SOCI 1002 (SY11B) - INTRODUCTION TO SOCIOLOGY I

1. Population, migration, population control
2. Family, education, religion
3. Bureaucracy
4. Social stratification and mobility
5. Models of Caribbean society

SOCI1000 (SY11A) – INTRODUCTION TO SOCIOLOGY II

1. The Sociological approach
2. The development of Sociology in the Caribbean
3. The founding fathers of sociology
4. Modern sociological theory
5. Theories of social change and development
6. Sociological methodology

SOWK1000 (SW10A) - HUMAN BEHAVIOR

This course seeks to build a knowledge base about human behavior and growth which is necessary for Social Work practice. An ecological and systems framework, together with a developmental approach to the major social science theories, are used to provide an understanding of the interaction between a person and the social systems in which individuals live (families, groups, organizations, institutions and communities).

The course addresses the interrelatedness of biological, social cultural, environmental, and psychological factors in human behavior. Inequality, discrimination, and differential access to opportunities are also examined. The content on race, gender, age, class, and sexual orientation addresses the impact which these conditions have on individual functioning at each developmental stage of the lifespan. Issues will be discussed within the Caribbean context. Human Behaviour will also be scrutinized from a participation and integration perspective.

SOWK1001 (SW10B) – INTRODUCTION TO SOCIAL WORK

This course will provide an introduction to the history, mission, and philosophy of social work and its development as a profession in the Caribbean. It will introduce the student to social work values, ethics, theories, knowledge base functions and skills, and examine the relevance of social work to the social, economic, and political change in a society. In addition, the contribution of social work in meeting needs of individuals, groups, and communities through delivery of social programs will be explored.

The student will be introduced to the history and current patterns of social welfare program development, and the range of services that comprise social work and social welfare service delivery in Barbados and the Region. Students will be able to observe the operations of various social service agencies through organised field visits.

This course will also be valuable for any student who wishes to gain knowledge about the purpose of social work and its development as a profession in the Caribbean.

SOWK1002 (SW11A) - INDIVIDUALS AND FAMILIES

Prerequisites:

SOWK 1000 - Human Behaviour and

SOWK 1001 - Introduction to Social Work

The course introduces social work students to direct practice with individuals and families as client systems. It is particularly concerned with extending the student's understanding of the social work process as well as ability to make a complete psychosocial assessment upon which a feasible plan of intervention can be based and by which the outcome of case intervention can be evaluated. The focus will be on understanding the individual within the context of the family, societal alliances, and the broader societal setting. The West Indian family as a societal system will be discussed.

Course content will include methods of intervention that can be used to enable individuals to develop and function effectively in the family and society. Issues relating to the worker-client relationship and to values and ethical questions affecting interpersonal relationships will be examined. Students will also be introduced to the major theoretical frameworks relevant to casework intervention with individuals and families. The organizational context and the social service network within which social casework is practiced in Barbados and the Region will be discussed.

PSYC 1007 (SY14C) - FUNDAMENTALS OF PSYCHOLOGY

In this course students will explore the science of psychology that uses scientific methods to understand and explain behaviour and mental processes. Students will be introduced to the field of psychology and examine the historical development of the discipline as a pure and applied science. Students will gain knowledge of the theoretical perspectives used in modern psychology. Throughout the course students will explore the hereditary and environmental origins of behaviour. Topics for discussion will include the biological basis of behaviour, consciousness, thinking and language, motivation and emotion, stress and health

PSYC 1004 (SY40B) – INTRODUCTION TO SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY

This course is designed to introduce students to the psychological discipline that uses scientific methods to understand and explain how the thoughts, feelings and behaviour of individuals are influenced by the actual, imagined presence of others. Students will gain general knowledge of this interesting and exciting profession. Major content areas include prejudice and discrimination, prosocial behaviour, aggression, interpersonal attraction and close relationships. Issues will be discussed within the Caribbean context.

LEVEL II/III COURSES

PSYC 2001 (PS22B) - COUNSELLING I

Prerequisites:

*SOCI1000 (SY11A) Introduction to Sociology II, AND
PSYC1003 (PS12A) Introduction to Psychology OR
PSYC1004 (SY40B) Introduction to Social Psychology*

This course provides a broad introductory overview of the counseling process with emphasis on both the theoretical foundation and the demonstration and practice of basic communication, counseling and problem-solving skills in the counseling relationship. This course is recommended for those students planning on entering the social science fields where interpersonal contact with people necessitates dealing with personal, social, vocational, empowerment, and educational concerns. Through the use of lecture, discussion, experiential exercises, group work, practice experiences and course work, students will participate in their own development in the counseling process.

PSYC 2013 (PS25 A) - COUNSELLING II

Prerequisites: PSYC2001 (PS22B)- Counselling I

This course provides a broad introductory overview of the counselling process in specialty areas that include testing, assessment, diagnosis, evaluation, research, consultation and group counseling. Mental health, rehabilitation, and substance abuse counseling with people from diverse populations will be addressed. Field practicum experiences in key community institutions are an integral component of this course. This course is recommended for those students planning on entering social science fields, such as psychology and social work, that deal with people with a variety of challenges. Through the use of lecture, discussion, videotapes, experiential exercises, group work, practice and field practicum experiences, and course work, students will participate in their own development in the counselling process. Successful completion of the course will be determined by a final examination, clinical reports, and a student self-assessment.

PSYC 2016 COMMUNICATION PSYCHOLOGY

This course is designed to introduce students to the various types of communication and for them to critically assess the ability of the various types of communication to influence the human behaviour, attitudes and thoughts. This course will consist of lectures, tutorials presentations of two major projects and a final examination.

COURSE OBJECTIVES;

At the end of this course students:

1. Should have a clear understanding of what is communication, the types of communication and the relationship between communication and psychology.
2. Should be able to critically assess how interpersonal communication, verbal communication, the mass media and other aspects of communication affect human behaviour, attitudes and thinking.

PSYC 3021- RESEARCH THESIS IN APPLIED PSYCHOLOGY (MAJORS)

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is designed to develop an understanding, instill an appreciation, and provide hands on experience in designing and conducting an original piece of research in psychology. Students will gain experience in applying theories and skills attained throughout their undergraduate programme to conduct research. This one-semester research project will involve empirical and/or theoretical work using scientific methodology to address problems that emerge out of the condition of the Caribbean experience.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By completion of the course students will:

1. Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of research practice in psychology.
2. Be able to design a research project using appropriate research methods.
3. Understand how to conduct a literature review to inform their research practice.
4. Be familiar with appropriate statistical analyses that can be used in reporting research findings.
5. Demonstrate the ability to communicate in writing, the results of research using appropriate content and formatting (Manuscript preparation style of the American Psychological Association).

Course Requirements:

Students will be expected to prepare a research report not exceeding 5,000 words. The research project may be quantitative in nature. The research topic may be decided by the student, or facilitated by the supervisor.

PSYC 3022 - Research Project in Applied Psychology (MINORS)

This course is designed to develop an understanding, instill an appreciation, and provide hands on experience in designing and conducting an original piece of research in psychology. Students will gain experience in applying theories and skills attained throughout their undergraduate programme to conduct research. This two-semester research project will involve empirical and/or theoretical work using scientific methodology to address problems that emerge out of the condition of the Caribbean experience.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By completion of the course students will:

1. Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of research practice in psychology.
2. Be able to design a research project using appropriate research methods.
3. Understand how to conduct a literature review to inform their research practice.
4. Be familiar with appropriate statistical analyses that can be used in reporting research findings.
5. Demonstrate the ability to communicate in writing, the results of research using appropriate content and formatting (Manuscript preparation style of the American Psychological Association).

PSYC 3008 Elements of Counselling and Psychotherapy.

This course provides students with an introduction to the fields of counselling and psychotherapy in a complex, multicultural society, and will highlight the differences and similarities between the two disciplines. The course is recommended for those students planning on entering social science fields where interacting with and helping others in a therapeutic context is required. It will:

cover professional foundations of counselling including ethics, provide an overview of the counselling process, outline key psychological theories and techniques as they are practiced in a variety of situations, describe the theoretical foundation of the professions, provide a basic overview of the practice of basic communication, interviewing, therapeutic and problem solving skills.

PSYC 2017 - Gender and Psychology

This course examines how biological and cultural factors influence the development of gender identities and gender roles and the concepts of masculinity and femininity. It also explores how these gender identities and roles affect our personal, social and professional lives. This course will enable students to understand some of the major conceptual and theoretical approaches to the study of the psychology of gender and the influence of gender on our thoughts and behaviours.

PSYC 3011 (PS32B) - RESEARCH PROJECT IN PSYCHOLOGY

Prerequisites:

SOCI 2006 Qualitative Research Methods

SOCI 2007 (SY22B) Survey and Design Analysis

(Restricted to students registered for the Major in Psychology)

This project should develop students' capacity to formulate a research topic in Psychology and to consolidate data collection and data analytic skills. Students are required to investigate a current issue in Psychology and to produce an American Psychological Association (APA) format report of the research.

Students are very strongly urged to avoid contentious topics and must at all times adhere to ethical standards of psychological research. Although qualitative methodology may be employed, in previous years those students employing a quantitative approach have earned the highest grades.

PSYC 3014 (PS33A) - INDUSTRIAL AND ORGANIZATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

This course explores the applications of psychological theories and concepts to problems encountered in work environments with special reference to the Caribbean. It will address the research methods and consulting techniques used to study and modify behaviour in organizations. Topics for discussion will include research methods in Industrial and Organisational Psychology, employee recruitment and selection, evaluating employee performance, employee training and development, motivation, job satisfaction, communication, organizational culture and human factors.

PSYC 3013 (PS37A) - CONTEMPORARY ISSUES IN SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY

Prerequisites:

*PSYC 1004 Introduction to Social Psychology and/or

PSYC 1007 Fundamentals of Psychology

This course builds upon the foundation laid by the introductory social psychology course and focuses on how Social Psychologists address contemporary social issues. Drawing on contemporary theory, and pure and applied research, students will engage in a critical analysis of the crucial person and environment variables that influence behaviour in our Caribbean society. Topics for discussion will include prejudice and discrimination, interpersonal attraction, close relationships, social influence, prosocial behaviour, aggression, and social psychology applied to health.

PSYC 3024 - APPLIED PSYCHOLOGY RESEARCH METHODS

RATIONALE

This course is designed to provide psychology students with the knowledge, skills and abilities necessary to conduct successful research studies and would improve the conduct of research studies by third year psychology students in the following courses: (PSYC3011 (PS32B) Research Project in Psychology (2 semesters) and PSYC 3016 (PS35A) Research Project in Psychology (for Minors) (1 Semester). The emphasis will be on imparting both conceptual understanding and skills students can apply to designing their third year research studies: developing their research proposals, collecting research data, analysing research data and presenting research findings. This course will consist of lectures, tutorials and computer laboratory sessions, each aspect geared at specific skill development.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By completion of the course students will:

1. Understand how to access documented research manually and electronically.
2. Be able to formulate researchable questions and operationalise how to answer them.
3. Be acquainted with qualitative and quantitative psy

- chological research methods and their usage.
4. Be able to design a research project using appropriate research methods.
 5. Understand how to collect, code and enter quantitative data into a database for use by a statistical package.
 6. Be able to use a computerised statistical package (SPSS) to analyse quantitative data.
 7. Be able to prepare a research proposal using appropriate content and formatting (APA Style).
 8. Demonstrate how to communicate research intentions in the form of a research proposal by giving an effective oral report supported by a Powerpoint presentation.
 9. Be able to report research results using visual presentation tools (e.g. charts, graphs, tables).

SOWK 2000 (SW20A) - SOCIAL WORK THEORY AND PRACTICE WITH GROUPS

Prerequisites:

SOWK 1002 (SW11A) - Individuals and Families

The purpose of this course is to provide Social Work students with the theory and practice of social group work. The course will address the initiation, facilitation and leadership of both task groups (social, recreation, education, skill, problem-solving and decision-making, self-help, socialization) and treatment groups from an ecosystems perspective. The focus of the course is to develop group leaders who understand group dynamics and effective leadership skills. The historical and theoretical foundations and the development of skills in group social work will be discussed and practiced. The course will emphasize issues that have application to a wide range of social work clients and situations in the Caribbean region.

SOWK 3009 (SW20B) - SOCIAL WORK THEORY AND PRACTICE WITH COMMUNITIES AND ORGANIZATIONS

Prerequisites:

SOWK 2000 (SW20A) - (SY20A) Social Work Theory and Practice with Groups

The course introduces students to evolving theoretical approaches in generalist social work practice with communities and organizations as macro systems. It provides an understanding of communities and organizations as clients, and the concept of planned change at the organizational and community levels. Emphasis will be placed on the processes in organizations, particularly formal/bureaucratic and social service organizations in Barbados and the Region; the management of organizational and community change; leadership; and; and the strategies, methods and tactics used in assessment, planning and intervention in macro practice. The importance of advocacy, lobbying, and the building of alliances, networks, and coalitions within local organizations and communities will also be discussed. Students will be involved in group projects in local communities as a way of integrating theory and practice

SOWK 3004 (SW35A) - FIELD INSTRUCTION 1

Prerequisites:

Completion of Levels 1 and 2 required courses

Field Instruction I provides students with opportunities for development of social work practice through direct work in social service agencies. The central focus of this field practice is on the application of social work skills within micro and mezzo client systems. Field Instruction I is the educational component where knowledge, values, and skills learned in the classroom are tested, reinforced and integrated in a disciplined manner. As students undertake learning tasks within the reality of agency life, a vital link is established whereby constructive use of theory, acquired through course work, can be applied. Values and attitudes are examined and skills are developed and refined.

Students are placed in social work and related agencies for eight (8) hours each day, four (4) days per week, for thirteen (13) weeks, totaling 416 hours. Field instructors/agency supervisors and students are guided in practice by the social work programme's field instruction coordinator. The use of a field instruction manual assures standardisation, continuity, and accountability for learning tasks, and their completion and evaluation, within the first semester field experience. Field Instruction I is held concurrently with Field Instruction Integrative Seminar I: SW36A, a seminar designed to enhance and strengthen the field experience.

SOWK 3005 (SW35B) - FIELD INSTRUCTION II

Prerequisites:

SOWK 3004 Field Instruction I

SOWK 3006 Field Work Seminar II

Field Instruction II provides students with opportunities for development of social work practice through direct work in social service agencies. The central focus of this field practice is on the application of social work skills within macro client systems in addition to the micro and mezzo client systems. Field Instruction II is the educational component where knowledge, values, and skills learned in the classroom are tested, reinforced and integrated in a disciplined manner. As students undertake learning tasks within the reality of agency life, a vital link is established whereby constructive use of theory, acquired through course work, can be applied. SOWK 3006 (SW36A) - FIELDWORK SEMINAR I

Prerequisites:

Completion of Level 1 and 2 required courses

Field Work Seminar I is held concurrently with SOWK 3004 - Field Instruction I and is an adjunct to the field instruction experience. This three (3) credit hour seminar prepares students for work in a social service setting and provides opportunities for students to integrate social work knowledge and theory with practice experiences from community agencies. Students engage in active discussion of the application of theory and practice to professional values, standards, and ethics based on aspects of the field instruction experience with clients systems.

The focus of Seminar I is on building student competence and skills with client systems at the micro and macro levels. Further development and practice of interventions, skills and techniques are encouraged through individual and group participation in the classroom. The importance of professional "use of self" in understanding personal attitudes, biases and stereotypes will be emphasized, along with a strong professional work ethic.

SOWK 3008 (SW36B) - FIELD INSTRUCTION INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR II

Prerequisites:

SOWK 3004 (SW35A) Field Instruction I

SOWK 3006 (SW36A) Field Work Seminar II

Field Instruction Integrative Seminar II is held concurrently with SOWK 3005 - Field Instruction II and is an adjunct to the field instruction experience. SOWK 3016 (SW42A) - RESIDENTIAL SOCIAL WORK

This course will provide students with an understanding of the family as a system and its primary role in nurturing and socializing its members. From the perspective of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child, the course will also examine family and institutional patterns in the care, control, and protection of children in Barbados and the Caribbean.

Forms of child maltreatment, types of substitute care and social services available to children and their families in the Caribbean (with special reference to Barbados) will be discussed.

SOWK 3032 SUBSTANCE ABUSE MANAGEMENT IN CARIBBEAN SOCIETY

Prerequisites:

SOWK SW11A- Individuals and Families OR

PSYC - PS22B- Counselling I

This course provides a foundation for understanding substance abuse management and treatment in Barbados and the region. Students will examine the etiology of substance abuse, treatment approaches and policies and programmes pertaining to the prevention and treatment of substance abuse. The course will be delivered in a seminar format and will include guest lecturers involved in the delivery of substance abuse services from a variety of settings. The use of readings, lectures, videos, case studies, field visits, and practice exercises will contribute to a variety of learning experiences. Special attention will be given to substance abuse in relation to HIV/AIDS and other health concerns, clients with dual diagnosis, adolescents, and ethical considerations. The effects of substance abuse on families, communities and social systems will be examined utilizing a systems approach.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

Upon completion of the course, students will be able:

To explain different theories and models of substance abuse etiology.

To identify signs, symptoms, and patterns of abuse and addiction.

To discuss the individual, family and social implications of substance abuse.

To discuss the major social strategies toward prevention and intervention.

To explain the role of substance abuse in relation to social and domestic violence, and criminal behaviour.

To understand the coexistence of substance abuse and other psychological and behavioral disorders.

To identify the medical and physiological manifestations of substance abuse.

To discuss the applicability of various treatment modalities.

SOWK 3031 - BIO-PSYCHOSOCIAL CHALLENGES OF HIV/AIDS IN THE CARIBBEAN

The aim of the course is to provide students with a knowledge base of the bio-psycho-social impact of HIV/AIDS on the individual and the inter-relatedness of these issues to the family, work environment and communities. Issues related to gender, human sexuality, behaviour change, ethical and legal considerations, the care and management of people living with HIV/AIDS and the delivery of services to this population will be examined. The impact of primary, secondary and tertiary prevention and intervention efforts to reduce the spread of the disease, and barriers limiting these interventions will also be discussed.

OBJECTIVES

Students will be able to:

- (a) Analyse the epidemiological implications of the HIV/AIDS pandemic in the Caribbean
- (b) Discuss strategies for reducing the determinants of the epidemic
- (c)
- (d) Outline the process for testing and treating persons affected with HIV/AIDS
- (e) Examine the bio-psychosocial impact of HIV/AIDS on children and their families
- (f) Critically examine the effects of HIV/AIDS on the individual, family and the community
- (g) Describe health and behavioural strategies, which would empower the individual to accept responsibility for his/her sexual health and behaviour.
- (h) Critically analyse the gender issues related to HIV/AIDS.
- (i) Critically examine the major theories that guide the social work responses to HIV/AIDS.
- (j) Critically assess the role of social work in responding to the HIV/AIDS pandemic.
- (k) Critically assess the delivery of social services to persons living with HIV/AIDS.
- (l) Critically assess the ethical and legal issues associated with HIV/AIDS in the Caribbean.
- (m) Effectively network with local service delivery agencies to give support to PLWA and their families.
- (n) Design a programme of care for persons living with HIV/AIDS and their families.
- (o) Describe the barriers to effective intervention in working with persons affected by and infected with the disease
- (p) Examine the macro-level responses to HIV/AIDS

SOWK 4005 (SW42B) - CRISIS INTERVENTION

Prerequisites:

SOWK 1002 (SW11A) - Individuals and Families Or
PSYC 2001 (PS22B) - Counselling I

The focus of this course is to introduce to students the theories, models and practice techniques of crisis intervention in social services. Application of the principles, strategies, research, and basic skills of crisis work, particularly with individuals and families from special populations will be demonstrated through role plays, discussions, case analyses, and written assignments. Crisis intervention responses to domestic and juvenile violence, substance abuse, suicide and depression, HIV/AIDS and other health issues, will be examined to include the current, specific needs of Caribbean peoples in crisis. Natural and environmental disasters within Caribbean communities will be discussed. Ethical/legal matters as well as social policy issues will be presented in relation to the delivery of crisis intervention services within Barbados.

SOCI 2013 (SY23G) - CARIBBEAN SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT

Prerequisites:

*SOCI 1000 Introduction to Sociology II,
SOCI 1002 Introduction to Sociology I, and SOCI 3026 Sociology of Development*

This course builds on the content of the prerequisites and introduces the student to the practical world of Caribbean social development. The course provides a critical overview of the perspectives, definitions and indicators of social development as they have evolved from colonialism through the post-colonial Caribbean. The course will expose students to the basic techniques of project identification, design, monitoring and evaluation in the areas of social analysis and environmental impact studies. Actual projects in the wider Caribbean will be utilised. Students will also be exposed to the realities of poverty and development in the Caribbean and become familiar with the various social indicators measuring various aspects of poverty reduction and social development. Examination of community participation, the role of NGO's and questions of empowerment in social development programmes and projects will also be explored.

PSYC 2012 (SY24A) - DEVELOPMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY

At this point the student should have completed the General Principles of Psychology and have an appreciation of the different Schools of Psychology

This course is concerned with human development and factors that shape behaviour from birth to old age. Emphasis would be placed on the similarities and differences between male and female and the part that society plays in shaping behaviour.

At the end of this course the student should understand the physical, physiological, social and psychological development of an individual from birth onwards.

SOCI 3004 (SY31A) – SOCIOLOGY OF TOURISM

Prerequisites:

SOCI1000 (SY11A) Introduction to Sociology II, AND

SOCI1002 (SY11B) Introduction to Sociology I.

This course aims to provide students with a broad sweep of some of the major theoretical and practical dimensions of the world's largest industry, particularly in the pan-Caribbean context, but examples globally will also be analysed. The course will look at the history of the emergence of the leisure industry and modern tourism in the world and in the Caribbean. Examination of the Sociology of Tourism and its theoretical and methodological underpinnings will be explored. The social, economic and cultural impacts of tourism will be stressed utilising the comparative perspective. Transactional analysis and examination of both tourists and locals will be analysed. Given the critical link between tourism and the environment various issues will be researched and the roles of community tourism, eco- tourism and the necessity of developing sustainable tourism will be a critical focus of the course.

SOCI 3007 (SY32B) – RURAL DEVELOPMENT

Prerequisites:

SOCI1000 (SY11A) Introduction to Sociology II, OR

SOCI1002 (SY11B) Introduction to Sociology I; AND

SOCI3026 (SY37A) Sociology of Development: Theories and Policies.

This course is designed to introduce students to the field of Rural Development and its essential role and the various issues which are critical to the survival of millions of people globally and in the Caribbean. The course will explore the key issues and challenges facing rural populations, governments, practitioners and other stakeholders. The course will examine problems at both the micro and global level, particularly with respect to commodity production, international organisations such as the WTO, globalisation, as well as the critical link between agrarian reform and the environment. The course will examine the field from both an historical and comparative perspective exposing students to not only the history and problems of agrarian reform in the Caribbean but in other parts of the world. The linkages between agrarian reform, rebellion and revolution will be examined. Rural Development practitioners have led the world in espousing community participation and empowerment in the rural development process. Their methodologies have revolutionised the field and will also be a core component of the course.

SOCI 3009 INDUSTRIAL SOCIOLOGY I

PRESUMES A KNOWLEDGE OF:

SOCI 1002 (SY11B) Introduction to Sociology I OR

SOCI 1000 (SY11A) Introduction to Sociology II

GOVT 1000 (GT10A) Introduction to Political Analysis OR

GOVT1001 (GT10B) Introduction to Caribbean Politics.

Course Rationale:

Industrial Sociology focuses primarily on the broad societal context within which the firm operates. As countries of the Caribbean seek to adopt and establish industrial processes and practices in their productive activities especially in this era of revolutionary developments in information and telecommunications technology, this course will seek to provide students with a clear understanding of the nature of work in the industrial setting and some understanding of the sociological principles that govern industrial society and the industrial workplace. It will therefore focus on the interrelationship of society and industry. Among other things the course will focus on:

- a. Changes in human relations and social organisations
- b. The sociology of work
- c. industrial and post industrial society
- d. industrialisation in the Caribbean
- e. the sociology of industrial relations
- f. technology and its effects on the workplace and industrial production.

SOCI 3033 (SY38A) - DRUGS AND SOCIETY

Prerequisites:

SOCI1000 (SY11A) Concepts, Theories and Methods of Sociology, AND/OR

SOCI1002 (SY11B) Introduction to Sociology I

This course explores drugs as a social problem from a systems perspective, examining how drug abuse permeates every segment of society including the individual, family, community, national, and international levels. Current theories and research relating to drug use will be reviewed and the prevention, intervention and treatment of drug abuse will be explored. The pharmacology or the effects of commonly used drugs on the body and brain will be examined.

The course will also study how drugs present the single most critical challenge to personal and regional security within the Caribbean. Therefore, the relationship between drug abuse and crime will be examined. Social-cultural factors contributing to the use and the abuse of drugs in the Caribbean region will be emphasized. There will be discussion of the development and administration of regional and international social policies concerning drug related issues. Agencies and institutions that administer drug policy will be identified. Political, legal, economic, psychological, biological, behavioral and spiritual aspects will be studied, in addition to the main focus of the course, which is the sociological context of drug use. This multi-disciplinary approach will give the student an understanding of the complexity of drug use and abuse in society.

SOCI3035 (SY39A) – CARIBBEAN SOCIAL PROBLEMS

Prerequisites:

SOCI1000 (SY11A) Concepts, Theories and Methods of Sociology, AND/OR

SOCI1002 (SY11B) Introduction to Sociology I

This course will expose students to a sociological analysis of several issues in Caribbean society. In addition to conceptual issues and definitions meaning, and measurement in each area, the course will be concerned with an examination of the extent, nature, causes and consequences of each topic covered.

Topics to be covered will be drawn from: The study of Social Problems; Consensus Theory the Study of Social Problems; Conflict Theory the Study of Social Problems; Action Theory the Study of Social Problems, Underdevelopment: Conceptual Issues; Under- development in the Caribbean; Development Strategies; Social Inequality: Income Distribution Poverty; The Distribution of Land and Wealth; Housing Conditions; Health Nutrition; Race Racism; Sex Sexism; Population Growth Size; Social Problems of Age Aging; Selected Population Problems; Labour Market Problems; Unemployment Underemployment; Access Welfare in Education; Gangs Social Formations; Family Function; Family Conflict: Divorce, Separation; The Status Condition of Children; Crime Delinquency; Drug Abuse; Mental Health; Politics; Media.

SOCI 3037 SOCIAL DIMENSIONS OF INEQUALITY AND MARGINALISATION.

Presumes a knowledge of:

SOCI 1002 (SY11B) - Introduction to Sociology I

SOCI 1000 (SY11A) - Introduction to Sociology II

Would improve outcome of:

SOCI 3000 (SY300) - Supervised Research

SOWK 3000(SW300) - Supervised Research

RATIONALE

Social inequality is a complex and multidimensional problem as evident in both classical and contemporary theories of social stratification. The aim of this course is to explore the primary causes, forms and consequences of social inequality and marginalisation in the Caribbean. The course will allow for the application of stratification theories to past and emerging contentious social issues like male marginalisation, female vulnerability, poverty, crime, human rights, homosexuality and discrimination, ethnic bias, HIV/AIDS, etc. The use of qualitative and quantitative data in examining inequalities and marginalisation will be done with a view to enhancing research paper writing skills.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By completion of the course students will:

1. Be able to apply sociology theories to different manifestations of inequality.
2. Be able to utilise qualitative and quantitative data found in reports, theses, journal articles and books to justify arguments on issues especially those surrounding course discussion.
3. Have a detailed understanding of theories of social stratification.

SOCI3000 (SY300) – SUPERVISED RESEARCH AND SOWK3000 (SW300) - SUPERVISED RESEARCH

GENERAL

- (1) The Supervised Research Project is equivalent to a Faculty course and must therefore reach that standard in terms of content and research effort.
- (2) It is restricted to those majoring in Sociology or Social Work.

PROCEDURE

- (1) Students must choose a topic for study which is primarily sociological in focus and which should broadly fall within a sphere of research specialisation of one of the Sociology lectures. They must then seek the advice and approval of the lecturer who is willing to act as supervisor for each study. On occasions when the chosen topic spans more than one subject area or discipline, joint supervision with another university lecturer may be recommended.

- (2) Students should submit a proposal to and consent regularly with their supervisors. It is students' responsibility to inform super-visors of progress and general difficulties and to seek specific advice on bibliographical material and research methods (preparation of questionnaires, etc.).

PRESENTATION

- (1) The study should normally be between 5,000 and 8,000 words in length, excluding bibliography.
- (2) It should contain some originality in material, argument and conclusion and evidence of extensive reading and comprehension of the subject area. The research should also be explanatory rather than descriptive in nature.
- (3) Each study must have a title page, with the student's name, supervisor(s) name(s) and title of the paper.
- (4) Studies should be typed.
- (5) Bibliographies must be included.
- (6) Footnotes to elaborate briefly on points should be kept to a minimum.
- (7) Citations and References should follow Departmental Guidelines available from the Department Office.

DEADLINES

- (1) For submission of Proposal: 5TH MONDAY OF SEMESTER I
- (2) For submission of final project: on 1st Monday in April, 2005

GOVT 2000 (GT20F) - WOMEN AND POLITICS

This course will examine the relationship between women and politics globally. It will analyse Conventional political theory and women, conventional and feminist theory on gender, the history of the women's movement, international political economy and women, the United Nations and women, (with reference to UN agencies for women and resolutions) human rights and women, violence against women, constitutional and legal rights of women, the gender gap in politics and women's involvement in the political system. In addition, attention will be paid to specific public policy initiatives as they affect or are likely to affect women.

1. Theoretical underpinnings of the study of women and politics.
2. Classical social movements and the women's movement.
3. The history of the women's movement.
4. The constitutional and legal position of women in the Caribbean.
5. The gender gap in politics: women in the political system: outsiders or insiders: a comparative perspective.
6. Gender and political economy.
7. Structural adjustment and women.

GOVT 2010 (GT23A) - THE POLITICS OF DEVELOPING NATIONS

This course will seek to examine the Politics of Developing Nations from the perspective of theories of political development, patterns of political rule and political economies of chosen state systems. It will seek to capture this perspective as well, by means of case studies shown from Latin America, Africa and South Asia.

1. Theories of Political Development
2. Patterns of Political Rule
3. Political Economy
4. Case Studies
 - (a) Theories of Political Development
 - (b) Patterns of Political Rule
 - (c) Political Economy
 - (d) Country Case Studies
 - (i) India
 - (ii) Nigeria

GOVT 2014 (GT26A) - WESTERN POLITICAL THOUGHT

This course will follow the development of European political thought from the Ancient Greek philosophical schools to the origins of modern political thought in the 19th century. Issues concerning the origins of political thought per se will however be investigated as well, taking note e.g. of the contribution of Ancient Egypt to Greek philosophy. The pre-cursors to modern political thought and evolution of political values and ideologies will be identified. Theories of the state and their social-historical milieu will be investigated and the contribution of political philosophy to the development of political institutions addressed. The philosophy and historical sources of contemporary civil and political rights and their philosophical assumptions will be reviewed and assessed.

This course is designed to provide tools of philosophical analysis for the political scientist.

GOVT 2015 (GT26B) - MODERN POLITICAL THOUGHT

This course will investigate dominant schools of political thought in the 20th century and political theory relevant to assisting interpretation of the politics of development. Modern liberal democratic thought and 20th century Marxist thought; Nazism and Neo-conservatism; Anti-colonial thought and Nationalism; and West Indian political thought will be reviewed and assessed.

This course will also provide exposure to critical methodologies used in contemporary political sciences.

GOVT 2016 (GT 26D) - CARIBBEAN POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY

With a Caribbean-centred approach, the course aims to give the student an introductory understanding of Caribbean Political Philosophy and the wider intellectual context in which this branch of the Caribbean intellectual tradition has grown and currently operates. The course will analyse the nature of Caribbean Political Philosophy within the socio-historical, cultural and ideological contexts of how it emerged - slavery, colonisation and creolisation. Specific attention will be paid to the three branches of Caribbean Political Philosophy: namely Historicism, Poeticism and Africanism. From the Historicist school the course will examine the works and ideas of C.L.R. James, José Martí and Frantz Fanon. From the Poeticists, the works and ideas of Wilson Harris, Sylvia Wynter, Kamau Brathwaite and Aimé Césaire will be looked at; and from the Africanists, Marcus Garvey; and the Philosophies of Rastafari will be discussed.

GOVT 2021 (GT28C) - SOCIALIST POLITICAL ECONOMY

This course will address the politics of socialist states, and non-capitalist anti-systemic development strategies as alternatives to capitalist political development options. The course will therefore speak to the relationship between efforts at socio-economic transformation and the politics of state origin, consolidation and development in non-capitalist politics. The role and character of state institutions in these processes will be addressed and special attention will be paid to the function of ideology in non-capitalist, anti-systemic politics. The inter-relationship and interaction of anti-systemic politics with international development systemic state structures will be explored.

Special attention will be paid to the experiences of the U.S.S.R., China and Cuba as examples of socialist states experiments. The course is designed to develop skills in comparative political analysis of state systems.

GOVT 2024 (GT29B) - CONTEMPORARY WESTERN POLITICAL DEMOCRACIES

This course will address comparatively the dominant models of Liberal democratic state systems. Issues of the origin, consolidation and development of the state will be a major focus. Explicit attention will be paid to the models of government in the U.S.A. and Great Britain and the practice of politics in their systems. The function of liberal democratic philosophy is shaping the institutional development and political culture of these states will be assessed and the impact of these state systems on global political culture will be noted. The persistence and sustainability of these systems in the context of global political developments will be examined. The course is designed to enhance skills in comparative analysis.

GOVT 3000 (GT30F) - AFRICAN POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY IN ANTIQUITY

This course will provide students with a universalist approach to the seeking of origins. It will engage students in rigorous exercises in comparative analysis of ideas of fundamental concepts and first principles - on self-knowledge, on cosmogony and cosmology. It will address epistemology in the context of a dialectic of civilisation. It will expose students to philosophy generally as cognitive agency. It will provide original and extensive sources to the student to engage in critical analysis and assessment of philosophic schools of thought across a wide spectrum. It will give students indepth appreciation of the debate on Africa's contribution to world civilisation. It will provide important insights into the roots of racism.

GOVT 3014 (GT35C) – THEORIES AND CONCEPTS OF INTERNATIONAL POLITICS

1. Theories of International Politics
2. Concepts of International Politics (power, sovereignty, intervention and non-intervention, collective security, national interest, decision-making, geo-politics, personality/ leadership, human rights, international terrorism, leverage, functionalism and integration, etc.).

GOVT 3015 (GT35D) – INTERNATIONAL POLITICS AND POLITICAL ECONOMY

This course is intended to give students different perspectives on international issues of the day. It will focus on the interplay between international politics and international political economy as it relates to issues such as those of globalisation and imperialism, 'development' and 'underdevelopment', the role of international organisations, the changing international political order, the theory and practice of foreign policy, war and peace, religion, environmental issues and the role of women in the international political economy. These issues will be examined in the context of the theories and approaches to international relations.

GOVT 3017 (GT36A) - CARIBBEAN GOVERNANCE I

The course is designed to give students an in-depth examination of the government and politics of the Caribbean. While the examination will give emphasis to the nation states of the Commonwealth Caribbean, it will also include non English-speaking state systems, such as Suriname, Haiti, and the French West Indies. The course will therefore expose students to a number of theoretical approaches and concepts that have been utilised to interpret the historical heritage and contemporary practices, political practices, societal relations, political economy and culture in the region. The course also takes an applied approach. It is expected that this would develop the students critical thinking skills through the comparative approach.

The concepts that will be developed include colonialism and neo-colonialism, imperialism, peripherality, pluralism, development trap, alienation, statism monopolism, non-capitalist political economy, alternate development, etc. These theories and concepts will be liberally illustrated with reference to the Caribbean experience.

GOVT 3018 (GT36B) – CARIBBEAN GOVERNANCE II

The course will provide students with the tools with which to interpret state formation and development in the Commonwealth Caribbean. It will address issues of institutional political forms in the region, from the 16th Century to the 21st Century, emphasising the critical issues shaping the development of the Westminster model in the region. It will expose students to the theoretical debate on political institutions and to the Continuing discourse on the appropriateness of the dominant political form in the region.

Among other critical issues, the course will also look at the role of the early nationalist movement in shaping the modern state formation in the region. It will therefore consider the roles of individuals and early political organisations and movements. Emphasis will also be given to the role of elections, electoral process, political parties, and the bureaucracy in the formation of public policy. The course will end with a review of the approach to regionalism and foreign policy in the region.

assessment of philosophic schools of thought across a wide spectrum. It will give students in-depth appreciation of the debate on Africa's contribution to world civilisation. It will provide important insights into the roots of racism.

1. International theories and weak states
2. Caribbean foreign policy relations
3. The administration of Caribbean foreign policy
4. Caribbean crisis and disputes
5. The Caribbean in international organizations
6. The Caribbean in the Global Political Economy

GOVT 2025 TRADE AND THE ENVIRONMENT

Description:

The course provides an understanding of the relationships between international trade (with particular focus on the World Trade Organisation) and the protection of the environment. The nature of the course will favour a multidisciplinary approach drawing as necessary from politics and law, focusing specifically on international political economy and international trade law.

Objectives:

The course aims to provide students with the tools to discern the critical relationships between international trade and protection of the environment. Given the complexity and the inter-relationship between human activity and the environment, there is a need to understand areas of potential conflict between trade as the political and economic activity of people and the physical environment within which this occurs. Trade cannot occur without the environment, and this makes it necessary to examine this relationship. Overall the course represents an illustration of the conflict of values and means of resolution, as between trade and the environmental, within system of international trade and international politics.

The course will examine the following:

- (a) Fundamental concepts about international trade (principles of liberalism)
- (b) The rules of the WTO/GATT (and their potential conflict with the environment)
- (c) Fundamental concepts about the environment
- (d) The relationship between the promotion of free trade and the protection of the environment at the international and the regional (Caribbean) level
- (e) The 'conflict' between international trade and the environment and means of resolutions (drawing from the experience of the EC and NAFTA)
- (f) The potential for conflict between trade and the environment within the CSME and possible scenarios for resolution

- (g) The nature of conflict between trade and the environment as an illustration of how values conflict in the international political-economic-legal system

To take egovernance II, students would need egovernance I. However students may wish to take egovernance I only.

What is eGovernment? What is eGovernance?

The growth of information and communication technology (ICT) offers a rich opportunity for government to deliver services to citizens in new ways, and to involve them in the selection of priorities and policy solutions. It is important the government helps minimise the time the public and business community spend on transactions. As such, there is a consensus regarding the need to use eGovernment as the means to transform the way the Government works, in order to maintain and improve the international competitiveness of the country.' eGovernment is all about government agencies working together to use technology so that they can better provide individuals and businesses with government services and information. Much of it is about establishing common standards across government; delivering services more effectively, by saving costs and capturing revenue; providing ways for government agencies to work together all using the best technologies that are available.

Success in the development of e-Government will put us among the handful of regions that have achieved this goal and will enable us to turn the Region into a regional hub of the new digital economy.

Aims of the two courses are to:

- (i) enable participants to gain an understanding of the concept of e-government and its role in service delivery and civic engagement;
- (ii) offer an interdisciplinary perspective, allowing students to understand the organisational and policy challenges of eGovernment, by drawing on the application of key conceptual frameworks from politics and sociology (for example key issues and emerging topics, including the broader socio-economic environment); management and public policy (for example the application of knowledge at both an organisational (firm) and policy level);

- (iii) present and support arguments as well as synthesise and critically analyse academic literature on e-government management;
- (iv) analyse critically the strategies and policies of organisations engaged in e-Government policy and management;
- (v) apply a range of analytical techniques for policy planning and evaluation;
- (vi) frame, design, execute and write up a substantial piece of research grounded in social science research methods as applied to e-Governance issues.

KEY LEARNING OBJECTIVES

The two courses build students knowledge in the management of public sector information technology. Upon completing these courses, students should have a good understanding of the issues involved with government's adoption and implementation of Internet based initiatives. This is analyzed in terms of effects on the organization of the public administration and in terms of societal consequences. Students should have a good understanding of concepts and tools in the following areas:

- Strategic IT management
- Leadership and organizational change for eGovernment projects
- E-Commerce in Developing Countries
- Outsourcing and Public Sector reform
- IT and Development Administration
- E-Governance for Development.
- IS and Non-governmental Development Organisations
- Planning and Managing cross boundary IT initiatives

These courses are also designed to help students understand the different viewpoints found in the literature about the role of IT in achieving development. This provides the basis for discussing a variety of issues regarding IT-based socio-economic activity in the context of developing countries. Core questions addressed in the course will include: what government functions and practices are changed by eGovernment initiatives; what are the sociopolitical implications of eGovernment; how eGovernment initiatives are designed and evaluated; how are public administrators challenged by such initiatives; and what are the consequences for the relationships between public institutions and private citizens. These courses will also explore the concepts of knowledge, organizational forms, interorganisational information systems and the development and application of information and communication technologies. The two courses will not see these as independent areas of concerns but as structures, processes and artifacts that mutually define each other but are imperfectly reflected in each other. The emphasis throughout the courses will be on research-based knowledge and best practices informing each other. The courses will be multidisciplinary drawing particularly on the disciplines of politics, and sociology, management studies, economics and technology policy studies will be used only when necessary.

Such persons may be permitted to borrow books only in exceptional circumstances at the discretion of the Librarian, and will then be required to make a cautionary deposit of $50.00 which shall be refunded on satisfactory termination of the membership.

LOANS

General

4. Borrowers will be required to identify themselves. No book, periodical or other Library material may be removed from the Library unless the procedure has been completed at the Circulations Desk. The possession of a library book which has not been properly issued will be treated as a deliberate and serious offence. A reader is responsible to the Library for the items for which he or she has signed. No book, periodical, etc., will be accepted for issue or renewal after the second bell has been run 15 minutes before closing time. All transactions must be completed fifteen minutes before the published closing time.

Undergraduate

5. Undergraduate students at the University may have on loan a maximum of 10 items, including no more than two items from the overnight collection. For items from the open access shelves the period of loan is normally 21 days but all books are subject to recall at any time during this period. The period of loan may be extended in vacations at the discretion of the Librarian. Undergraduates may not borrow periodicals.

Postgraduates

6. Postgraduate students of the University may have on loan up to 10 items at a time. This quota includes not more than two (2) bound periodicals and not more than two (2) items from the overnight collection. The period of loan is normally 10 weeks. All loans are subject to recall by the Librarian at any time.

Academic and Senior Administrative Staff

7. Academic and senior administrative staff may have on loan up to 15 items at a time. This includes not more than two (2) bound volumes of periodicals and two (2) overnight loans. The period of loan is normally 10 weeks. All books are subject to recall by the Librarian at any time.

Non-Academic Staff

8. Permanent non-academic staff may have on loan up to four (4) books at a time for up to 21 days. They may not borrow overnight books or periodicals.

Other Persons

9. Other persons permitted to borrow books under Rule 3 may have on loan up to four (4) books at a time for up to 21 days.

Departments

10. The Librarian, at his discretion, may lend books to departments/units of the University for such periods as he may decide. Heads of departments/units are responsible for such loans.

Renewals and Requests

11. A book loaned to an undergraduate student may be renewed once only for a further period if it has not already been requested by another reader.
12. A book requested by another reader will be recalled only after it has been on loan for 10 days.

Non-Circulating Items

13. Certain publications may on no account be removed from the Library. These include all reference books, current issues of periodicals and other works of special value. All non-circulating items are clearly marked.

Reserved Books

14. Reserved books may only be borrowed overnight or on weekends. Only two(2) such items may be borrowed at any one time, the loan to begin after 5:00 p.m. on weekdays, 11:00 a.m. on Saturdays, and 3:00 p.m. in the summer vacation, and must be returned by 10:00 a.m. or 5:00 p.m. as indicated by the date due stamp.

Reading Room Loans

15. Only two (2) items may be borrowed for use in the Reading Room at any one time.

Periodicals

16. Periodicals will normally be restricted to Reading Room use, but Graduate Students and members of the Academic and Senior Administrative Staff may borrow bound volumes only – to a maximum of two (2) such items – for a period of 14 days. These loans are not normally renewable.

FINES

17. (a) The Librarian is empowered to levy a fine upon all readers who fail to return Library material within the prescribed period.
(b) The fine for late return of library material borrowed from the general collection by academic staff will be 50 cents for each day the loan is overdue.
(c) The fine for late return of library material borrowed from the general collection by postgraduate students will be 50 cents for each day the loan is overdue.
(d) The fine for the late return of library material from the general collection by other borrowers will be 25 cents for each day the loan is overdue.
(e) In determining the number of days by which a loan is overdue in relation to clauses (b), (c) and (d) above, only days in which the Library was closed owing to unforeseen circumstances will be excluded.
(f) The fine for late return of an item from the Overnight Collection will be charged at 10 cents per hour.

Maximum Fine

18. The maximum fine for the late return of Library material shall not exceed Bds.$50.00 in the case of academic staff borrowers, Bds$50.00 in the case of postgraduate student borrowers, and Bds$30.00 in the case of other borrowers.

19. Loss of or damage to any library material on loan to a reader must be reported by him/her immediately. The reader must pay the cost of replacement (or the estimated market price of the book if irreplaceable) of lost or seriously damaged books or other items in addition to any fine which he/she may have incurred before the loss or damage was reported.
20. The names of all those who are not in good standing with the Library – that is, those who, after due notice, have failed to return overdue items or who fail to pay fines or costs of items lost or damaged – will be submitted to the Principal for further action.

THEFT AND MUTILATION

21. The wilful mutilation or defacement of library material, the attempt at, or illegal removal of library material, the attempt to obtain library materials or to gain access to library facilities by false pretenses or forgery, will be considered a major offence against the University, and any person who commits such an offence may be reported to the appropriate University authority for disciplinary action which may include a maximum penalty fine of Bds.$300.00, suspension or expulsion.

CONDUCT

22. The Reading Room are for the purpose of study and not for discussions or social gatherings. Any conduct inconsistent with this purpose or detrimental to its pursuit by others shall constitute a breach of the Rules.
23. The Librarian shall at all times have authority to maintain good order in the Library and may exclude from it or suspend from its use any reader who breaks these Rules. He/she may report to the Principal any person responsible for serious or persistent breach of these Rules; such conduct by any student shall be considered a breach of University discipline.

24. Readers must not mark, deface or damage any book or other library material or furnishings in any way.
25. All members of staff are empowered to require readers to comply with these Rules.
26. Silence shall be observed in the Reading Rooms.
27. All bags, briefcases, handbags, etc., must be deposited in the racks provided at the Library entrance. The University accepts no responsibility for loss or damage of any article so left.
28. Eating or drinking is strictly forbidden in the Library.
29. Smoking is strictly forbidden except in those parts of the Library where it is expressly permitted.
30. Except as provided for in Rule 20 above, any breach of these Rules or of the Regulations by a reader may render him/her liable to a fine not exceeding Bds.$20.00 at the discretion of the Librarian.
