

Biosketch 2018

Dr Leslie Rollock is a medical graduate of the University of the West Indies (UWI), Mona and holds a DM in Family Medicine from the UWI, Cave hill. Public Health training was first undertaken at the University of Birmingham, UK, where an MPH was awarded and continues at the UWI, Mona. With over twenty years of experience in clinical medicine and just over ten years in public health medicine, Dr Rollock presently works in the Ministry of Health, Barbados as the Senior Medical Officer with responsibility for Surveillance, Infection Control and Environmental Management under the designation of SMOH (N).