

INFORMATION ON CONTRIBUTORS

Pamela Dottin holds a PhD in Education from The University of the West Indies. She is employed as a Quality Assurance Officer, Quality Assurance Unit, The UWI. Prior to this employment, she served as an Accreditation Officer with the Barbados Accreditation Council, and earlier as a business studies teacher.

Andre Martin holds a PhD in Education from The University of the West Indies, Cave Hill Campus. He currently serves as the Research Officer at the Ministry of Education, Grenada. His research interests include school leadership, school effectiveness, teacher quality, curriculum innovations and development, and education policy.

Tennisha A. Morris holds a PhD in Education from The University of the West Indies, Cave Hill Campus. She currently serves as a lecturer in Literacy Studies at the School of Education, The University of the West Indies, Mona.

Paul Murphy holds a PhD in Education degree from The University of the West Indies, Cave Hill Campus. He currently serves as an Education Specialist in the Social Sector Division of the Projects Department of the Caribbean Development Bank. Dr. Murphy's primary research interest is development assistance for education.

Yvonne Weekes holds a PhD in Education from The University of the West Indies, Cave Hill Campus where she currently teaches Theatre and Arts Education. Her areas of research interest include autoethnography, student voice and theatre for social consciousness, grief, trauma, and healing after disasters.